HITLER LIKELY TO TAKE HELM OF REICH SOON

Nazi Chief Is Expected to Assume Post Given Up by Von Papen.

HIS STORM TROOPS MASS NEAR BERLIN

Giving Him Chancellorship Is Considered as Way to Reduce Menace.

Berlin, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Adolf Hitler, former Austrian paperhanger who has made his National Socialist party the most powerful political organization in Germany, seemed tonight to be within striking distance of the chancellorship.

Chancellor Franz von Papen requested the leaders of the Centrist party to call on him tomorrow and discuss their attitude toward turning the most important post in the government over to the fiery Nazi.

The Centrists, who are known for their political astuteness, may forget their opposition on Germany's counterpart of Mussolini and agree to tolerate Hitler as chancellor provided all power is not surrendered to the National Socialist party.

Idea Behind Move.

Persons in position to know the details of the intricate political maneuvering that has been going on the last few days asserted that the Centrists and President Paul von Hindenburg were agreed on one thing—that Herr Hitler, as chief of a coalition cabinet, would be far more innocuous than he is as the leader of a movement which has no political responsibility.

President von Hindenburg returned this afternoon from his summer estate at Neudeck, East Prussia. Chancellor von Papen saw him immediately, informing him of the latest political developments. The president also heard about the events of the last week from Otto Meissner, the presidential secretary, who played an important behind-the-scenes part in the ousting of the cabinet of Dr. Heinrich Bruening.

It seemed apparent that the aged field marshal had no intention of simply turning the government over to Herr Hitler without definite assurances that legality and constitutionality would be upheld.

To Remain in Berlin.

President von Hindenburg is not going to return to Neudeck immediately. Instead he will remain in Berlin until Chancellor von Papen's negotiations with party leaders have been completed and the make-up of the future government has been definitely determined.

Berlin took the prospect of a Hitler cancellorship calmly. The expectation was that Gen. Kurt von Schleicher would remain in command of the army as defense minister, and he was credited with having iron enough to keep things in hand.

The upsurge in Hitler's strength

Woman Leaps Off Bridge to Death

Miss Marie Louise Morton, 53, Had Been Patient at St. Elizabeths.

After adjusting a tam o'shanter cap over her face, Miss Marie Louise Morton, 53, leaped to her death last night from the Taft bridge. She was killed instantly. Her body was badly crushed.

A neatly typewritten note found in her pocketbook, abandoned on the bridge, said: "The entire and unadulterated truth (including the imposters) in this case will be revealed at 'the Day of Reckoning.'" The name and address of Mrs. Bertie L. Belt, of 209 Eleventh street southeast, also was found in the bag.

At Mrs. Belt's home it was said Miss Morton was a friend of the family and had visited there often since she came to Washington to enter the Government service during the World War. She had suffered a breakdown and had been a patient at St. Elizabeths Hospital and was on parole there, coming and going as she pleased. She visited Mrs. Belt Monday and Tuesday and was apparently in good spirits.

Mexican Officials Frown On B. E. F. Colonization

Mexico City, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The Department of Agriculture indicated today it was not inclined to permit American World War veterans to colonize lands in Mexico as requested last week by Doak Carter, leader of one wing of the American bonus expeditionary force, from Huntington, W. Va.

CHECK ON HITLER

GEN. KURT VON SCHLEICHER.

WALKER ALL SMILES ON EVE OF HEARINGS

Affable Mayor Gets Noisy Reception by Albany Sympathizers.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The Mayor of New York City came to the capital tonight to tell the governor, at public hearing tomorrow, why he should not be removed from the office to which he was elected by a greater majority than any of his predecessors.

Smiling and affable, his wife on his arm, Jimmy Walker stepped from the train to a tumultuous reception from some 5,000 persons, complete with bombs and flares. Similar scenes had attended his departure from New York a few hours earlier.

Crowds broke the police lines here to cheer their idol and drown out the boos from a few hecklers.

The mayor reiterated, upon his arrival, his demand for a "trial" instead of a "hearing," with an opportunity to cross-examine witnesses.

Hours after the tumultuous welcome to Walker, Samuel Seabury, accuser of the mayor, quietly motored to the capital, accompanied only by Mrs. Seabury.

The Hofstadter committee investigator had only one thing to say. Somebody told him that Mayor Walker had received a great welcome. Seabury replied "so did Tweed." He would not amplify that. It was understood he was referring to the notorious Boss Tweed of another tammany era.

Earlier in the day a threat of legal interference with the removal hearing disappeared when Supreme Court Justice John E. McGrehan in New York refused a petition for a writ of prohibition sought by a "home rule" advocate.

Fateful as will be the proceedings to the political career of the New York City executive, it also is joined importantly with the presidential ambitions of Mr. Roosevelt.

Walker, in many minds, symbolizes Tammany Hall. Many political observers here and elsewhere assert his exoneration would have an effect in the West and South, where the historic political organization is distrust-

British Tariff Termed Blow to World Revival

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—M. Pierre Lyautey, Parisian economist, told the Institute of Politics here tonight the most depressing economic policy adopted by any nation during the past year was Great Britain's protective tariff passed after depreciation of the pound.

"How can we revive world trade through tariff reduction when the greatest nations become protectionist?" Lyautey asked his audience.

HOOVER TO CITE RECORD IN PLEA FOR REELECTION

Will Sound Keynote of Campaign Tonight in Acceptance Talk.

NOTIFICATION DRAWS NATIONAL LEADERS

President Continues to Get Assurances of Victory as Chiefs Arrive.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

Prepared to base his appeal entirely on the record of his administration, President Hoover will sound the keynote of the Republican national campaign tonight in his speech in Constitution Hall accepting the nomination of the Chicago Convention.

Before a gala assemblage of invited guests, including party leaders from every section of the country, the President will render an elaborate accounting of his 3½ years in the White House, set forth his interpretation of the convention's prohibition plank, and outline the future steps in the broad program for economic recovery which has been foremost in his mind during the last two years.

The notification ceremony traditionally marks the formal launching of the party's presidential campaign.

Talk to Be Broadcast.

Presided over by Everett Sanders, the new chairman of the Republican national committee, the ceremonies will begin at 8:30 p. m. The President's address will be broadcast over two Nation-wide radio chains beginning at about 9 o'clock. Two short-wave hook-ups will carry his words to every insular possession of the United States and to virtually very country in Europe.

Admission to Constitution Hall will be by ticket only.

Early last night officials in charge of the notification ceremonies announced that the overflow crowd would be cared for in Continental Hall, but shortly before 10:30 o'clock all the tickets there were taken.

Then it was announced that amplifiers would be placed in the park south of the State, War and Navy Building and others would be placed in the Ellipse.

Tonight's ceermony, by a mere coincidence, marks the fourth anniversary of Mr. Hoover's first acceptance address, in the great Stanford University Stadium at Palo Alto, Calif., in 1928. It will be the first notification ceremony in Washington since 1924, when Mr. Coolidge delivered his acceptance address from the White House. As Woodrow Wilson's second notification in 1916 also occurred in Washington, the Capital maintains today its long tradition of having one of these gala days at least once in eight years.

Roosevelt Told Chances Are Good in 20 States

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Halting for an hour an intensive study of the Walker case, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt today received from a score of Western, Midwestern and Southern leaders of his party tidings of his Democratic campaign for the Presidency.

They came to Albany after a conference in New York City with the national chairman, James A. Farley. They informed the nominee his chances were good in the 20 States they represented.

Widow of Roosevelt To Fly to Notification

Will Come Here Today to Hear Hoover Speech of Acceptance.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, will fly to Washington tomorrow to attend President Hoover's notification ceremonies.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who observed her seventy-first birthday last Saturday, has made brief airplane flights before.

Her intention to fly to Washington became known at a meeting of Republican women on the Sagamore Hill estate that served as a summer White House during President Roosevelt's administration.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in welcoming her guests, delivered the longest political speech she has made in years when she urged them to "take off our coats, run up our sleeves and elect our President."

While the meeting ostensibly was called in celebration of Mr. Hoover's fifty-eighth birthday, friends of Mrs. Roosevelt generally believed she was inspired primarily by a desire to impress upon the country at large that she was supporting the Republican administration.

Mrs. Roosevelt recently has been receiving congratulations from persons throughout the country laboring under the misimpression that her husband is the Democratic nominee this year.

She wrote a Brooklyn boy several weeks ago that "Franklin D. Roosevelt is a distant cousin of mine, I am a Republican and am voting for Mr. Hoover." The political division in the

"I welcome you all very especially on our President's birthday and thank you all for coming. I want you to try to recall some of the old days here. We want to take off our coats, run up our sleeves and elect our President."

Mrs. Roosevelt plans to take off from Roosevelt Field in the morning. She will be accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Roosevelt Derby, and her son-in-law, Dr. Richard Derby.

CRABBE TRIUMPHS FOR U. S. IN SWIM

Wins Olympic 400 Meters in Stirring Race; Dive to Georgia Coleman.

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN.

Olympic Swimming Stadium, Los Angeles, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Clarence (Buster) Crabbe, who learned his swimming at the Hawaiian Islands, came from behind today to stage a surprise victory for Uncle Sam in the 400-meter free style finals of the tenth Olympiad before 12,000 persons.

In bringing to the United States its first racing championship of the men's division, Crabbe set a new Olympic record of 4 minutes 48.4 seconds and also bettered Arne Borg's world record, posted in Sweden at 4:50.3 in 1925.

It was a riotous finish which gave Crabbe the title. Jean Taris, blond, curly-haired Frenchman, had set a terrific pace from the start, with his stiff-arm stroke, jumping into a lead of 2 meters on the first lap and maintaining it until the 300-meter mark had been passed.

The United States women's springboard divers started the fifth day of the aquatic carnival nicely for Uncle Sam by sweeping the first three 2 Other Passengers Hurt Seriously on Trip Near Fredericksburg, Va.

John Calhoun, 70-year-old retired miner and for many years a resident of Washington, was killed yesterday when an automobile in which he was a passenger ran from the road and overturned near Fredericksburg, Va.

Calhoun, in company with two friends, L. A. Keppart and James Conroy, both of Washington, was en route to Orange, Va., on a pleasure trip. Keppart and Conroy were injured seriously and police were unable to learn who was driving the machine. It is understood, however, a curtain in the car blinded the driver, forcing him to lose control.

Friends in a rooming house at 808 H street northwest, where Calhoun lived, said he was at one time a miner in the Pennsylvania coal mines. It is believed his only living relative is a sister in Chicago, Ill., whom he hadn't seen for eleven years. The body will be brought here for burial.

Robert Buck Reaches Tampico in Record Try

Tampico, Mexico, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Robert Buck landed his airplane here at 6:10 p. m. tonight on his flight from Newark, N. J., to Mexico City in an effort to better the junior air speed record over that route.

The 18-year-old flier said he planned to spend the night here and would fly on to Mexico City at about 10 a. m. tomorrow. He left Brownsville, Tex., at 3:20 p. m., today and took 2 hours and 50 minutes for the 250-mile flight to Tampico.

STOCK PRICES CLIMB TO SUMMER PEAKS

Rails and Motors Lead in $1 to $8 Gains in Big Day; Commodities Rise.

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Convinced that rising prices foreshadowed important business recovery, buyers forced stocks, bonds, cotton, wheat and other commodities to new peak levels for the summer today.

Bulls rode through the stock market on rails during the earlier hours of trading, and transferred to motors in the final dealings, in a buying movement which sent many issues up $1 to $8 a share. Save for Monday's turnover, the volume of trading in the stock exchange, at 4,429,390 shares, was the largest of the year.

In bonds, many issues advanced $10 to $60 per bond of $1,000 par value. Price averages indicating the best advance since early June and total transactions, at $17,023,000, were the largest since January.

Wheat, evidently anticipating the Government crop report after the close, advanced 1¼ to 1¾ cents a bushel. The crop as of August 1 was estimated at 723,000,000 bushels, a reduction of 14,000,000 bushels from the estimate a month earlier, and

Illinois Miners Accept $5 Scale

Reduction of $1.10 a Day in Contracts Signed by Union Officials.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Declaring an emergency resulted from the disappearance of official returns from more than 200 locals in the miners' State-wide wage scale referendum, union officials late today adjudged the $5 basic daily wage scale adopted and signed a new wage contract with the operators committee.

The new scale which represented a reduction of approximately $1.10 per day from the contract which expired March 31, was bitterly fought by union factions opposed to District President John H. Walker, and International President John L. Lewis.

President Lewis made the announcement, and added that the same terms adopted in Illinois had been written into a contract soon to be signed by miners and operators in Indiana.

Woman Fights Police As Girl, 4, Is Found

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Florence Markowski, 4 years old, who vanished from her Brooklyn home late Monday afternoon, was found unharmed today in a hotel in upper Manhattan. The Brooklyn detectives found the little girl in the company of Rita Levine, 20, also of Brooklyn.

Police said Miss Levine fought with the detectives and attempted to swallow a writing pen point when they questioned her. Finally, police said, Miss Levine told them she took the little girl from in front of her home.

The child's golden curls had been trimmed, police said, apparently in an attempt to prevent her identification.

35 OF WORKERS ARE DISMISSED BY FARM BOARD

More Due for Dropping; Civil Service Unit Quits 5-Day-Week Plan.

MOVES ARE RESULT OF M'CARL'S RULING

Decision Is Considered Blow to Spread of Short Hours in Government.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Outright dismissal of some 35 Federal Farm Board workers, with twice that many more scheduled for discharge, followed yesterday on the heels of the Comptroller's ruling on five-day week pay and concurrent furlough leave.

This was not the only significant reaction. The Civil Service Commission, which fathered the five-day week in the departmental service, early yesterday abandoned the plan rather than accept the three-fourths of 1 per cent additional pay cut ordered by the Comptroller.

All of the Federal Farm Board employes released had been on indefinite furlough. The Comptroller's insistence that one month's pay be impounded, even though they were not working, forced immediate separation of 35 of this group who were not in the classified service.

Dropping Others Expected.

Approximately 140 Farm Board employes were on indefinite furlough. Although the board has not formally voted to release those remaining in that status, it was said unofficially such action is in early prospect.

Civil Service abandonment of the five-day week was announced by Secretary E. C. Babcock following a poll of the employes. The balloting showed 195 for the five-day week and 154 against it.

Other Federal agencies operating on the short week basis decided not to change, despite the higher pay cut involved.

The Department of Labor announced its employes will take Saturdays off as usual. The United States Employes Compensation Commission called a special meeting to consider possible modification of its earlier decision adopting the short week for its offices in Washington and in the field. Members decided not to change.

Report on 5-Day Week.

"The five-day week was put into effect by the commission on July 30, and the operation of this plan during the two weeks it has been in effect has been satisfactory," Chairman Bessie Parker Brueggeman announced.

Secretary John P. Victory of the national advisory committee for aeronautics said he did not consider the committee's employes technically on a five-day week, and for that reason

W.C.T.U. Waits Dry Law Stand in Hoover Speech

Seattle, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Earl Godwin, national publicity director for the Woman's Christran Temperance Union, said today the attitude of the organization toward the Republican party in the coming elections would depend in large measure upon President Hoover's interpretation of the party's resubmission plank.

The President is expected to touch upon the plank in his speech tomorrow night accepting renomination. The W. C. T. U. national convention opens here tomorrow.

DEBUCHI DISCUSSES TALK WITH STIMSON

Denies That Tokyo Told Him to Confer Over Manchurian Question.

(Associated Press.)

The Manchurian question as a topic of international discussion flourished anew yesterday in a long conference between Secretary Stimson and Ambassador Debuchi of Japan.

The specific details of the conference were not disclosed, but it was indicated the two had touched upon the speech of the Secretary last Monday night in which he laid strong emphasis upon the Kellogg-Briand peace pact as a vehicle for the nations of the world to rally around in mobilizing opinion against aggressive warfare.

The ambassador said he had received no instructions from his government to seek of the Secretary informally his reasons for the speech and that he had not opened the subject himself. He added, however, the two had discussed the general Manchurian situation and it was natural that any development pertaining to it should come up in the conversation.

Debuchi said he had called on the Secretary to say good-by before sailing for Japan on a visit. He reiterated he expected to come back to this country after a few months in Japan.

The ambassador said he knew of no plan of the Japanese to invade Peiping and Tientsin. There have been rumors from the Orient recently that this might be impending.

The State Department continued its silence regarding the world reaction to the speech of the Secretary. From France and England as well as League of Nations circles there continued to come favorable comment and interpretations of the results anticipated from his construction of the obligations assumed by the nations of the world when they signed the pact.

From Tokyo, however, came word of bitter criticism and an assertion by a foreign office spokesman that if the other powers approved the meanings read by Stimson into the peace treaty it might be necessary for Japan to repudiate her signature.

In the speech, made at a time when a report is impending by a League of Nations commission on its study of the Manchurian invasion, Stimson told of the series of incidents that led up to the final notes by America to Japan and China, asserting that no agreement would be recognized that was brought about by violation of the Kellogg-Briand treaty. Forty-nine other nations later voted for the adoption of a League of Nations resolution embodying the same principle.

Another phase of the speech outlined the view of the Secretary that consultation among the signatory na-

SPANISH REBEL CHIEF FLEES AS UPRISING FAILS

Gen. Sanjuro Is Driven From Stronghold at Seville.

LOYALISTS REPULSE ATTACK ON MADRID

At Least 8 Killed in Fighting at Capital; Alfonso Not Linked With Move.

Madrid (Thursday), Aug. 11 (A.P.).—The monarchist revolt, which kept Spain in a turmoil during the last 24 hours was smashed early today, the government announced, when Gen. Jose Sanjuro, the rebel chieftain, was driven from his stronghold at Seville.

The government of the southern provincial capital, which Sanjuro, noted monarchist and leader of the civil guard under former King Alfonso, took over by force yesterday, was again in the hands of Gov. Valera.

The rebel commander fled from the city accompanied by Gen. Arrans of the civil guard and other civil guard chiefs who had supported the revolt and whose forces assisted in his coup of the government offices yesterday.

One report said he had fled to Portugal.

Prisoners Freed.

Gov. Valera's first act on regaining control was to free all the prisoners who had been jailed by Gen. Sanjuro.

Communications with Madrid, which were cut by the rebels yesterday, were reestablished at 4:15 a. m. The frontiers of the province were closed immediately by the governor and orders were given to stop all fugitives at the border. Sanjuro and his companions were believed to be fleeing toward the border in automobiles.

Monarchist leaders yesterday failed in an attempt to seize the principal government offices in Madrid after street fighting in which at least eight persons were killed, but they captured the city of Seville.

Federal Planes Over Seville.

A federal air squadron flew from Madrid to distribute over Seville copies of a proclamation from the government and from congress. The proclamation said:

"Citizens of Seville: A movement was fully blocked in Madrid this morning, and the government authorities have arrested Gens. Goded and Calvalcanti and Ferdnandez Peret, who were among the leaders of the movement. All Spain has reported to the government that it is faithful to the present regime. The country is awaiting your answer."

Gen Sanjurjo's loyalty to the republic frequently has been suspected. It was Gen. Sanjurjo who escorted former Queen Victoria to exile when she followed the ousted Alfonso XIII out of Spain.

Alfonso Not Associated.

Alfonso apparently was not associated with the movement, at least not directly associated. (The former king was hunting near Koenigswart, Czechoslovakia, while the Spanish authorities were moving against the rebels. His spokesman said he would not comment.)

Political observers expressed the belief the object of the movement was to enthrone Prince Juan Carlos, third son of Alfonso, who now is a cadet in the British navy.

Spain has been seething with political unrest for months while the Cortes indulged in seemingly endless debate over the momentous problems presented by Catalonia's insistence on autonomy and by agrarian reform measures which would parcel out the great estates among the peasants.

This unrest reached a bloody cli-

Six Dogs Dead, Poison Rumors Stir Neighborhood

Irate Owners Charge Malicious Slaughter as Several Valuable Canines Are Among Sudden Casualties in Southeast Section; Verification Lacking.

Apprehension gripped canine-loving residents of southeast Washington yesterday when six dogs were reported dead and a number ailing as a story of wholesale poisoning went unexplained and unverified.

A street southeast between Eighteenth and Nineteenth and the adjacent territory is the area affected. Some pet owners thought an enemy of animals was responsible; others that prospective housebreakers might have poisoned the animals, while a few believe the dogs ate contaminated food.

The dogs dead are:

Skippy, a 3-year-old fox terrier, owned by Fred E. Wightman, of 1819 A street southeast. This dog was a particular pet of the neighborhood, and was the boon companion of seven young children, who are part of Mr. Wightman's household.

Spud, 2-year-old bulldog, pet of Florence Green, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Green, of 114 Eighteenth street southeast.

Spot and Brownie, young hounds, owned by Andrew Houston, of 18 Nineteenth street southeast, which incidentally is the house in which Beulah Limerick met her as yet unsolved death.

Both Skippy and Spud were found in alleys near their homes, while the hounds owned by the Houstons were found on a lot in the rear of the house.

Two other bodies of canines were found by Carroll Landvoigt, 18, of 1807 A street, but had not been claimed last night. One was a fox terrier and the other a police dog.

A slight touch of the ailment was

Young Clarke Killed Self, Lancaster Repeats in Trial

Declares He Thinks Writer Took Life Because of Illness, Knowing He Could Never Marry Mrs. Keith-Miller; On Stand 12 Hours.

Miami, Fla., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Capt. W. N. Lancaster, on trial for the slaying of Haden Clarke, declared in a grim monosyllable today that he did not, in jealous retribution, kill the man who replaced him in the affections of his former fiancee, Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller.

"I think Haden Clarke committed suicide," he said. "I think he killed himself with good intentions because of an illness he had contracted. I see his act as a beautiful thing."

"No," the British aviator answered firmly when both Defense Counsel James M. Carson and State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne asked him if he killed Clarke.

"I knew before I went to bed (the night of the fatal shooting) that Haden could never marry Chubbie (Mrs. Keith-Miller) and I think he knew it too.

Lancaster completed 12 hours of testimony just before court was recessed for the night.

He said he and Clarke had retired to the same room at the home here of Mrs. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix, after a heart-to-heart talk about the love mix-up. Clarke, who was writing for publication the life story of the aviatrix, was shot in his bed the night of April 21, less than a day after Lancaster returned from a Western business trip.

Both under direct examination and in cross-examination by the State, Lancaster said Clarke shot himself. Lancaster said Clarke had "dwelt at considerable length on lack of finances" before they went to bed.

"I was awakened by a bang," Lancaster related in calm tones. "At first I thought it was a window banging.

BYRD IS COLEADER IN PARTY FUND DRIVE

Virginian and Woolen Seek to Raise $1,000,000 for Democrats.

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A Middle West banker and a former Governor of Virginia were given today the task of raising a $750,000 to $1,000,000 Democratic war chest.

Harry Flood Byrd, who was one of Gov. Roosevelt's rivals in the Chicago convention, was named chairman of the campaign executive finance committee.

The appointment of Evans Woolen, Indianapolis banker, as chairman of the campaign finance committee, was officially confirmed.

In making the announcements, James A. Farley, national chairman, said the efforts of the two men would be bent toward obtaining a great volume of small contributions, rather than a limited number of large ones.

The financial budget has not been drawn up yet, but estimates given out at Roosevelt-Garner headquarters have been between $750,000 and $1,000,000. More than $7,000,000 was spent in 1928.

Mr. Farley continued during the day his series of conferences with Democratic leaders from the Far West, Middle West and South.

Sitting in his shirt sleeves at the head of a long, green table, he grinned and declined to discuss what problems of strategy were being threshed out.

The State leaders who sat around the table with him, however, made these observations:

Michigan "Is Doubtful."

"Michigan, which was 70 per cent Republican in 1928 and 80 per cent Republican in 1924, is today a doubtful State, and the Michigan Republican leaders are fearful of losing it."—Alfred Debo, Michigan State chairman.

"We in Missouri expect our Democratic majority in November to be at least 200,000."—C. W. Greenwade, Missouri State chairman.

"Florida went Republican in 1928, but we believe it will go Democratic in November by a majority of at least four to one."—J. B. Hodges, Florida State chairman.

"If the election were held tomorrow, Roosevelt would carry Arizona by the largest majority any Democratic nominee has ever received."—C. E. Addams, State chairman of Arizona.

Mr. Farley announced the appointment of Daniel J. Tobin, since 1907 president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers of America, as chairman of the campaign labor committee.

Hearing on Paper Ban By Mails to Be Tuesday

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Hearing on a motion of Arthur Garfield Hays, of the American Civil Liberties Union, for an injunction restraining John J. Kiely, postmaster, from refusing to send copies of the June 25 issue, or any other issue, of the American Freeman through the mails has been put on the motion calendar for next Tuesday in United States District Court.

Hays, appearing as counsel for the Haldeman-Julius Publishing Co., owner of the American Freeman, which was excluded from the mails for allegedly scandalous allusions to the President of the United States, entered a stipulation with Harry G. Hyman, assistant United States attorney, for a technical amendment to the complaint, which does not change the allegations contained in it.

Garner to Fly to Parley With Roosevelt Monday

(Associated Press.)

Weather permitting, Speaker John N. Garner will go by airplane from his home at Uvalde, Tex., to New York for his conference Monday with Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Attaches at the Speaker's office here said the Democratic vice presidential candidate would make the flight if possible. If weather conditions are bad, Mr. Garner will go by train. Mr. Garner, who is 63 years old, made his first flight last October when he flew to Washington in an Army plane to attend the conference called by President Hoover to outline the economic rehabilitation program.

Heat Wave Grips Southern England

Heavy Fog Halts Shipping and Disrupts Plans of 2 Channel Swimmers.

London, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Most of southern England sweltered in a heat wave today as the temperature hovered around 80 degrees. One of the worst August fogs in years shrouded the channel, brought shipping almost to a standstill and disarranged the plans of two English swimmers who had planned to start across the channel this morning.

The fog was thick over the Thames estuary, delaying water traffic in the morning, but this afternoon conditions were improving.

A mail plane launched from the liner Europa was delayed by the fog and came down at Plymouth to refuel after a 560-mile flight. She took the air again immediately for Southhampton.

Approximately 300 women attended the meeting, held on the spacious veranda that President Roosevelt often used for political conferences. National issues were discussed by Mrs. Arthur Livermore, and Mrs. George Wyeth of the National Republican Club.

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover was 58 years old yesterday and he celebrated the event by putting in one of the busiest days of his presidential career.

In fact, it was well past noon before the Chief Executive—swamped with political affairs—permitted a reminder of the occasion. Then a group of young girls, hardly in their teens, sang to him from the White House lawn, "Happy birthday, dear President, happy birthday to you."

Last night, with a group of old friends gathered about him at the White House dining table, he was able to contemplate the anniversary quietly. The dark polished panels of the state dining room and its heavy silver service reflected the flames of 58 candles upon a huge cake, baked at the orders of the First Lady.

During the day the birthday reminders were packed into a comparatively few minutes of the President's time.

He stepped from his office to the south lawn just before luncheon to receive from a group of local Boy Scouts a croaker caught by them Tuesday night and a bridge set constructed at camp. Another Scout group from Brooklyn, N. Y., presented a birthday scroll.

"Thank you, boys," the President said as he accepted the tokens. "I appreciate the sentiment behind them as much as the gifts themselves."

A uniformed bell hop from the new liner Manhattan next presented him with a birthday cake, frosted and lettered, a gift from officials of the United States Lines.

Then came the largest gift of all—a birthday card carrying the signatures of 40,000 persons, including those of the governors of all States, 150 mayors and the name of Mrs. Mollie Carron, of West Branch, Iowa, Mr. Hoover's first school teacher. The gift—so large it required several men to carry it—was prepared by Ernest Dudley Chase, of Boston.

of the Chicago convention, will deliver the formal address of notification.

With him on the stage will be members of the notification committee, representing every State and Territory, officers and members of the Republican national committee and the chairmen and vice chairmen of the various State committees. Members of the House and Senate, representatives of the Diplomatic Corps, the Supreme Court and the Cabinet also will be seated on the platform.

Earlier in the day, the President and Mrs. Hoover will entertain the visiting party leaders and the District of Columbia reception committee at a buffet luncheon on the south grounds of the White House. At this informal gathering, beginning at 1 o'clock, the President will be afforded an opportunity to meet the leaders in the several States who are to direct the destinies of the campaign from now until November.

The District of Columbia reception committee appointed recently by National Committeeman Edward F. Colladay, includes, besides Mr. Colladay, Mrs. Virginia White Speel, national committeeewoman for the District; Robert V. Fleming, Joshua Evans, Samuel J. Prescott, James B. Reynolds, Frank Mondle, Mrs. Sidney A. Cloman, Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, Miss M. Pearl McCall and Mrs. James F. Curtis.

As he put the finishing touches on his long acceptance address yesterday, the President received a number of party leaders from various sections, who brought him good tiding of the developing campaign in their own States.

Later he conferred with National Chairman Sanders, who reported upon the organization of the campaign in the Chicago headquarters, and George Akerson, formerly White House secretary, who will become a member of the Eastern campaign strategy board at New York headquarters.

Sees Swing to Hoover.

Frank Hitchcock, who was campaign manager for Taft and Postmaster General in his Cabinet, and manager of Hiram Johnson's primary campaign against Mr. Coolidge in 1924, said that on his trip across the continent from Arizona recently he had found "a very strong positive swing toward President Hoover noticeable in all sections." Mr. Hitchcock is now national committeeman from Arizona.

Henry Field, who recently upset Senator Smith W. Brookhart in the Iowa senatorial primary, was another White House caller.

"We just talked together like a couple of fellows from Iowa," Field told newspapermen after his conference with the President. "I told him how tall the corn was, and how good everything looked."

Questioned concerning the political outlook in his State, Field said he felt no concern over the November outcome.

Describes United Front.

"Never in 30 years have I seen the line between the so-called progressives and conservatives so completely wiped out in the Republican party in Iowa," he said. "I gave my pledge in the primary campaign not to affiliate with any bloc or faction, and I think that we have by that means really united the party there for the first time in many years."

Senator Frederic C. Walcott, of Connecticut, told the President the Republican campaign in his State already is well under way.

Representative Snell sees a hard fight ahead in New York State, but expressed confidence that the Republican national ticket can command the 47 electoral votes there in November.

Informal Style Set For Notification Fete

Correct attire for the White House luncheon and for the presidential notification ceremonies tonight has a number of the prospective guests worried, it was revealed last night.

The White House has received a number of inquiries about the matter from those who desire to be "correct."

Both affairs will be strictly informal. White House officials said last night. Summer attire is quite acceptable, and for the men, white flannels and dark coats will be just the thing.

TUMULTY ANSWERS ATTACK ON GARNER

Religious Bigotry Charges Are Ridiculed; Courage of Wet Stand Praised.

(Associated Press.)

Joseph P. Tumulty, who was secretary to President Wilson, sees in Speaker Garner, Democratic vice presidential candidate, a man who has challenged religious bigotry in his own party and dared to fight against prohibition in his native State of Texas.

Prizing his long-time friendship with the Speaker, Tumulty, in a letter to Michael E. Hennessy, of the Boston Globe, sought to refute rumors that Garner is intolerant and declined to support Alfred E. Smith in 1928 because of the latter's religious faith.

"John Garner," Tumulty wrote, "would despise and turn away from anyone who would suggest that he lift himself into office or power through the use of religion."

"At a time when Texas was a seething cauldron of Ku Kluxism and its inevitable aftermath, prohibition," he added, "John Garner stood in the first line trenches, his banner waving high, fighting the twin devils of intolerance—prohibition and Ku Kluxism. He stood them, as he stands now, with the liberal forces of Democracy, who refuse to concede to ecclesiastical politicians the right to say how a man should drink or how he should kneel to worship the God of his fathers."

ROOSEVELT IS READY FOR WALKER HEARING

ed, and in the urban East, where Mr. Walker has a big following, removal of the mayor would reverse the effects.

Albany County's Democratic organization marshaled thousands to give "Jimmy" a public demonstration of its affection when the smiling mayor swung out of his train tonight. New York sent him up the Hudson with cheering throngs.

White-haired Samuel Seabury, relentless foe of Tammany Hall, who prepared the case against Walker, arrives tomorrow with seven of the youthful assistants who have aided him in the New York City investigation.

Mr. Roosevelt's legal advisers are Martin Conboy, New York attorney, and M. Baldwin Fertig, the executive's counsel.

There is no scheduled procedure to be followed. Mr. Roosevelt alone may determine who shall be heard and what shall be said. The mayor will be advised that the hearing is "an opportunity of being heard in his defense." If he desires to amplify the testimony he gave at a hearing before Seabury, he will have the opportunity.

Mr. Walker, a few days ago, said he thought he should be permitted to cross-examine his accusers. That is possible if Mr. Roosevelt deems it essential to clarify the case in his own mind. Summed up, the hearing is intended only to help Mr. Roosevelt reach a decision.

Move to Halt Hearing.

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A last-minute move to halt the removal hearing of Mayor James J. Walker before Gov. Roosevelt tomorrow failed this afternoon just as the mayor set out for Albany.

After a brief hearing in the Bronx, Supreme Court Justice John E. McGeehan dismissed the application for a writ of prohibition to prevent the governor from hearing the charges. The move was not made by the mayor, but by the secretary of the Bronx Chamber of Commerce, a "home rule" advocate.

Smiling and immaculate, the mayor walked to his train in the Grand Central Station down an aisle formed by a solid double line of the city's smartly uniformed police. Mrs. Walker accompanied him, making her first public appearance since a recent operation.

Boos, Hisses and Applause.

A few boos and hisses were drowned in the din of applause as Walker proceeded down the aisle. Friendly hands thrust between the broad shoulders of police to shake his hand or pat him on the back.

"Good luck, Jimmie!" called Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, who lost the heavyweight title on a close decision.

"Thanks," grinned the mayor. "I hope they don't hand me the same kind of decision they handed you, Joe."

The crowd clapped and cheered when a man on the fringe of the crowd uttered an isolated boo, a Walker supporter wheeled angrily and let fly at his nose. The dissenter recoiled in amazement and disappeared.

Justice McGeehan dismissed the application for a writ of prohibition without passing on its merits, holding the action should be brought in Albany. Lawyers moving for the writ argued that under the State constitution only cities have the right to remove city officials.

Sidney Levine, lawyer arguing for the writ on behalf of George Donnelly, secretary of the Bronx Chamber of Commerce, said he would leave for Albany at once to renew the application.

Dead Man in Arkansas Is Nominated Sheriff

Melbourne, Ark., Aug. 10 (A.P.). A dead man was nominated sheriff of Izard County in yesterday's Democratic primary, receiving twice as many votes as his living opponent.

R. J. Estes, seeking renomination, died last Sunday, too late to keep his name off the ballot.

An unofficial count—from 31 of the county's 32 precincts gave Estes 1,312 votes to 655 for O. L. Elliott.

The county committee meets Friday and it is expected to declare Mr. Estes nominated, declare a vacancy on the ticket and call for a second primary.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS CONSIDER OUTLOOK

Costello and Colpoys Speak at Formal Opening of Club Headquarters.

A rally by the Young Democrats Club at which John F. Costello, Democratic national committeeman, and John B. Colpoys, chairman of the Democratic State central committee, were the principal speakers, last night formally opened the Democratic headquarters in the City Club Building.

Mr. Costello told the gathering how a political organization in Washington can be of assistance in a national election. "There are enough residents of the District who have retained voting citizenship 'back home' to swing elections in a dozen States in close years," he said.

"With its thousands of Federal employes, coming here from every part of the country, Washington is a political cross-section of the Nation," he said. "The rumblings and reflections are evident here before they are elsewhere."

Costello referred to the bonus marchers' eviction as a "crime in the name of politics." Both he and Colpoys pointed to a Roosevelt landslide. The rally was in charge of Victor Russell, secretary to Senator Sheppard, of Texas, and president of the Young Democrats.

At a business meeting preceding the rally, the club voted to challenge the Young Republicans organization to a debate on any controversial political subject.

One Talk by Smith Seen Worth 1,000,000 Votes

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (U.P.).—Believing that one speech by Alfred E. Smith would mean 1,000,000 votes, a number of Democratic State leaders today were solidly behind a movement to bring him out in the open for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

W. W. McDowell, Montana State Democratic chairman and an ardent Smith supporter in the 1928 presidential campaign, declared after a conference with Roosevelt he would "impress upon Al the necessity of entering the fight."

Weather Delays Piccard's Ascent

Plans Trip in Stratosphere Today or Tomorrow as Result.

Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Prof. Auguste Piccard, Belgian physicist, was ready tonight to make another balloon ascent into the stratosphere, but the weather man gave him a disappointing forecast for the Alps, where his balloon might land.

The professor said there was one chance in a hundred that he might take off Friday morning, but that he was awaiting tomorrow morning's weather report. His apparatus was repaired after a gas leak was found in the ionization chamber of the balloon.

The Meteorological Bureau advised him, however, that storms were approaching over the mountains and that tomorrow probably would not be a good day for the start.

Burke's Funeral Is Set Tomorrow

75 Honorary Pallbearers Include Secretary Hurley and G. O. P. Officials.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—While the body of James Francis Burke, counsel for the Republican national committee, lay tonight in his Devonshire street home, preparations were made for fuheral services Friday morning.

Many men prominent in governmental and business affairs of the country will attend the services in St. Paul's Cathedral. A solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated at 10 a. m. The list of 75 honorary pallbearers included Lieut. Col. Campbell B. Hodges, military aid to President Hoover; Secretary of War Hurley, Postmaster General Brown, Ferry K. Heath, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; George DeB. Keim, secretary of the Republican national committee; Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican national committee, and Joseph R. Nutt, treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Mr. Burke died suddenly in a Washington hospital Monday night. The body arrived here from Washington this morning.

Hoover Congratulates Ecuador on 121st Year

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover yesterday sent his congratulations to the President of Ecuador on that nation's 121st independence anniversary. Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American Union, issued the following statement:

"The Republic of Ecuador yesterday celebrated the glorious anniversary of her independence, which was declared 121 years ago. Ecuador may well be proud of the splendid progress which recent years have witnessed. The Pan-American Union extends to the people of the Republic of Ecuador warmest congratulations on this anniversary, combined with best wishes for their continued progress and prosperity."

MRS. CARAWAY WINS BY LANDSLIDE VOTE

Her Total Is Nearly as Large as That of 6 Foes; Futrell Governorship Choice.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The vote by which Senator Hattie W. Caraway was renominated in yesterday's Democratic primary reached landslide proportions tonight as returns were tabulated from all but about 400 precincts, mostly small and isolated.

She had much more than a two to one lead over her nearest rival, Maj. O. L. Bodenhamer, of El Dorado, former national commander of the American Legion, who congratulated her on her victory, and was only 11,238 votes short of a clear majority over her six men opponents.

With 194,624 votes tabulated Mrs. Caraway had 91,693; Bodenhamer, 43,610; Vincent M. Miles, national committeeman, 19,371; former Gov. Charles H. Brough, 19,072; Judge W. F. Kirby, former senator, 9,496; W. G. Hutton, prohibition repeal candidate, 6,496, and Melbourne Martin, 4,886.

Futrell Ahead for Governor.

Meanwhile J. Marion Futrell, 59-year-old chancellor of Aragould, was piling up an equally impressive plurality to win the gubernatorial nomination, for which he had the support of Gov. Harvey Parnell.

With 216,000 votes tabulated in the seven-cornered race and slightly more than 300 precincts yet to report, Futrell had 96,978 votes and his nearest opponent, former Gov. Tom J. Teral, had 44,839.

The five representatives having opposition for renomination appeared to have safe margins over their nearest opponents. W. J. Driver, of the First District, had no opposition, and in the Fourth, Representative Effigene Wingo was not a candidate for renomination.

Congressional Results.

The congressional vote:

Second District, 218 precincts out of 370: Representative John E. Miller, 10,119; Hugh Williamson, 6,734.

Third District, 140 out of 275: Representative Claude Fuller, 8,175; Festus O. Butt, 3,106.

Fourth District, 203 out of 308: Ben Cravens, of Fort Smith, former representative, 5,503; A. D. Dulaney, State insurance commissioner, 4,778; Harney McGehee, 3,977; Seth Reynolds, 3,604; W. O. Zeuch, 357.

Fifth District, 113 out of 258: Heartsill Ragon, member of the House ways and means committee, 16,024; H. M. Jacoway, former representative, 7,851; Oscar Winn, 1,286.

Sixth district, 251 out of 284, Representative D. D. Glover, 25,419; W. G. Bouic, 10,076.

Seventh District, 235 out of 293: Representative Tillman B. Parks, 12,124; Wade Kitchens, 8,999; W. A. Craig, 5,026.

Home Bank Sites Wait on Districts

Board Will Select Cities After Deciding Upon Regional Areas.

(Associated Press.)

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board said yesterday it would select locations for the eight to twelve new banks after it had decided the number of districts to be established. "The board," its statement said, "has been in practically continuous session since Tuesday morning discussing organization and policy problems.

"No consideratoin has yet been given to the selection of particular cities for the location of any regional bank, nor can any be given until the board has decided definitely upon the number and territorial outlines of the Home Loan Bank district and other major policy questions."

Chairman Fort plans to make public today a report on the progress made by the board, whose five members were appointed by President Hoover Saturday.

35 U. S. FARM BOARD WORKERS DISMISSED

they will continue under the arrangement agreed on.

Under this plan the employes would take 30 Saturdays off. From September to April, however, they would be on a five and a half day basis. Mr. Victory said he did not believe this would entail any additional pay cut.

Some Farm Board employes are working only five days a week now, but as a skeleton organization is maintained Saturday, this group likewise does not consider itself working under the five-day week provisions of the economy law.

Blow to Spread of Plan.

The Government Printing Office, operating largely on a per diem basis, and various navy yard and navy field workers, will continue on the five-day week schedule.

The comptroller's decision, however, is considered a body blow to the immediate further spread of the plan in the Government service.

Various department heads yesterday were busy scanning the ruling for possible application to their own branches. Besides the Federal Farm Board, other Federal agencies have furloughed workers indefinitely to keep within appropriations. Additional dismissals are expected, as it would cut into appropriated funds to keep them on indefinite status under the McCarl decision.

None of the five departments most severely hit by appropriation slashes has yet worked out its schedule of "administrative" furloughs. It is unlikely, however, that any additional payless leave will be ordered before the first of the year in departments affected—State, Justice, Commerce, Labor and Interior. State and Interior Departments hope to avoid any "administrative" furloughs.

Hoover Hears Farmers Want Spread Work Plan

(Associated Press.)

The movement for wider distribution of available work was indorsed to President Hoover yesterday by the National Grange.

Fred Brenckman, Washington representative of the Grange, informed newspapermen he told the President that agriculture was behind the campaign by organized labor to spread employment through shorter working hours. Brenckman said that agriculture was convinced that it would be helped through greater demand for commodities as more men were put to work.

U. S. HOUSE RACES IN KENTUCKY CLOSE

Barkley Leads by 60,000; Other Contests Hold Center of Interest.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Interest in Kentucky's primary elections centered today on close races for the nine Republican and Democratic congressional nominations from the State at large, as Senator Allen W. Barkley already was conceded the Democratic senatorial nomination by his closest opponent.

Seven of the Democratic nominations were practically clinched by the incumbents, but for the remaining two there was a neck-and-neck contest between Charles P. Farnsley, Finley Hamilton and John Young Brown. The incumbent and Mr. Farnsley and Mr. Hamilton comprised the unofficial administration slate.

Returns from 3,778 precincts out of the State's 4,195 put the following ten in the lead: Fred M. Vinson, 94,345; A. J. May, 89,144; Virgil Chapman, 88,443; W. Voris Gregory, 78,032; Glover H. Cary, 75,644; Grent Spence, 70,855; C. R. Carden, 60,823; Hamilton, 59,498; Brown, 58,852; Farnsley, 56,100.

In the Republican congressional races Maurice H. Thatcher, incumbent, led with 38,642 votes in 3,765 precincts, followed by William Lewis, 32,505; Robert Blackburn, 32,429; Hillard H. Smith, 26,833; B. T. Rountree, 24,832; George P. Ellison, 24,405; D. E. McClure, 23,670; Hugh H. Asher, 22,156; former Representative J. Lincoln Newhall, 19,737; Frank B. Russell, 19,123; Dr. Ben L. Bruner, 17,083; Ashland T. Patrick, 16,117, and Hanford M. Manning, 15,035. Mr. Thatcher is the only Republican incumbent in the race.

Mr. Barkley was conceded the nomination yesterday by former United States Senator George B. Martin. The incumbent's majority today exceeded 60,000 and was growing steadily.

Treasury Asks for Bids On $75,000,000 Bills

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Mills announced last night that the Treasury would sell $75,000,000 of 91-day Treasury bills to the highest bidder next Monday.

The bills will be dated August 17 and will mature November 16, when they will be redeemed at face value. Bids will be received at Federal Reserve Banks, but not at the Treasury. Money received will be used to retire an equal amount of maturing bills.

Moscow Explains Decree of Death

Drastic Edict Is Termed Move to End Attacks on New Policy.

Moscow, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Today's newspapers explained a recent government decree providing capital punishment for persons convcted of theft of railroad and river cargoes or collective and cooperative property.

The decree does not alter the past policy of dealing with such offenses, but makes its application more stringent by definitely classifying all shipments of goods in transit and all common property in collective farms and cooperatives as the property of the state.

Thus kulaks caught stealing grain from collective fields in an effort to disrupt the work of collectivization are subject to execution by firing squads. Those robbing transportation shipments must suffer the same penalty.

Meyer Sees R. F. C. Directors on Plan

Sounds Out Members on Raw Materials Credit Group Proposal.

(Associated Press.)

Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board, who is credited with being active toward the organization of a corporation to finance the sale of commodities and raw materials, yesterday talked on several members of the board of directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Mr. Meyer paid brief visits to Gardner Cowles, sr., Jesse H. Jones, and Wilson McCarthy. Later he said there was no significance in the trip to the corporation offices and that he was merely making a series of social calls.

New York dispatches have said Mr. Meyer was the inspiration for organization of a company by the New York banks to be known as the Commodities Credit Corporation with a capital stock of $100,000,000. It would make loans to consumers of raw materials to finance the purchase of stocks for manufacturing purposes.

Whether the corporation would be able to borrow from the Reconstruction Corporation has not been announced. Mr. Meyer said the corporation appeared to be in accord with his plans but declined to comment further.

John Gilbert Wed To Virginia Bruce

Movie Notables Present as Actor Takes His Fourth Wife.

Los Angeles, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—John Gilbert, actor of romantic movie parts, took unto himself a fourth bride tonight in a ceremony at his studio dressing room. He telegraphed his fiancee, Virginia Bruce, film actress, at 2 p. m., and told her to show up for a wedding at 6 p. m.

Surprised on a sound stage in her screen make-up, Miss Bruce demurred at such suddenness, but hurried off the set at 5:45 p. m., and was a bride by 6:30. Previously there had been no definite plans for the wedding. Only a few hours earlier, Gilbert hurriedly got his marriage license at the courthouse.

Prominent movie personages attended the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. James Hamilton Lash. Irving Thalberg, producer, stood as best man. Mrs. Donald Ogden Stewart, wife of the writer, was matron of honor.

Army-Navy Aerial Board Reorganized

Strengthening of Functions Seen in Move; 4 Bases Become "Stations."

(Associated Press.)

Reorganization of the joint aeronautical board of the Army and Navy to promote coordination of their aerial programs was announced yesterday by the Navy, along with relegation of four of its seven operating bases to the titular status of "stations." Changes in the board to strengthen its functions were agreed upon by Secretaries Adams and Hurley.

The duties of the board will be to investigate and report on questions affecting development and employment of Army and Navy air forces.

The four bases becoming stations retain their forces and facilities and the change was termed "purely administrative" by Navy officers. They are: Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; the Canal Zone, Key West and New Orleans.

'Kidnaped' Girl, 9, Is Denied Mother

Woman Refused Custody of Child Because Act Preceded Writ.

Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—When Mrs. Kathryn Read arrived here today to claim her 9-year-old daughter, Carol, whom officers located in an isolated farmhouse in the Ozark Mountains of northwest Arkansas Saturday, she was refused custody of the child.

Although she showed a decree granted in June giving her separate maintenance from her husband, Fred Read, who allegedly kidnaped the child from their Oak Park, Ill., home, last May, Judge V. S. Ledgerwood held that the child had been brought to Arkansas before the decree was granted, and that the act was not criminal kidnaping.

Judge Ledgerwood suggested that a compromise be sought with Read, who is at Fayettaville following his release on bond here. Mrs. Read, dissatisfied with the ruling, started habeas corpus proceedings. Read was arrested here on a warrant from Oak Park officers, charging him with kidnaping the child. His hearing is scheduled August 17.

Coolidge Chooses to Give Aspirant Political Advice

Former President Has No Statement to Make, However, Either on National Affairs or on His Hay Fever in Brief Interview at New York Hotel.

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Calvin Coolidge chose to discuss neither national politics nor his hay fever today.

Instead, in the privacy of a hotel suite, he talked with a young aspirant for the State Senate about the qualifications for such a job and was quoted as telling him:

"I'm delighted to see a business man who knows the value of a dollar going into politics."

The former President came to New York on a business matter and he had no statement to make, he said in the only direct word that came from him.

But Walter S. Mack, jr., Republican candidate for the Senate seat now held by Samuel Hofstadter, chairman of the Hofstadter legislative committee, brought this report from the suite:

"Mr. Coolidge looks well, but he seems to be bothered very much by his hay fever. I understand he is going right back home to Plymouth, Vt. He told me in his quiet way, 'I'm glad to see a business man who knows the value of a dollar going into politics.' He said he would do anything he could to help me."

A statement given out at the White House Monday disclosed that, in a letter declining an invitation to attend the Hoover notification ceremony tomorrow, the former President had written he was suffering from a case of hay fever which would prevent his attendance because it would be aggravated by travel.

A later dispatch from Plymouth quoted the villagers as saying, "It's the first we've heard of it."

The first autogyro campaign tour was announced by friends of Senator Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut, who will leave here August 19 to make speeches in Waterbury, Norwalk and East Hartford in his own State.

KELLOGG INDORSES STIMSON'S SPEECH

World Court Judge Praises Secretary's Stand on Power of Public Opinion.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Frank B. Kellogg, judge of the World Court, today gave his support to Secretary Stimson's speech on the Kellogg-Briand peace pact before the Council on Foreign Relations in New York.

"I agree with him absolutely and I heartily congratulate him," said the Secretary of State under former President Coolidge in a statement.

In it he expressed the belief that public opinion exerts greater influence for peace than guaranties in referring to Mr. Stimson's comment on Sino-Japanese developments. Mr. Stimson said no agreement resulting from a violation of the treaty would be recognized.

"The treaty, of course, is an unconditional agreement to renounce war and to settle all disputes by pacific means," said Mr. Kellogg. "It has become a principle of international law between all the signatories, as the Secretary states.

"Furthermore, I agree with the Secretary that consultations between nations, parties to the treaty, are implicit in the treaty itself. It is the duty of any signatory to this treaty to call the attention of any nation to the violation or threatening violation thereof, and this necessarily implies consultation between countries. That has also been the practice, and in my opinion when all the nations, parties to this treaty, focus public opinion upon any country threatening its violation the influence is more potent for peace than any guaranties.

"I was impressed by a statement in the London Times that if the covenant of the present League of Nations and of the Kellogg-Briand pact are not enough to insure world peace, then no written guarantees of security would prevent war.

"War will be prevented when the world realizes that consultation, arbitration and conciliation are better means of settling international disputes than the arbitrament of war. World public opinion is the most powerful instrument for peace," Mr. Kellogg added.

ODD SOCIETY KILLING CASE CLEWS GROW

Poesque Death of Jane Merrill Probed Further, Though Two Are Charged.

Natchez, Miss., Aug. 10 (U.P.).—Detectives and bloodhounds retraced the trials in the famous Jane Surget Merrill slaying today as search for motive and clews gained momentum although two elderly eccentrics are already charged with murder in the case.

Sheriffs, police and prosecuting officers questioned the two suspects, Dick Dana, 61, bearded "wild man," and his housekeeper, Miss Octavia Dockrey, 60, "goat woman," until all were exhausted.

The two old plantation mansions, homes of the slain woman and the suspects, were ransacked again for clews. Searchers dragged a pond on the Merrill estate in hopes they would find a clew.

A finger print bureau rivaling that of police headquarters in some of the larger cities has been set up in the county jail, under direction of State Investigator J. E. Chancellor. A call for assistance brought Maurice O'Neil, noted expert from New Orleans, who was to help study bloody fingerprints, which are the only clews. Other private detectives were arriving to lend their aid in one of the most bizarre mysteries the South has ever known.

Miss Merrill, great-granddaughter of Sir William Dunoar, the daughter of Ayers Merrill, Ambassador to Belgium, and once the "belle of Southern aristocrats," was shot to death last Thursday night.

Dana and Miss Dockery were charged with murder after their fingerprints were identified by Chancellor as having been found on articles strewn in and about the Merrill home. It is the theory of Sheriff C. P. Roberts, who said the women had been quarreling for years over raids of Miss Dockery's goats on the well-kept Merrill estate.

Dana, nephew of Charles A. Dana and related to Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, was declared incompetent several years ago, and Miss Dockery, his companion since youth, was named his guardian. She is the daughter of a famous Confederate general.

They lived a strange life at Glenwood, the now decrepit estate of Dana, which was once a scenic site of Natchez. Dana would go alone into nearby woods for long periods of time, let his beard grow, and run amid the trees like "a wild man."

Duncan G. Minor, a neighbor, and Miss Merrill's sweetheart from childhood, now lives at the Merrill home. He revealed to District Attorney Clay Tucker today that he had been spending nights at the home with Miss Merrill for years. Minor is a descendant of Don Augustin Minor, famous Spanish governor general, who ruled this country before the Louisiana purchase.

SISTERS OF PYTHIAS SUED FOR $150,000

Officers, Including Capital Woman, Named in Action as Parley Opens.

Kansas City, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A $150,000 damage suit was added today to the matters under consideration by officers of the Pythian Sisters at the biennial convention here.

The action was filed yesterday by Mrs. Ada Belle Onion, Dallas, Tex., former supreme chief of the organization, who charged she was "willfully and unlawfully" suspended from the order April 25, 1931. Nine officers, including Mrs. Elsie E. Vandervort, Washington, D. C., were named defendants. Her petition stated that she was prevented by the defendants from making a complete report of her activities in the Mississippi flood relief program at the biennial convention in 1928.

Mrs. Onion alleged the defendants entered into a conspiracy "to injure her character, good name and reputation, and to bring about her removal from the order of Pythian Sisters." The plaintiff also charged that the defendants had caused publication of their intention to sue in Ohio for collection of bond on Mrs. Blanche Cooley, "predicated on the failure of Mrs. Cooley and Mrs. Onion to account for the proceeds of the collection of the Mississippi Valley flood relief fund." She charged the article, which appeared in Pythian Sisters Tydings, official publication, was "false and untrue."

Mrs. Onion also started mandamus action in the Kansas City Court of Appeals seeking reinstatement in the order. Judge Francis H. Trimble issued an alternative writ of mandamus directing the supreme temple to reinstate the applicant or to appear August 12 and show cause why the order should not be carried out.

Meanwhile, delegates to the Knights of Pythian convention congratulated their new officers, chosen yesterday. The new officers are: James Dunn, jr., Cleveland, supreme chancellor; Reno S. Harp, Frederick, Md., supreme vice chancellor; Frederick S. Attwood, Minneapolis, supreme prelate; Harry M. Love, Minneapolis, supreme keeper of records and seal; Richard L. Meares, Wilmington, N. C., supreme master of exchequer; David H. Brewster, Transcona, Manitoba, Canada, supreme master-at-arms; William H. Hoyt, Concord, N. H., supreme inner guard, and William D. Quick, Somerville, N. J., supreme outer guard.

Convicted Cleric Banned As Director of Church

Stiffkey, England, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A notice signed by the Bishop of Norwich and prohibiting the Rev. H. F. Davidson, rector of Stiffkey, from performing any church services, was formally affixed today to the door of the church.

The rector was found guilty last month of acts of immorality committed while he posed as a reformer and friend of fallen women. A copy of the notice was sent to Mr. Davidson, who is doing his turn twice a night at a Harrogate vaudeville theater. He is in vaudeville to raise money with which to appeal his case.

PINCHOT ASKS QUIZ OF UTILITIES GROUP

Demands Sweeping Inquiry of Public Service Commission's Conduct.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—An immediate and sweeping investigation of the Public Service Commission was demanded by Gov. Pinchot in a personal appearance before the Senate today.

Ready to take control of the commission for the first time in his two terms as governor, Mr. Pinchot insisted upon a thorough-going inquiry "of the system by which the public utilities have controlled the public service commission."

That system, he said, involved bribery, extortion and corruption. The governor read his speech, declaring his opposition to "this evil system, which has reached into every man's home and lowered his standard of living by extortionate overcharges."

Pinchot's demand for immediate action by the Senate was the climax of a ten-year campaign against certain commissioners. In an earlier offensive, Pinchot removed Commissioners James S. Benn and S. Ray Shelby, but the State Supreme Court put them back. The court held removals could be made only by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The governor has repeatedly appealed for Senate action at this session.

Pinchot took as occasion for his attack today the resignation last week of W. D. B. Ainey, chairman of the commission, as the Senate was about to open an inquiry into gratuities the governor charges Ainey received from Arthur W. Thompson, Pittsburgh utility millionaire, and the late T. E. Mitten, former head of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co.

Green Raps Brewers' Buying of German Kegs

Boston, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today said the federation would serve notice on brewers that it would "denounce and expose" the purchase of barrels and kegs in Germany in anticipation of modification of the Volstead act.

Mr. Green gave an address on employment before the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Beverage Dispensers' International Alliance.

John Wanamaker, Jr., And Bride on Journey

Reno, Nev., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Mr. and Mrs. John Wanamaker, jr., were on their wedding trip today, no one knew, or would say, exactly where.

John Wanamaker, jr., of a wealthy Philadelphia family, married Mrs. Elizabeth Pelz Warburton, divorced wife of his cousin, C. Egerton Warburton, of Philadelphia a few hours after he obtained a divorce from Mrs. Pauline Disston Wanamaker here yesterday.

Holman Awaiting State's Next Move

Denies Helping Author to Write "Life Story" of Daughter.

Cincinnati, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Alfred Holman came home today, uncommunicative as usual, to await North Carolina's next move in bringing his daughter, Libby, of Broadway fame, before a court to answer to an indictment charging murder of her husband, Smith Reynolds.

Although saying little, Holman did deny reports that he was furnishing material to a Cincinnati writer for a "life story" of his daughter.

"I am giving out nothing of the kind and I know nothing of such a book being written," he said bluntly.

HITLER MAY TAKE REICH HELM SOON

caused newspapers to speculate on the personnel of the cabinet he might head. One guess was that Gregor Strasser, the Nazi leader's chief lieutenant, would replace Baron Wilhelm von Gayl as minister of interior, and another was that Wilhelm Goering would become minister of communications.

This slate included Lieut. Col. von Papen in the post of vice chancellor and foreign minister, and left the rest of the cabinet intact.

Thousands of the Nazi storm troops were reported concentrating today in the vicinity of Berlin. The Berliner Tageblatt, powerful Liberal newspaper, said the troop movement was merely a ruse by which Hitler hoped to persuade the government that he no longer was able to keep his men in check, thereby emphasizing his demands for control of the government.

Violence Continues.

The government's new emergency decrees, which set up extreme penalties for acts of political violence, were answered by rifle fire and bombings. In Berlin one Communist and one member of the Reichbanner republican organization were killed and three persons were wounded.

The cabinet met for two hours and a half tonight without—the Wolff News Agency understood—reaching any definite decision about the cabinet crisis. No communique was issued after the meeting.

During the evening Chancellor von Papen talked with Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, leader of the Nationalist party. The Centrists who will call on the chancellor tomorrow, are Eugene Bolz, president of Wurttemberg state, and Joseph Joos.

Herr Hitler and the chancellor probably will meet Friday and subsequently the Nazi leader will be received by President von Hindenburg.

Florida Resort Threatened by Fire.

Boynton Beach, Fla., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Firemen of Boynton and Delray Beach, assisted by scores of volunteers, fought until early today to save the exclusive Gulf Stream Polo and Golf Club colony and other large properties near here from brush fires, apparently of incendiary origin.

Canadian Wheat Forecast Up.

Ottawa, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The prairie provinces have 1,042,278 more acres under wheat this year than last, according to a crop report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics today. For all Canada the increase is 984,350 acres.

MYSTERY MALADY FATAL TO DOGS HERE

felt by Dot, beautiful collie owned by Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Dyer, of 1803 A street southeast. Quick restorative efforts probably saved her life, said Mr. Dyer. The dog was sired by a famous collie in the kennels of Albert Payson Terhune, writer and noted friend to dogs, and is valued highly by the Dyers. Their two children, Martin, 10, and Mary, also 10, attended Dot last night with anxious eyes.

Mr. Dyer was confident that some one with ill-feeling toward dogs was responsible for the deaths and sickness of the neighborhood pets. "Within the past ten days I have heard of buckshot being fired at dogs and cats in this very neighborhood," he said. "Somebody just has a hard heart because I'm sure very little annoyance has been caused any one by the dogs around here."

Mr. Wightman was inclined strongly to the theory that his dog died from poisoning. "I believe it was some powerful poison which works quickly," he said.

Several other residents of the neighborhood last night were reported to be caring for their sick pets. Police had heard of the epidemic unofficially, but had begun no investigation.

All yesterday the children walked around and discussed the topic of the day and wondered what modern hobgoblin was causing such woe. They talked eagerly of their sorrows and theories last night to reporters.

Rain Helps Crews Fight Fires.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Clouds pouring rain in the Selway country Wednesday morning helped crews fighting fires to establish control of various blazes burning in the northern Idaho woods, most of which had already been corralled in a fashion to prevent further spread.

TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The Louisville postoffice has returned to senders as nonmailable Hatter letters, which bear stamps urging repeal of the eighteenth amendment on the face of the envelopes, on the grounds they violate postal regulations which require that only postage stamps appear on the face. The repeal stamps may be affixed to the backs of envelopes, however.

Detroit, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A proposal to limit the city's tax budget to $61,000,000 this year with subsequent annual reductions of $1,000,000 until $56,000,000 was reached, today had been rejected at the polls by a 3 to 1 majority.

Portland, Oreg., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Walter Nichols is in jail here today because he was too willing to work. After obtaining work on his own card on the emergency relief crew, he worked on the card of another man who had left town. He was fined $25 for falsely obtaining work and, unable to pay, was committed to jail.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Thomas Malloy, a bogus marcher from San Francisco, Calif., was injured fatally 2 miles northeast of Lafayette today when he fell off a bridge and fractured his skull. He died in a local hospital two hours later.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Butte was still without daily newspapers today, the tenth day after a wage dispute between newspaper publishers and union printers resulted in a suspension of operations. The employers asked the union men to accept a dollar a day cut, which the latter refused, suggesting a shorter work day instead.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Cleveland Newspaper Publishers and Stereotypers Union No. 22 have agreed upon a new wage scale embodying a 4.9 per cent reduction, officials of the union announced today.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Milwaukee is approaching winter with the assurance it can give employment to 8,000 or more jobless on ten-day shifts out of funds donated by city employes.

Oakland, Calif., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Mrs. Anna Koch and her new baby boy are doing nicely, thank you. And Papa Antone Koch? He is recovering in the next ward, thanks. In the excitement of going to the hospital last night he disabled the motor of his automobile, and then fell out of the police ambulance.

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—There were definite indications today that Ruth Nichols is all ready for her second attempt to fly the ocean. Thirteen drums containing 650 gallons of gasoline have been delivered in her name at Floyd Bennett Field, and Clarence Chamberlin flew her reconditioned plane there from New Jersey today to check their arrival.

Swanson Tells Stimson of Geneva Conference

(Associated Press.)

Senator Swanson, of Virginia, one of the American delegates to the recent disarmament conference, spent an hour yesterday telling Secretary Stimson of the results of the meeting and of the prospects for the forthcoming session this winter.

The conference provided the first opportunity the two had had to discuss the disarmament question. Secretary Stimson met Senator Swanson last Friday night when the latter returned to Washington, but there was no extended conversation.

tions is necessary before the formulation of important diplomatic plans in any crisis. This portion was particularly welcomed in France and England while in League of Nations quarters the speech was interpreted as indicating that the United States could be depended upon to cooperate in moves for the peace of the world.

Foreign Office Hints Tokyo Protest Unlikely

Tokyo, Aug. 10 (U.P.).—The foreign office indicated today that Japan is unlikely to protest against the remarks of Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson in his speech defining the American attitude toward the Pact of Paris, which Japan now threatens to repudiate.

The spokesman confirmed that the government was "irritated" by Stimson's reference to the Manchurian situation, saying it was obvious the United States administration considers Japan has been an aggressor in Manchuria.

He cited Stimson's letters to Senator Bingham regarding the Philippine Islands and to Senator Borah regarding the Far Eastern conflict.

He also referred to suggestions for putting 80 per cent of the American fleet in the Pacific and the publication of secret correspondence of 1918 during the Siberian expedition, in which American and Japanese troops were involved.

The government of Japan, however, will not protest unless Ambassador Katsuji Debuchi at Washington considers such action necessary. It is understood Debuchi will ask Stimson to explain his motives, whereafter he will make recommendations to Tokyo.

The foreign office spokesman said Stimson's doctrine that the Pact of Paris can be enforced by moral pressure is not acceptable to the Japanese government. Japan would repudiate the pact if the United States should continue such tactics, the spokesman said.

This threat to withdraw from the treaty, which outlaws war as an instrument of national policy, was the result of Stimson's declarations that the Pact of Paris implicitly implies that the signatory nations should consult in time of threatened war to mobilize moral pressure for peace.

It was in reference to this situation that Stimson referred to the Far Eastern situation, recalling how the United States and the League of Nations acted in regard to the pact during the Chinese-Japanese conflict in Manchuria.

SAO PAULO REBELS TAKE ANOTHER CITY

Advances Also Reported by Federal Forces in Brazilian State.

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Capture of the City of Santa Ana, near Treas Lagoas, in Matto Grosso State, by the Sao Paulo rebels, was reported today, the federals at the same time reporting advances.

Gen. Goes Montero, federal commander, telegraphed to Rio de Janeiro that the Federals had penetrated 15 miles westward in areas toward Cachoeira, compelling the rebels by an encircling movement to abandon their hilltop trenches.

Steady progress by Federal troops in the Parahyba River sector also was reported.

A federal vanguard said it had captured a rebeel rearguard which was dynamiting bridges.

The rebels were concentrating at Cachoeira, where a decisive battle was likely for the key point in the Parahyba Valley and control of railways from southern Minas Gerses, said the reports here.

Gen. Monteiro and military police asked the authorities in Rio de Janeiro to aid in the provisioning of the civil population in the war zone.

The federal navy is forming a third division, composed of reserve craft, to alternate with the two regular divisions in the blockade of the Paulists, it was announced.

Pastor Wins Delay On Murder Charge

Oklahoman Is Composed in Court When Presented for Arraignment.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Dressed in a natty gray suit and scarlet tie, the Rev. S. A. Berrie, hymnist-pastor, came to court here today and obtained a 24-hour delay in arraignment on an indictment charging the murder of his first wife. He appeared composed.

Earlier his attorney, Grover P. Watkins, had announced his intention of seeking bail for the preacher, who married a 19-year-old Sunday school teacher less than two months after the first Mrs. Berrie died, allegedly of poison last March 21.

The matter of bail awaited Mr. Berrie's arraignment, although District Judge Enide V. Vernor today denied a request for the pastor's removal from the city to the county jail. Authorities said the police still were working on the case. The clergyman's bride has been exonerated by authorities.

Detective Is Suspended; Drinking Cited as Cause

Adjudged unfit for duty owing to the effects of drinking, Precinct Detective F. L. Arrington, attached to the Fourth Precinct Station, was suspended from the police force yesterday by Capt. B. W. Thompson, of the Detective Bureau.

Learning Arrington was in a private hospital here, Capt. Thompson went there and had the detective examined by a police surgeon. Arrington was not charged with drinking, but with being unfit for duty owing to drinking. He was appointed to the force in 1919, and has received a number of commendations for meritorious service.

RAIL HEADS DIVIDED ON R.F.C. LOAN PLAN

Use of $300,000,000 for Refurnishing Equipment Is Debated.

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The chiefs of the country's major railroads were called into council today to consider the Government's suggestion for leading a prosperity drive by refurnishing their equipment, but they failed, at least collectively, to ratify the proposal.

The meeting, held by Association of Railway Executives, at the Hotel Biltmore this afternoon, was preceded by a session of the advisory council of the association, which discussed the plan in detail, but presented no recommendations to the full body.

The Government's plan was to have the carriers obtain loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, perhaps as much as $300,000,000, for the repair of equipment and possibly for the purchase of new equipment. The proposal was indorsed by some of the executives, it was said after the meeting, but it was learned that others, perhaps a majority, were not in favor of increasing their debt for equipment not needed under present conditions. The interest charge on the loans was to be 5 per cent.

It was announced after the meeting that the advisory committee after full consideration, realizing that the problem was one for decision by each road but that the critical conditions of unemployment were such that grave consideration should be given to the matter, referred the matter to the meeting of member roads without recommendation, but with a statement that it was so referred in order that each road might give it full consideration in view of all the circumstances and conditions, in order to determine whether or not such individual roads could make use of funds which might be available through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation."

Willard Explains Proposal.

The statement added that no official or collective action was taken at the full meeting and that the matter was left for the consideration of each member road.

The plan as proposed by the Government sponsors was explained to the executives by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, who participated in many of the Washington conferences called to discuss its feasibility. It was indicated that Mr. Willard has placed himself on record as favoring its adoption as a means of improving the general economic situation, with benefit to the carriers themselves.

On the other hand some of the executives, informally expressing their opinions after the meeting, declared that the plan held out no promise of gain for the carriers, that it meant the enlarging of a debt already burdensome, and that the roads had plenty of equipment to care for a good deal more business than they were getting now

First of Meeting Series.

Among those at the meeting were E. H. Aishton, chairman of association executive committee; Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio; L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson; J. P. Pelley, president of the New Haven; A. C. Needles, president of the Norfolk & Western; W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania; L. W. Baldwin, president of the Missouri Pacific; F. W. Sargent, president of the Chicago & Northwestern; W. R. Cole, president of the Louisville & Nashville; C. E. Denney, president of the Erie, and L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central.

Today's meeting was the first of a series of rail executive sessions scheduled for this week, which are expected to yield some important developments bearing upon railroad problems. Presidents of the Eastern roads will confer tomorrow on proposals to effect further wage reductions among union and unorganized employes. The 10 per cent wage cut accepted by the unions early this year expires on February 1 and the executives are said to feel that another cut must be made in consequence of the further heavy slump in earnings this year.

The third meeting, scheduled for Friday, will be for a further discussion of the Interstate Commerce Commission's modified four-system Eastern trunk line consolidation plan. This will be attended by the heads of the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and the Van Sweringen roads.

ALL STOCK PRICES UP TO SUMMER'S PEAKS

171,000,000 bushels under last year's crop.

Cotton again forged ahead to new high levels for the recovery, as bankers were still working on the plan of forming a credit corporation to facilitate the financing of the movement of the raw staple to the mills. Extreme gains of around $1.50 a bale were not maintained, but final prices were up 85 to 95 cents a bale. Some quarters in the textile trade have noted a substantial improvement in the demand for cotton cloths this week.

A substantial assortment of miscellaneous commodities again joined the advance, after moderate setbacks in the previous session. Raw sugar, crude rubber, silk, hides, silver futures, and other lines were in the procession of advancing prices.

Midweek business statistics, it was pointed out in some quarters, indicated clearly that the upward movement was based on hopes of business recovery rather than any clear indications of it in important barometers thus far. The weekly reports of electric power production and steel ingot output showed slight recessions from the previous week, and the weekly reports of freight movement on the New York Central and Pennsylvania were off somewhat from a week ago.

Nevertheless, bulls were confident that scattering signs of improvement, notably in textiles, would broaden to include many lines by September. The steel trade reviews again stressed confidence in the industry that it would see a turn after Labor Day.

Rome, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Rising quotations on the New York Stock Exchange have been accompanied by a general increase in the price of Italian stocks, which during the first week of August made an average gain of approximately one point, figuring the whole list and the business done on all Italian exchanges.

Food Poisons Texas Governor.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Gov. R. S. Sterling, who has been conducting a strenuous campaign for reelection, was stricken with food poisoning today and forced to cancel several speaking engagements.

Arlington County Gives 25 Road Jobs

Force Cleaning Streets as Byrd Highway Plan Is Voted Down.

Less than 24 hours after the official results were known that Arlington County had voted its withdrawal from the Byrd road act, County Manager Roy S. Braden had a force of road men in Clarendon yesterday cleaning the streets of the trash.

Braden announced that it will be his purpose to increase the force of 25 men who were given employment yesterday as rapidly as it is possible for him to complete his plans for the continuation of road maintenance.

He stated that one of the first construction projects that will be undertaken by the county will be an approach to the new Memorial Bridge. This, he says, must be started as the Government is pushing the construction of the Virginia approach into the Arlington National Cemetery. He declares that Arlington County should at least provide an adequate approach without any further unnecessary delay.

GOV. POLLARD TALKS WITH R. F. C. CHIEFS

Loan Requests Hinged Upon Result of Corporation Survey in State.

(Associated Press.)

Virginia's relief needs were discussed yesterday by Gov. Pollard with Reconstruction Corporation officials who promised a careful study of the State's condition would be made next week by a corporation agent.

The governor said after his conferences that he was "encouraged" over the prospects of Virginia obtaining Federal aid.

He came here having in mind a $3,500,000 loan for the relief of destitution over the State and $750,000 more asked by the City of Norfolk for constructing two bridges. He said, however, the State's application might involve greater or smaller sums than these.

It will be the duty of the corporation's representatives, after conferences with the governor and other State officials at Richmond on Tuesday to determine where and how much money is needed immediately.

The spots most in need will be reached first, the governor said. "Generally speaking," he said, "the tobacco belt" and such places as Pulaski and Roanoke where industrial conditions are serious are the most needy."

$25,000 Fire Loss At Gaithersburg

Blaze Destroys Furniture Store; Short Circuit Believed Cause.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the undertaking establishment and furniture store of Ernest C. Gartner at Gaithersburg early yesterday. The damage was estimated at $25,000, partially covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Gartner, who was attracted by the glare in the window of her home next door to the store. Mr. Gartner tried to call fire engines, but the fire had eaten away the telephone lines. The Gaithersburg-Washington Grove and Rockville Volunteer Fire Departments responded to the delayed call, but were unable to save the structure.

Fire department officials said they had been unable to determine the cause of fire, but believed it was started by a short circuit in the wiring system.

96 Counties Adopt Byrd Road Scheme

Machinery for New Law Is Set Up; Four Elections Oppose Plan.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The new Virginia secondary system of county roads will be established in 96 of the State's 100 counties, while the remaining four will remain out of the system as a result of votes cast in special elections called by 15 counties on the question of withdrawal.

The four counties voting to remain out of the new system and continue to receive their State gasoline tax allotments were Arlington, Henrico, Warwick and Nottoway.

Eleven others, in which elections yesterday decided they should not withdraw from the system, were Fairfax, Chesterfield, James City, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nelson, Orange, Stafford, New Kent, York and Northampton.

Unofficial returns were complete, all of the counties holding elections excepting two—Lunenburg, where authorities said the new plan carried by a vote of nearly 8 to 1, and James City, which with only one precinct missing out of five, gave 248 for the new plan and 148 against.

Haiti Exploitation Charges Refuted

American U. Speaker Tells Conference of Isle's Progress Under U. S.

Charges of economic exploitation of Haiti by the United States were yesterday characterized as "pure bunk" by Prof. Charles C. Tansill, of American University, discussing "American Imperialism" before the Conference on Hispanic American Affairs of the George Washington University.

American administration has brought about great material progress in Haiti, said Prof. Tansill. He said the yearly income per capita in 1915 in Haiti was $20, leaving "very little to steal." Since then, he said, the country's national revenues have increased from $5,000,000 to $17,000,000 annually.

Building of 1,000 miles of good roads, erection of 12 modern hospitals, operation of 147 country clinics, which treated about 70 per cent of the 2,000,000 natives in 1929, were among numerous accomplishments of American administration in Haiti cited by Prof. Tansill.

Car Death Charged To Edmonston Man

Robert Matsudaira Held in Manslaughter Count in Prince Georges.

Robert Matsudaira, of Edmonston, Md., last night was held for Prince Georges County, Md., grand jury on a manslaughter charge after a coroner's jury declared him responsible for the death of Charles Christiansen, 65, of Hyattsville, Md., in an automobile accident.

Christiansen was killed several weeks ago as he was crossing a Hyattsville street. At the time of the crash, Matsudaira was charged with reckless driving. This charge was dismissed in police court. He was then rearrested on a manslaughter warrant and the coroner's jury impaneled. Magistrate Robert E. Joyce, who conducted the inquest, released Matsudaira on bond of $1000.

RESPONSES TO TAKEOUT DOUBLES AND FOLLOWING BIDS.

THE handling of the bidding, following a Takeout Double, both by the Responding Hand and the Doubler himself, after receiving a minimum response, brings up many questions to the average player. Such questions as when to assist partner's forced bid after having doubled, when to respond to a Double with a bid of one more than necessary, &c., are problems even to good players. Even the great frequently err here.

Let us get to the bottom and work our way up and out. A Takeout Double is, by its very nature, a bid quite different from any other bid in the game. It forces a partner, who has given no indications of any strength whatsoever, to bid. Therefore, queries Mr. Neophyte, and even Mr. Near Expert, "How am I to tell if he has anything, since he must bid anyway?" To answer this problem many players then lean the other way, and jump the bid on any provocation whatsoever after partner has made a Takeout Double.

All better players using the Approach-Forcing System prefer, as a general thing, minimum first responses to a Takeout Double, even holding considerable honor and playing strength. This is in accord with Approach-Forcing principles in all situations. Go slowly and keep the bidding low at the start until some sort of a fit is found—then it is time enough to jump the bid. We will suppose that West has opened the contracting with one club, which North, your partner, doubles. East passes and you, South, hold:

Spades, J 10 6 5 4 Hearts, K 7 2
Diamonds, Q J 4 Clubs 8 3

You obviously must bid spades. You hold 1 honor-trick in addition to a five-card suit and you would have been forced to respond with one spade on a worthless hand containing but four little spades. However, your holding is still not quite strong enough to bid more than one spade until you find out just what your partner's Double consists of. Therefore, one spade is your correct response, but now, should your partner show as much interest as merely to bid two spades, you must bid at least three. As a matter of fact, the hand is close to meriting a bid of four.

Let us take a considerably weaker holding on the same bidding. We will say you hold five spades to the 9 and an outside King. You have responded with one spade. Your partner now bids three spades; you must bid four. Your partner has first doubled and forced you to bid; you have responded with one spade, which might be on a holding as weak as four spades to the six and three small cards in every other suit. He is still willing to bid three spades, taking the chance of undergoing a penalty at three spades with a worthless hand from you, and is pleading with you to bid four. You have in your hand one more spade than he can expect and a King, which holding you can not afford to keep a secret from him. You must bid four.

In other words, in revaluing your hand after having made a forced response to a Takeout Double, you can practically disregard your forced response as having given any indication of strength to your partner. Therefore, any additional values above a four-card suit merit consideration and a further bid if your partner shows interest in your making one. Have confidence in your partner's Takeout Doubles. He, in turn, should never shade the requirements for a Double and should never tamper with the Takeout Double as such. Many fine players who are prone to make psychic bids will bid all sorts of weak suits, will bid notrump without stoppers, but will practically never make an unsound Takeout Double, for they know that in so doing they will make their partner lose confidence in what is one of the strongest offensive weapons after the opponents have opened the bidding. The Double is in itself a strong defense against opposing psychics. If one of your opponents has opened the bidding and a partner in whom you have confidence now doubles for a takeout and you hold, we will say, some 3½ honor-tricks, you can be certain that the Opening bid was a bluff. The Rule of Eight will expose the Opening Hand.

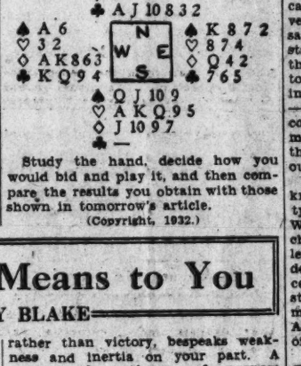
Today's Pointer.

The Takeout Double, a declaration requiring partner to respond even on a trickless hand, is one of the most effective weapons in Bridge strategy. It should always guarantee a minimum of honor strength, and with unbalanced holdings, a fair escape suit, provided partner's forced response does not find support in the Doubler's hand.

Tomorrow's Hand.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.



Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"LEO."

IF August 11 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a. m. to 11:10 a. m., from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m., and from 10 p. m. to 11:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 1 p. m. to 3:35 p. m., and from 8:30 p. m. to 9:40 p. m.

You will not draw a blank on August 11 from the augury of the stars. Something of a startling nature will leave its imprint for some time to come. This is likely to be impersonal in character and widespread in interest. A day mainly suitable for attending to material matters. Unsuitable time to spring new stunts.

Children born on this August 11 will be full of self-importance and very partial to the use of the "first person singular" pronoun. They will in every other way be intelligent and likeable. They will not have very sympathetic natures, and will be guilty of selfishness. They can work hard, if in a working mood.

If August 11 is your birth date, you are a born actress, and it is difficult to tell whether you are acting or living a part. Your make-believes, in time, are apt to become realities to you, until the truth is driven home in some unpleasant manner. Your pursuit of appearance rather than reality, of complacency rather than victory, bespeaks weakness and inertia on your part. A semisensual weakness of purpose seems to make you the boon companion of Tom, Dick and Harry—especially so, if you be a man. The influence of associates will play a great part in the history of your life and character. You run in the direction that your particular "pack" runs, whether it takes you away from your better interests or not.

You will always enjoy a certain amount of popularity, because you are considered good fun. You have a spirit of adventure, particularly so in the pursuit of pleasure. You are not so daring or self-sacrificing, however, when it comes to doing something more profitable.

You will never, as a woman, know the real value of money or things as long as you are not a real breadwinner. A sharp lesson of necessity might bring out some splendid reserves in your character, which will never be revealed otherwise.

Successful People Born on August 11:

1—Owen Nares, film artist.
2—Carrie Jacobs Bond, composer.
3—Clement Studebaker, jr., manufacturer.
4—Robert G. Ingersoll, lawyer and orator.
5—Gifford Pinchot, forester.
6—Burt Green Wilder, scientist.

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

LAMB ON SKEWERS.

(Bureau of Home Economics.)

Perhaps you have eaten the dish called "shish kebaba" in an Armenian or Turkish restaurant, or something like it on a scout bill of fare, for it is a dish that lends itself so well to camp cookery that most boys in scout ranks know how to make it. Having originated in a part of Europe where lamb is the chief meat eaten, shish kebabs are usually made of lamb, and the shoulder cut is the most economical for the purpose, according to this bureau, which recommends shish kebabs in the family menu for a change.

When you buy the meat, the butcher will doubtless give you or sell you for very little a half dozen of the metal skewers which he uses for roasts. Have all the bones removed from the lamb shoulder. Cut pieces of lean meat about 1½ inches square and 1 inch thick from the well-fleshed parts of the shoulder. This meat is actually very tender and is best when quickly cooked. Put four or five of these pieces on a skewer with alternating small squares of bacon. A medium-sized shoulder will provide enough meat for about seven skewers. Lay the kebabs in a dripping pan and broil them from 12 to 15 minutes. Turn frequently for uniform cooking. When the meat is done, season with salt and pepper, and serve at once on the skewers.

Make a broth or stew from the bones and the parts of the shoulder not suited for kebabs, and there will not be any waste.

Receivers Changed For Company Here

New Appointments Made to Handle National Benefit Life.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A change in receivers for the National Benefit Life Insurance Co., a colored organization with headquarters in Washington, D. C., was made today under a consent order signed by Superior Court Judge John D. Humphries.

Lewis A. Irons, State deputy insurance commissioner, and an ancilliary receiver for the company, resigned as receiver for all notes and mortgages, but remains a coreceiver for other assets, including real estate in Atlanta.

Gilbert A. Clark and Frank B. Bryan, of Washington, were appointed coreceivers with Irons. The resignation of Daniel C. Roper as a coreceiver was accepted.

The change in receivers, according to attorneys, is for the purpose of unifying control of the assets in all States and for issuing modified insurance contracts to continue in force the insurance issued in Georgia.

Special to The Washington Post.

Camp Ritchie, Cascade, Md., Aug. 10.—Annual regimental day was observed today by the 121st Engineers Unit of the District National Guard, on the third day of encampment here.

Regimental day has long been a tradition and is held the first Wednesday of each year's encampment. Lieut. Col. Julian S. Solif was master of ceremonies.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

Black velvet, silver lah-may and gray satin make an evening gown of the jumper type. (A Dah-ray design.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The huge handkerchief for evening is appearing again . . . oh, very timidly, indeed, but there, nevertheless. 'Tis just too lovely and graceful a thing for Miladi to be willing to give up, I think. Until women learn to smoke cigarettes with the same grace with which they use a fan the large and wistful handkerchief will be their most helpful accessory to the graceful use of the hands.

A lovely lady wielded the handkerchief sketched for you today with the most telling effect! Displaying to the observing the real lace medallions that were appliqued to the handkerchief, displaying as well the fact that the cuffs of her evening gloves were of chiffon, as was the handkerchief, and that matching lace medallions were appliqued to them, too. The whole, a charming ensemble, was excellent taste and art. Congratulations, Madame!

• • • •

Speaking of hankies, or were we? My own evening hankie, to be chic, must be very, very tiny or very, very large. What? Of course, they are not for use. The very idea! A lovely lady never admits a nose in public, save to dab it with powder! Why, the most adorable evening hankie I own shows a 10-inch border of lace around a 4-inch square of white satin; and if one jus' mus' have the sniffles, coat pockets and evening bags are the place for that kind of a hankie, and the rest room the place for its use.

• • • •

You'll hear a lot about velvety suedes for the coming winter, in coat materials. This and crepey woolens are particularly new and certainly very attractive.

• • • •

Have a hat on me, willya? Your last year's fall hats are hopeless, m' deah, hopeless, for this autumn and winter. But with my expert help you can have new hats out of them, in the very latest style, and with no expense, save the trouble of sending your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post. Yes, you can remodel them into the latest styles from this leaflet—expert seamstress or not. Or, of course, you can send them to be remodeled if you wish; but be sure that the person who remodels them has our leaflet!

Velvet is the thing for fall, as you know. Even in the tailored afternoon type of thing, like the delightful Worth model, consisting of a white chiffon velvet skirt and matching bolero, with three-quarter sleeves. This delightful ensemble is completed by a cerise red velvet scarf which ties in a stiff little bow at the throat—and is matched with a red velvet hat from Agnes. Doesn't it sound lovely, all of it?

Shades of the jumper dress! Yes, appearing in the Dah-ray design I offer you today—an evening gown showing a black velvet skirt which appears to be held up in both the front and back by silver suspenders, silver buttons, and nowhere other silver, save in the lower sleeves! The bodice and upper sleeves are of gray satin. And Madame Inscrutable is an ash—not platinum blonde!

Au revoir.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

I AM letting you in on some "deep, dark secrets" gleaned from the inventor of one of the most successful permanent waving machines on the market. He pooh-poohs so-called self-setting permanents with the sweeping statement "no such thing." The success of a wave, he says, "depends upon four things—first, a good operator, then a good machine, good materials and good texture of hair to work with."

Permanent waving machines have been perfected, the work itself is becoming quite an art, it is safer and more successful than it was a decade ago. Fewer burns, fewer kinks, greater lasting qualities, more life and luster to the hair after a good permanent in spite of the old prejudice that a permanent, any permanent, leaves the hair dry and dull. Even hair that has been dyed, bleached or henna'd can now be successfully waved. But it takes an expert operator to determine the right timing and to control the heat properly. Notwithstanding all that, some hair is so lifeless and in such poor condition that it will not take a permanent successfully. But, according to the expert mentioned above, comparatively few operators are candid enough to tell a customer so, feeling that said customer is in the mood for a permanent and will probably get it across the street or around the corner at another salon if she is told her hair will not "take" or that it is advisable to get some scalp massage or hair conditioning treatments before the wave.

Lengthening the Life of the Wave.

Not alone that, but it is not fair to judge the wave unless the customer herself knows how to "play with her permanent," as this expert expresses it. If your purse will permit, it's fine to have your hair shampooed and set weekly. But between shampoos and settings, unless you learn to push and press the waves neatly in place, unless you spray a little oil or water over the hair and coax and train it, your permanent will not be completely satisfactory.

Remember, too, that it is just as important to keep the hair trimmed neatly, to have it thinned out occasionally, to keep scalp and hair in condition with frequent massage or hot oil treatments, if necessary, after the permanent as it is to have the hair in ship-shape before the wave. To some women a permanent means the end of hair care. Quite the contrary. For lasting loveliness, for that youthful coiffure molded along the lines of the head (instead of an unkempt, bushy appearance), a permanent needs care and coaxing.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

HAS YOUR BABY CRADLE CAP?

WITH the coming of summer there was an increase in the number of letters from mothers asking what to do for that disfiguring and annoying scalp trouble known as cradle cap tetter, or eczema. It affects young children and older babies and, occasionally, even the very young. It is not seasonal, but there is more of it in the summertime, and when it is present it is more annoying during the hot weather. While the head is its favorite location, it may appear on the face and, in rare cases, on other parts of the body.

No good purpose is served by saying that it is caused by foods, because everybody knows that. It is worth while having the people know that it is curable. Any mother whose baby has it can be certain what the trouble is, what causes it, and how it can be cured. Those questions are settled. What she has to decide is, is the cure worth what it costs in effort and risk. If she decides that it is she must next settle on the details she will carry out, learn how to employ them and, finally, undertake the job and carry it through.

It is known that almost every case is caused by the milk and cream in the baby's diet. Perfect mother's milk does not escape the blame in many cases, the fault being with the baby. Some babies are so sensitized to milk that they develop tetter regardless of the source of the food supply.

In some instances the trouble is caused by one ingredient of the milk, such as the fat or the sugar, and all that is required for cure is for the mother to remove the ingredient. For instance, some babies have no cradle cap when they live on skim milk. Many, however, must be changed from milk to some baby food with which no cow's milk is mixed either by the mother or by the manufacturer.

In many cases the mother chooses between the disease and the cure. The eruption looks unsightly and the baby scratches it, but, on the other hand, for a baby the milk diet is proper and finding substitutes is difficult and sometimes hazardous. In many cases to make this change in diets is wise. In others it is not.

Some cases can be cured or kept within moderate bounds by the use of coal tar salves with no change in the diet, and to follow this method may show judgment on the mother's part.

A common recipe is:
Crude coal tar, 2 parts.
Zinc oxide, 2 parts.
Starch, 16 parts.
Paraffin, 16 parts.

This ointment must be black. If it is greenish it is apt to do more harm than good. For years we have sent to those who inclosed a stamped and addressed envelope a slightly different recipe which many have written they were satisfied with, though occasionally they had trouble in having it made right. This ointment is smeared on twice daily. If small pustules appear it is well to change the crude coal tar of the mixture to a product made by passing steam through crude coal tar. When made with this the mixture does not appear to be quite as effective, but pustulation does not occur.

ABOUT T. B. TESTS.

H. C. W. writes: 1. What is the meaning of "acid fast" in a sputum examination?

2. What is the meaning and significance of moist rales?

REPLY.

1. When the tubercle bacillus has been stained for microscopic examination, and the stained specimen is washed with a dilute acid, the bacillus is not bleached. We say it is "acid fast," meaning that the stained bacillus is not readily discolored by acid. While there are other acid fast bacilli, not many of them are liable to be confused with the tubercle bacillus in sputum examinations.

2. In listening to the chest sounds, a peculiar bubbling sound is sometimes heard. It is known as moist rales and it is caused by air bubbling through mucus as, for instance, sputum. This sound is heard in pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and other troubles. If it is heard only in the upper part of the chest it is regarded as a good indication of consumption.

B. E. F. RIOTS LEAD TO REPERCUSSIONS

Protesting Writers Unable to See Hoover; U. S. Agents' Incitation Denied.

Two repercussions of the bonus army's eviction came yesterday. Both the Department of Justice and the Secret Service vigorously denied a charge by veterans that their agents had incited the rioting. At the White House a delegation of five writers left a protest against the President's use of troops in evacuating the army.

The charge that Federal agents were planted in the bonus army to provoke a riot was made by Jerry W. Wilford, a leader of a group of the B. E. F. It was made in the form of an affidavit, which was presented to the grand jury now investigating the bloodshed.

W. H. Moran, chief of the Secret Service, termed the statement "absolutely absurd." He said that several of his agents openly aided Treasury officials seeking to evict the veterans from Federal property and that their identity was not concealed. J. Edgar Hoover, of the Department of Justice, stated that none of his men were at any time assigned to the veterans' camps.

The writers who attempted unsuccessfully to see the President were headed by Sherwood Anderson. The delegation included James Rorty, poet; William Jones, colored editor; Waldo Frank, novelist, and Elliot E. Cohen, secretary of the National Committee for the Defense of Political Prisoners.

To their written statement of protest was added a further protest against the refusal of Mr. Hoover to see them.

There were met by Theodore G. Joslin, a secretary to the President. He told them unofficially that the President did his duty in calling in soldiers against rioters. The writers were watched by Washington police, who later reported that they went to a Communist headquarters when they left the White House.

United States Attorney Leo A. Rover said yesterday that the grand jury investigation was nearly over. He said indictments might be returned next week, but that he did not know whether the body would return a special report.

Rotarians Told Of Airport Here

58 Scheduled Trips Recorded Daily in Capital Warrington Says.

Washington's position as a leading air center was described yesterday in a talk by Chester H. Warrington before members of the Washington Rotary Club. He pointed out that besides daily air traffic in and out of the city, 58 scheduled trips are made each day from the local airport.

Mr. Warrington outlined plans for the Cleveland Air Derby, which will start from Hoover Field August 21, and urged all Washingtonians to attend the take-offs.

Visiting Rotarians from other cities were guests of honor at the meeting. Harlan Randall, director of music at American University, gave vocal selections.

CLARKE SHOT SELF, LANCASTER REPEATS

"'What was that, Haden?' I asked.

"I heard a gurgling noise from the bed. Fumbling for a light, I turned it on.

"There was Haden lying on the bed. Blood was streaming about his chin. I jumped from my bed and ran to his."

He said he shook Clarke by the shoulder, but "there was no reply."

Asked by James Carson, his attorney, if the pistol was in Clarke's hands, he said it was "not in his hand. His right hand was across his breast—the pistol lay beside his right hip."

Mrs. Keith-Miller had said in her testimony earlier in the trial that she and Clarke had once discussed suicide.

Lancaster said the last place he saw the pistol before the shooting was "on the table between our beds. I had unpacked it that night and we had talked about it."

He said Clarke had asked him what he was going to do about a gun he had borrowed from a friend here and which he pawned.

"I showed him the new one," Lancaster said.

"Haden picked it up and I remember distinctly telling him to look out, it was loaded."

After he was aroused by the shot, he said he "looked around the room—out in the hall—on the table. I could see no notes or anything to indicate what had happened.

Wrote Two Suicide Notes.

"Then I sat down and wrote two suicide notes. I don't remember the words. I asked Haden if he could sign them.

"There was no answer but a groan, and Clarke's head moved feebly back and forth.

"Then I did something I shouldn't have done. I called Chubbie—there was no answer—I took a pencil and signed the notes, one 'Haden' and one with the initial 'H.'"

He said he then went to Mrs. Keith-Miller's room and told her what had happened. He described the arrival of Attorney Ernest Huston, whom he said he called, ambulance men, and Dr. Carlton Deederer, who was called by the aviatrix.

Lancaster told of a quarrel he and Clarke had had at the dinner table on the night of the shooting.

"Haden Nearly Wept."

Lancaster said Clarke eventually got control of his temper and admitted that Lancaster was right in an accusation that he had not acted the part of a gentleman in his dealings with Mrs. Keith-Miller.

Later, "Haden nearly wept when he told me how their love had grown, and about his position at that time with regard to Mrs. Keith-Miller," Lancaster said.

Lancaster said he and Clarke discussed the latter's past "in great detail, since it had a direct bearing on his love for Mrs. Keith-Miller."

The witness said also that Clarke "dwelt at considerable length on lack of finances," and also expressed worry about the financial condition of his mother, Mrs. Ida Clyde Clarke, of Miami.

Lancaster testified he loved Mrs. Keith-Miller "more than anything in the world" and that on his Western trip in search of funds he was less worried about a reported love affair between her and Clarke than he was about his failure to get funds to send her.

EX-PASTOR INDICTED FOR MURDER

CURB ON ARMAMENT MAKERS ADVOCATED

Nations Urged to Regulate Private Manufacture of War Instruments.

Control by individual nations of private maanufacture of the major instruments of war was proposed by Thomas Bell, of Toronto, Canada, and Col. George A. Drew, commander of the Eleventh Field Brigade, Canadian Artillery, before the National Fraternal Congress of America, at the Mayflower Hotel yesterday.

President Hoover and R. B. Bennett, prime minister of Canada, were viewed by Mr. Bell as the potential leaders in such a program. Mr. Bell is a member of the Ontario legislative assembly, and a past president of the Canadian Fraternal Association.

"First," he said, "the facts should be presented to the fraternal congresses of both countries, having a membership of 8,000,000. They should be shown how paid emissaries and agents of private manufacturers of armaments have reaped profits by encouraging preparation for war.

"Then, there would be a demand for carrying forward of a plan under which each nation would reduce and control the manufacture of the major instruments of war. If this control is not realized there will be another war in five years," Mr. Bell predicted.

Mr. Hall praised President Hoover for his work in the interest of disarmanent.

Col. Drew told the congress that since the war the large nations have spent enormous sums on armaments and increased their defense machinery 70 per cent each year.

The resolutions committee of the congress last night drafted a resolution expressing accord with the plan. The delegates will vote on it today.

Bus Lines Authorized To Change Their Routes

The joint board of District Commissioners and the Public Utilities Commission yesterday authorized the Washington, Barcroft & Alexandria and the Arlington & Fairfax bus lines to change their routes tomorrow on account of the scheduled closing of Thirteenth street below Pennsylvania avenue.

Both lines will turn east on Constitution avenue from Fourteenth street, but the Alexandria buses will then turn north on Twelfth street to E and proceed to the terminal on Tenth street, whereas the Fairfax buses will turn north off Constitution avenue at Tenth street.

District's Income To Show Big Drop

Personal Property Taxes Off $982,580, July Returns Indicate.

The District government's income from personal property taxes, based on returns filed in July, will fall $982,580 under last year's revenue, Deputy Assessor Charles A. Russell said yesterday. This, however, is a much smaller loss than was predicted a few weeks ago by tax officials.

Returns filed within the month totaled $5,000 and will furnish $2,933,627 in taxes as against $3,916,207 collected during the fiscal year 1932. They exceeded by 4,000 the returns filed for the same period last year.

Tangible property tax fell from $1,369,159 to $1,017,259, whereas the intangible property levy dropped from $2,547,048 to $1,916,368. The difference between the income last year and that expected this year will be further cut by increased and tentative assessments, which in 1932 totaled 2,500 and 10,000, respectively.

Schofield Gives Up Command of Fleet

Admiral Leigh Succeeds Him Amid Colorful Rites on Flagship.

San Pedro, Calif., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Old nautical customs were revived on the spacious quarter deck on the flagship Pennsylvania today as the command of the United States Fleet passed from Admiral Frank H. Schofield to Admiral Richard H. Leigh.

Nineteen admirals, 200 line officers and 300 naval enlisted men under guard of honor of Marines stood at attention as the admirals piped aboard and each received his ruffles and flourishes of drums and trumpets. As the four-starred flag of Admiral Schofield was hauled down a cannon thundered a salute and another was fired as Admiral Leigh's four-starred flag was run to the masthead.

Admiral Leigh received two orders, one from Secretary of the Navy Charles F. Adams relieving him of command of the United States Battle Force and the other from President Hoover appointing him to the post of commander in chief of the United States Fleet.

ARMY STORE SALES CURBED BY RULING

Limitation of Competition With Private Shops Is Ordered.

(Associated Press.)

Restrictions upon the Army personnel to whom goods may be sold by post exchanges have been ordered by the War Department.

This action was based upon an amendment attached to the last War Department appropriation bill which arose out of the contention of private dealers in the vicinity of Army posts that the exchanges were actively competing with them for the business which normally would be theirs.

Under the regulations the department said yesterday sales may be made only to enlisted men of the regular army, of the Reserve Corps when on active duty, and of the National Guard when in Federal service and to their families; to retired enlisted men of the Regular Army and their families; to organizations of the Regular Army, of the Reserve Corps when on active duty, and of the National Guard in Federal service; to troops which include officers of these three organizations; to warrant officers; to Army nurses, and to members of the Citizens Military Training Corps and the Reserve Officers Training Corps when actually in attendance at camps.

Prohibitions Are Listed.

The instructions prohibit sales to personnel, or organizations of the Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Public Health Service and Light House Service; to retired personnel except enlisted men of the regular Army and their families; to contract surgeons, to discharged personnel receiving treatment from the Veterans Bureau, and to hospital matrons.

Some limitations also are placed upon the articles that will be sold in the post exchanges.

Lawton, Okla., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A veritable civilian "army" of Lawton merchants registered their protest against alleged competition from the Government today at a hearing conducted by Representative Joseph B. Shannon (Democrat), Missouri, into the sales of Army post stores at Fort Sill, near here.

Capt. Frank E. Shaw and Capt. Josiah Wallace, manager of the Fort Sill exchange, were present at the hearing. The Army's side of the case will be reached later.

"Black List" Cited.

A high light in the testimony was a statement by W. J. Wilson, Lawton tailor shop manager, who was wounded in the World War, that he was placed on the "black list" at Fort Sill, making it impossible for him to do business there.

He told Mr. Shannon he had not learned why this was done, saying, "I can get work at Fort Sill, but can't collect for it unless I am on the collection sheet."

It was explained that battery officers arranged for Lawton merchants to be placed on the collection sheets and that 10 per cent was charged for this favor.

City Chiefs Check Budgets for 1934

Commissioners Force Rigid Economies in Departmental Estimates.

The District Commissioners are exercising the most rigid economy in considering the 1934 departmental estimates, it was indicated yesterday when some of the department heads were called before them for executive conferences. Capt. E. N. Chisolm, jr., acting director of Public Buildings and Public Parks, and Justice James M. Proctor, of District Supreme Court were among those interviewed.

Daniel E. Garges, secretary of the board, estimated the commissioners will not complete their recheck of the special economy committee's recommendations before tomorrow afternoon.

It is expected the estimate of $47,200,000 will be reduced considerably by the time it reaches the budget bureau.

Plans for Unveiling Of Statue Completed

The erection of grand stands about the memorial statue of Cardinal Gibbons, Sixteenth and Park road northwest, will complete arrangements for the unveiling ceremonies to be held Sunday, it was announced last night by Dr. Frank D. Shyne, chairman of the committee, conducting final details.

Many out-of-town delegations are expected to participate in a mammoth parade under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. Headed by the Marine and United States Army Bands, the procession will march from Sixteenth and Florida avenue northwest, and past a reviewing stand at Park road.

COBLENTZ PERJURY CHARGE DROPPED

District Also Withdraws Conspiracy Indictment of Former Banker.

Emory L. Coblentz, Maryland banker and politician, will not have to face charges of aiding and abetting in perjury and conspiracy to obstruct justice which were contained in an indictment returned against him and others in the District Supreme Court July 6, 1931.

Neil Burkinshaw, who has appeared for the Government in the F. H. Smith Co. prosecutions, yesterday went before Justice James M. Proctor and notified him that the prosecution wished to drop the indictment against Coblentz. The motion was granted.

Coblentz was one of the Government's witnesses in the trial of Frank G. Raichle on charges of obstruction of justice and subornation of perjury. Raichle's trial came to a halt when Justice F. Dickinson Letts, trial justice, directed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal.

Others who were indicted with Coblentz were G. Bryan Pitts, one-time Smith company head; John H. Edwards, a former vice president of the company; Helen L. Schneider, Pitts' private secretary, and H. O. Hart, an accountant.

Unemployed Will Clean Vacated Bonus Areas

George S. Wilson, director of public welfare, yesterday informed the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks that unemployed laborers will be assigned to clean up the parks recently vacated by the bonus marchers as soon as the needs of the District government are met.

Applicants for relief at the old Metropolitan Methodist Church, John Marshall place and C street, are being given jobs as rapidly as possible by the District committee on employment.

MONARCHISTS DRIVEN BACK BY LOYALISTS IN MADRID

max at dawn yesterday when rebels and loyalists met in battle before the ministry of war, in which Prime Minister Manuel Azana has his office.

Government authorities had been informed in advance an attack was imminent, and the attackers were met by bursts of machine-gun fire from detachments of the Madrid police under the command of Director of Public Safety Menendez.

The action started when two automobiles loaded with rebels drove up in front of the ministry. These men were soon dispersed by the fire of the defenders under the personal command of Director Menendez.

Soon they returned with reinforcements and the action which followed took in not only the war ministry building but also the headquarters of the telephone company and the communications building.

The fighting lasted more than an hour. The Cibeles plaza and adjoining streets were raked by machine gun bullets. In addition to the eight men killed, seven were wounded.

A few hours later people were passing on their way to work as usual and only the fact that Madrid was under heavy guard signified what had happened earlier in the morning. But elsewhere in Spain things were different.

Smaller Town Also Taken.

Gen. Sanjurjo seized the government offices in Seville and also took control of the smaller town of Jerez de la Frontera to the south, where he set up rebel headquarters. The naval garrison at Cartagena on the southeast coast was reported to have mutinied. Civil guards of the southern provinces, including Cordoba and Algeciras, threw their strength behind the rebel movement.

Reports from Seville were that Gen. Sanjurjo, who had proclaimed himself captain-general of Andalusia, was prepared to resist all efforts by the government to dislodge him. It also was reported that regular army troops at Cautas and other Andalusian points had declared themselves against the republic and for Sanjurjo.

Premier Azana informed the congress that the movement was monarchist in origin and that it resulted from efforts to suborn the soldiers. The premier asserted the rebels would be punished by all measures within the law.

Strong Guards Posted.

Strong guards were posted at Valencia, Ciudad Real, Orense, Granada and Malaga. Similar actiin was taken at Barcelona, the capital of Catalonia, Spain's most important industrial province, where Col. Francisco Macia, the president, declared his adherence to the republic in a telegram to Madrid officials.

Labor appeared to be standing by the republic. The syndicalists announced that if the monarchists gained control they would start a general strike throughout Spain. The Socialist General Workers Union called a mass meeting to declare a 24-hour strike in protest against monarchist rebellion. Delegates were sent to working-class districts to urge workmen to have nothing to do with the rebel movement.

Sanjurjo Picks Cabinet.

Reports from Seville said Gen. Sanjurjo had issued a tentative cabinet list and a proclamation of his program, which includes adherence to republican principles as long as they were beneficial to the country.

The government moved swiftly to stamp out the Sanjurjo rebellion in Andalusia, also adopting precautionary measures throughout Spain to avert further Rightist propaganda.

Gov. Emanuel Gonzalez Lopez at Cordoba received orders from the Madrid government to take charge of the Province of Seville. He issued a proclamation calling on the people to disobey Gen. Sanjurjo's forces.

Premier Azana said loyal troops had encountered some of Gen. Sanjurjo's forces, but there were no details of the conflict.

The arrest at Cadiz of Capt. Jose Leon Carranza, Capt. Rafael Manzano and four others suspected of sympathizing with the revolt was announced.

A Cordoba dispatch said civil guards in Lora Del Rio seized a train carrying military engineers who had been ordered by Gen. Sanjurjo to blow up a bridge.

In its program to restrict Rightist propaganda to a minimum, the government indefinitely suspended a number of Madrid newspapers.

In Barcelona, crowds thronged the streets last night in a demonstration of the Republican regime. Francisco Macia, president of the Catalonian Generality, sent telegrams to the Madrid government announcing his adherence to the republic.

The action started when two automobiles loaded with rebels drove up in front of the ministry. These men were soon dispersed by the fire of the defenders under the personal command of Director Menendez.

The government appointed delegates to direct and censor all national telegraphic news agencies. It ordered the censors to bar all news concerning troop mobilizations, the activities of Sanjurjo, or the situation.

The Spanish Republic was proclaimed August 14, 1931, after efforts to save the crown from collapse by returning to constitutional government had failed.

Powers Surrendered.

The powers of state were surrendered by the monarchy to the revolutionary committee which set up a provisional government, and called general elections for a constitutional assembly.

This assembly met July 14, 1931, and on December 9 the constitution was adopted. Since then there has been almost continuous debate on the Catalonian statute, which would provide limited autonomy for Catalonia, and on agrarian reforms.

The policy of Premier Azana has in general been one of moderation. He was counseled careful deliberation before putting through the agrarian program, and the agrarians in the Cortes have been in opposition because they were elected by voters who expected the revolution to mean the immediate parcelling of land.

Spanish Royal Family Silent on Revolution

Fontainebleau, France, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Former King Alfonso of Spain, in exile here with his family, is spending a vacation in Czechoslovakia at Chateau Koenigsberg as the guest of Princess Battenberg. He is not expected to return before the end of the month.

There was no comment on today's uprising in Spain from Queen Victoria or her sons, Jamie and Gonzalo, the only members of the family here. The two royal princesses, Beatrix and Cristina, are on vacation in Ireland.

Telegrapher's "Play" Warns of Rebellion

Madrid, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A telegrapher at Seville emerged today as the Republican hero of the rebellion.

Captured by the rebel forces and under the surveillance of civil guards, he jested with his captors and, while pretending to play idly with the key of his sending apparatus, flashed news of the uprising to the central government.

Spanish Civil Guards Mutiny to Join Rebels

Jerez de la Frontera, Spain, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The local garrison of the civil guard mutinied here today and many of the men left for the north to join a rebellion headed by Gen. Sanjurjo at Seville.

There was brief public manifestation against the uprising by the guards when a group of civilians attacked the guard headquarters.

Assembly Gives Spanish Regime Confidence Vote

London, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A Madrid dispatch to the Reuters (British) News Agency tonight said a vote of confidence had been given the Spanish government by acclamation in the National Assembly after Premier Azana outlined the situation.

Collateral Hopes Cause Auto Chase

Driver Speeds to Friend to Get Release Fund; Now Faces Two Counts.

Anticipation of events to follow appeared to be the chief trouble between Percy W. Biggs, real estate saleman, and Policeman J. A. Wentz, it came out yesterday before Judge J. P. McMahon in Police Court.

The policeman complained that he had to chase Biggs at a rapid pace along Wisconsin avenue before he could bring him under arrest. He said Biggs disregarded his hail at the outset of the chase and turned out his lights and kept going.

The defendant explained that when he saw he was being trailed by a policeman he knew he was going to be taken on a speeding charge and wanted to get to the home of a friend where he could raise collateral before he submitted. He was fined $10 for driving without lights and demanded jury trial on charges of driving without a permit and reckless driving.

Injuries of Two Blamed on Rain

One Woman Hurt as Car Skids; Another, Blinded, Struck by Cab.

The brief but heavy rainstorm about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon was blamed for two automobile accidents in which two women were injured.

She was taken to Emergency Hospital, where it was found her nose had been fractured. The Lake automobile struck another operated by Emmett Galloway, of 418 Webster street northwest.

Head injuries and shock were suffered by Mrs. Ida N. Drake, of 1444 N street northwest, when she stepped into the path of a taxicab after alighting from a street car at Fourteenth and N streets northwest. She was apparently blinded by the rain. She was treated at Emergency Hospital.

London's Decision Awaited at Ottawa

Economic Parley Progress Held Up Pending Word on Tariff Plans.

Ottawa, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The imperial economic conference waited today for Britain to announce what tariff preferences she is willing to give Canadian products and whether she will restrict her imports from Russia.

Ever since the conference opened the United Kingdom has been silent on the advantages that her markets hold for the dominions. There is no expectation that Canada will elaborate her offer of tariff preferences to Britain until the British produce something tangible in return.

The London government is known to be desirous of diverting trade from Russia to the dominions, but whether this feeling will be translated into an agreement with Canada is uncertain.

Two Bank Robbers Kill Cashier's Son

Slain When He Attempts to Resist Gunmen in Wisconsin.

Doylestown, Wis., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Joseph Kirley, son of W. J. Kirley, cashier of the Doylestown State Bank, was shot and killed late today, when he resisted two gunmen who were attempting to rob the bank.

The slayers escaped in a small coupe.

Kirley's father told Sheriff A. E. Gilbert, of Columbia County, that he and his son were alone in the bank when the robbers entered.

The cashier said he threw up his hands, but his son attempted to strike one of the men. Both robbers opened fire, the elder Kirley said.

A SOUND RELIEF POLICY.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is steadily gaining prestige. It has assumed the attitude of a business organization, and stanchly refuses to become a mere dispenser of doles. The refusal of the corporation to grant Pennsylvania a relief loan on the request of Gov. Pinchot has had a salutary effect upon public opinion. Every applicant has been put on notice that this relief agency is not in the business of giving handouts to those officials who can put the most appealing whine in their voices.

The policy of aiding only those States which have taken reasonable measures to help themselves has been severely criticized in some quarters. But it is not necessary for the corporation to take cognizance of these complaints. They come from fanatical cliques that make a business of spreading propaganda for Federal doles. The new relief agency is to be complimented on drawing fire from the Treasury-raiders so early in its career.

Criticism of the corporation's dealings with Pennsylvania exposes the real intent of the dole seekers. They would like to influence the relief agency to lend all available money to the first applicants so that new demands could be made upon Congress. The $300,000,000 which was appropriated for loans to States unable to finance their own relief programs is regarded as only the first installment on a gigantic Federal handout to every one in need.

But the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has given assurance that every application will be scrutinized. States will not be allowed to shift the burden of raising relief funds to the Government when their own resources are ample. Some States have made preposterous demands. Arizona, for example, requested a loan of $45,000,000, the maximum that any State can obtain. This would amount to considerably more than $100 for each of Arizona's 435,513 inhabitants. It is well for the States to understand that Congress has not provided a luxury fund to aid all people whether or not they are in need.

Stringent regulations of the fund available for State loans indicates that the relief agency will be equally zealous in the administration of other funds entrusted to its care. Money will be available for self-liquidating projects of an unquestionable character, and for economically sound measures to finance agricultural commodities. But any one who regards the Finance Corporation as a source of easy money will be disappointed. It is a rehabilitation agency, not a dispenser of sops to the disgruntled. Public confidence in the relief board will remain at a high level if it deals with every situation as decisively and as independently as it did with Gov. Pinchot's unwarranted request.

UNJUST ECONOMY.

When Congress enacted the economy measure it gave Comptroller General McCarl one of the most difficult jobs that he has ever had. The act itself is brief. It gives the comptroller general a wide range of discretion, which he has not hesitated to use. Application of any pay-reducing plan to hundreds of different groups working under varying conditions would be difficult. When the law itself is replete with conflicting and inequitable provisions, the task of applying it becomes onerous indeed.

It is not the fault of Comptroller General McCarl that 194 rulings have been necessary to determine the rights of Government employes under this act. The comptroller has attempted to interpret the law as it is written and to carry out the intentions of Congress in passing it. His decision that a pay reduction of one-eleventh must be made where the five-day week is used in preference to extended furloughs is difficult to reconcile with the popular conception of the economy act. But Mr. McCarl seems to have found ample justification for this ruling in the law.

As a result of this penalty charged for use of the five-day week the Civil Service Commission has abandoned its plans to refrain from work on Saturdays. It is understood that the Labor Department will continue on the five-day basis, in spite of this handicap, in order to encourage the general adoption of shorter working hours. Fortunately, each commission and department is allowed to determine for itself how the furlough should be applied. The wishes of employes ought to be the first consideration in a decision of that kind. Shorter hours carry the same general effect, whether on a daily, weekly or yearly basis.

In another important case where it appeared that his first interpretation of the statute would work a real hardship on many Government workers and handicap the Federal service, Mr. McCarl did not hesitate to reverse a decision. If the previous ruling that legislative furloughs had to be used up before administrative furloughs could be applied had remained effective, many dismissals would have been inevitable. The new decision allows department heads to use administrative furloughs "whenever the needs of the service may require," regardless of whether or not legislative furloughs have been taken.

Many inequities in the act apparently can not be ironed out by interpretations of the comptroller general. For example, employes in the seed loan division of the Department of Agriculture are subjected to an 8 1-3 per cent pay reduction, but they have to work six days per week with no vacations. Many who are paid meager salaries are required to work overtime. These conditions come dangerously near the stretch-out system which Congress so vigorously condemns when practiced in private industry.

About the only virtue in the economy act is that it remains in effect for only one year. Even so, Congress will undoubtedly be asked to correct some of its indefensible blunders at the session in December.

BOARD OF TRADE STATEMENT.

The Washington Board of Trade has performed a national service by setting forth the facts regarding the assembling and dispersal of the so-called bonus army. The Board of Trade is composed of 3,800 business and commercial men of the National Capital. It is not only nonpartisan, but as an agency in promoting the welfare of the Capital it necessarily takes into account Federal as well as local interest. The board extends its "heartiest commendation" to the President for "his prompt action in dispersing the several thousand invaders of the community when their riotous behavior placed them beyond control of the civil authorities and endangered the lives and property of our citizens as well as the peace and safety of the Nation's Capital."

The board calls attention to the unavoidable neglect of regular police work because of the extra demands upon the Police Department resulting from the presence of thousands of idle men, many of them lawbreakers. The patience and tact of the local authorities in dealing with the difficult situation are duly noted. The board then adds:

> The board is in no way passing upon the merits or demerits of the cause which these men represent, but in its opinion no useful purpose can result from these invasions of the community. Rather, they result in the alienation of sympathy and in hardships to the participants themselves, and upon the citizens of the city, whether it be Washington or elsewhere. * * *
> The board further expresses the hope that in the national interest, municipal and State authorities will discourage this practice of forcible invasions of communities and that such steps be taken to prevent the recurrence of similar occasions in the National Capital.

Wherever camps of idle men are established they prove to be dangerous to the public health and safety. Sooner or later the authorities will be confronted with the alternative of dispersing these men or suffering outrage at their hands. Civil authorities everywhere would do well to study the temperate and truthful statement of the Washington Board of Trade and take advantage of the warning that is conveyed, which is based upon the actual experience of Washington.

WELL-EARNED PROMOTIONS.

Promotion of the two prosecutors who were instrumental in sending Al Capone and many other Chicago gangsters to prison will meet with general public approval. George E. Q. Johnson, Federal district attorney at Chicago, has earned the judgeship to which he has been appointed by President Hoover, and the same may be said of his special assistant, Dwight H. Green, who now becomes Federal district attorney.

In elevating these two men to higher positions President Hoover undoubtedly considered their records in handling Chicago's hoodlums. Both were vigilant, indefatigable and fearless. Their efforts have broken up one of the most dangerous gangs of outlaws that ever infested an American city. Together with Judge James H. Wilkerson, they deserve credit for bringing to justice, at the risk of their own lives, several master criminals who thought they were above the reach of the law. Such service in the cause of law and order deserves recognition.

These two recess appointments call attention once more to the fact that the Senate adjourned without confirming the nomination of Judge Wilkerson as a member of the Circuit Court of Appeals. Procrastination on the part of the Senate judiciary committee was allowed to stand in the way of Judge Wilkerson's promotion. The subcommittee made a gesture toward further investigation of superficial charges. Apparently some weak-kneed members of the Senate were unwilling to pass on this nomination until after the election.

President Hoover would do well to give Judge Wilkerson a recess appointment. There is nothing to indicate substantial objection to his appointment in the Senate. Failure of the Senate to confirm his appointment during the last session was gross neglect, as a result of which the vacancy in the Circuit Court remains unfilled. In the circumstances President Hoover would be fully justified in giving Judge Wilkerson a temporary appointment. The courts ought not to be weakened or handicapped by vacancies of this kind merely because the Senate is careless in the performance of its duty.

CHINA CONSOLIDATING.

An important change has come over China. For the first time in several years that country has gone through a summer without a civil war. Military campaigns were almost as regular as the seasons until this year. Enormous amounts of money have been spent in this fratricidal fighting, and the country has been kept on the verge of collapse. Now the hordes of "bandits" and war-lord armies seem to have disappeared, and China is engaged with other plans.

China did not give up voluntarily the custom of going into civil war every spring. The National government attempted to secure a loan of $60,000,000 to suppress "bandits" early in the year, and appropriate propaganda was disseminated to prepare the way for these campaigns. But Nanking could not raise the money. Every effort to induce the bankers of Shanghai and other centers to finance the campaign failed. The bankers and millions of Chinese citizens were indignant that the authorities should be plotting a civil war when China was confronted by a foreign enemy in Manchuria.

Consequently, almost nothing has been heard about "bandits" in China this year. Hostilities between the rival factions have been kept under cover for the most part, and extensive efforts have been made to face the Manchurian issue. Chinese who are sick of civil war are eager to fight against the Japanese to recover China's lost province. Attacks in the vicinity of Mukden, Newchwang, Yingow and Liaoyang are growing more numerous. Insurgent bands of Chinese are causing much alarm among the Japanese officials in the puppet state of Manchukuo. Strangely enough, "banditry" is confined to Manchuria this year, and it is the Japanese who are doing all the complaining about it.

Gen. Wu Pi-Fu, former war lord of North China, favors a campaign to recover Manchuria. Gov. Han Fu-chu is ready to lead his own troops in an attack upon the Japanese. A new threat of war between China and Japan has developed because of this manifestation of Chinese unity.

Regardless of what may be the outcome of the conflict over Manchuria, its influence over the Chinese national movement is far-reaching. If Japan continues to dominate Manchuria, China will be constantly faced by the enemy within striking distance. At present China is taking bitter medicine because of her weakness, but Chinese sentiment is being mobilized and unified. If it has wise direction, the Manchurian conflict may lead to the solidarity of China.

Senator Swanson comes home from the disarmament conference convinced that the world should reduce its tariffs. Maybe it's about time to hold a tariff conference to emphasize the need and practicability of disarmament.

When Prof. Piccard selected August for his second venture into the stratosphere, he probably didn't realize that he would have so much competition from American politicians.

Who would have thought that mere politics would drive Kentuckians into a quarrel over the desirability of the unlimited coinage of red licker?

The Irish Free State rises to inquire why Britain insists upon payment of the annuities debt and then asks the United States to forget the war debt.

The world monetary conference confidently hopes to find or insert a few silver threads among the gold.

Now if England and Canada will ignore the interests of their people they may make a trade bargain.

SEARCHING THE SKIES

From the Boston Transcript.

Prof. Auguste Piccard, challenger of the skies, awaits ascent once more in that strange aluminum sphere of his which can not be called an airship, because as a matter of fact he dispenses with the air by carrying his oxygen with him, and proposes to penetrate, as it were, the "wind between the worlds." The element which Piccard proposes to navigate and investigate is the weird stratosphere which hangs above us, like a mysterious menace or like a benediction, we know not which. His previous adventure into this infinite depth was regarded as the attempt of a madman. The scientific world bade him good-bye, but he came back safe and sound from a mountain top in Switzerland. He would have gone farther, and possibly have fared worse, but for certain imperfections in his apparatus which, he assures the world, he has now corrected. The very mechanical completeness which he now claims is a promise of new dangers, for if all his preparations work well he will spurn the Alps beneath his feet, and perhaps attain the wastes above the Saharas. If, in descending, his aluminum globe remains undefiated, it will mean that the presumptuous professor is dead within his ball.

Strangely enough, Piccard's greatest peril, in the supposedly icy heights which he attained in his previous trip, came from the intense heat which the unimpeded rays of the sun, falling on his bright aluminum, generated within the globe. This time he protects himself by a covering of shining white paint over the exterior of the machine. It is to be a swift flight, indeed—ten miles and more above the earth and possibly back again in 24 hours. In this space of time Piccard will measure the cosmic rays and unveil other secrets of the etheric universe. He carries 900 pounds of ballast, the discharge of one-half of which will keep him up, while the discharge of his buoyant gas will let him down. In a sense, his buoyant power will shoot him like a bolt to the skies, and what the "winds between the worlds" will do to him then is unknown. He expects to surpass considerably the ten miles of height which he attained on his previous flight.

What is the stratosphere? This is the name of that expanse of the upper atmosphere which lies above the determinable belt of breathable air, and which is supposed to consist in great part of an ionized gas. From it, it is believed that wireless waves are reflected back to the earth's surface. It seems to the ordinary imagination like a sort of powerful nothingness. A Frenchman named Teisserenc du Bois discovered it, but no one but Piccard has ventured to fathom it. This man exalts scientific intrepidity to the nth degree. When he rises, the hopes of the world will go with him. Ambitious man has got the earth itself pretty well explored. This man proposes to explore the illimitable wastes above it. Since all the world admires a brave man, everybody will wish the courageous professor, rising in his curious globe from Zurich, a safe return, with a sheaf of facts about the upper atmosphere upon which a new science of cosmic motivation may be founded.

"Lollypop or a Switch?"

SHORT CIRCUITS.

He Usually Does.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Meat prices are up, but they have not registered a gain proportionate to that of hogs on the hoof. Thus, for once, the farmer, and to a slightly less extent the consumer, are getting a break. But the consumer may be asked to foot the bill later on.

No Depression Here.

Boston Transcript: A New York judge rules that a divorced man whose income has shrunk 60 per cent in the last three years must continue to pay full alimony nominated in the bond he signed in his days of prosperity. It is to be feared that this decision won't help much to remedy the divorce evil.

Try and Match It.

Boston Transcript: New York entertains more than a thousand national conventions every year and it is estimated that they leave behind them sixty millions scattered in hotels, restaurants and shops. Can the generous butter-and-egg men from the West match that record?

A Crooner's Victim.

Los Angeles Times: When the radio set on a Kansas farm failed to respond to the customary dial twistings the family accused it of "playing possum" and research confirmed the diagnosis. The children's pet 'possum was found within, the victim of a crooner or a short circuit.

Alarm Clock at That.

Atlanta Constitution: Astronomers are alarmed because they think the "world is running down like a clock." Cheer up, fellows, the indications are that it will be wound up soon.

The Public Awaits It.

Detroit News: Jungle camerman have now caught about everything but the situation in which the bold explorer stares a lion squarely in the eye, causing it to slink off with its tail under its chin.

Fine Bargain.

Akron Beacon-Journal: You see, if the debt of billions is forgiven, Europe can buy enough American goods to give us that much profit in about 200 years.

Not Worth Mentioning.

Buffalo Courier-Express: Money isn't everything in a Chicago schoolteacher's life; in fact, it is hardly anything.

Prefer the Cash.

Atlanta Constitution: The African rhinoceros will charge an auto, according to an explorer. That's more than most auto dealers will do now.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

TEN-YEAR-OLD.

Our nine-year-old who went to bed
Last night has disappeared.
Some time throughout the night she fled
Precisely as I'd feared.
But in her place we now behold
A little lady, ten years old.

Some think no change in her they see.
She looks the same, they swear.
But it is very plain to me
That seated in her chair
Where once a nine-year-old held sway
A miss of ten years rules today.

Now, if when children talk you list
You'll understand it when I say that differences exist
Twixt nine years old and ten.
The older miss is wiser far
Than all the nine-year maidens are.

Dear Lord, I pray, to her be kind
And bless her through the years.
When childhood must be left behind
And womanhood appears,
May she, turned ten years old today,
Follow her mother's lovely way.

Small Jobs Advertise for a Man, But a Big Man Makes His Own Job

By ROBERT QUILLEN

THIS is addressed to "big" men.

If a man sits on a stool and fashions goose quills into toothpicks, is that a worth-while career? You say it is not. What, then, of the man who builds sprawling factories, invents giant machines and employs an army of men to transform goose quills into toothpicks? His plant, his organization and his wealth are impressive because of their size, but still the achievement of his life is a toothpick made of a goose quill.

Can superior men find no better way to spend their days? Is that an accomplishment worthy of great abilities?

A certain big man of my acquaintance died last year. In his prime he manufactured a useful trinket and won a great fortune. Then he became a builder and began numerous projects to make his wealth useful.

His heirs, reared in idleness and luxury, cared nothing for the old man's dreams. His estate meant nothing to them except money to spend. The projects are ended; unfinished buildings are boarded up; steam shovels rust in the mud. The money invested is lost.

Has life nothing better to offer a big man? To manufacture trinkets and get wealth for a generation of wasters—is that success? Does America offer no career more worthy of a big man's talents?

Look about you. The greatest of nations staggering blindly and helplessly, wasting its energy, getting nowhere—whipped for want of a guide and a goal.

Does such a land offer no career to fit a big man?

What can be done? Nothing in a day. The rebuilding of a nation is a life-time job.

In war or in business men organize, set themselves a task, and plan to accomplish it.

Begin with school children. Use intelligent propaganda to make them good citizens. Train them to place country above self. Make them a unit in hating injustice, disloyalty and the treason of graft.

Let every college and high school provide a course of training for public service. Make public office an honor and inefficient service a disgrace.

Discard the theory that the making of money is the chief end of man. Build a saner civilization wherein the greatest man is the most useful to all and none desires more than he can use. End childish display. Make an end of the poverty and injustice and greed that foster crime.

How can it be done? Not by passing laws, but only by training public opinion—by planning for the long pull, by teaching the young, by use of ceaseless propaganda.

Here is a man's size job. If you thirst for a worth-while career, quit making trinkets and build an ideal civilization.

PRO AND CON

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

Embattled Farmers.

Belle Plaine (Minn.) Herald.

Many people claim that Minnesota will go for Roosevelt this fall, and all political observers admit that this State will be a real battleground. Whether officially announced or not, the Farmer-Labor organization will solidly back the candidacy of the New Yorker, which strength added to the normal Democratic vote should give Roosevelt a safe margin. The Roosevelt appeal is primarily to the South and West. It is also conceded that the most intense anti-Hoover feeling exists in the farm States of the Northwest, due to the agricultural depression. Whether you choose to blame Hoover for low prices or not, it must be admitted that thousands who voted for him four years ago will blame the President for all their ills, including the grasshoppers and the drought. All of which means that the Hoover candidacy has an uphill fight in all the farm States, and particularly in Minnesota.

Stop Radio Slander.

Madison (Minn.) Independent-Press.

We have a Federal Radio Commission. What for? If they are going to perform to the satisfaction of Mr. Average American, they will place the same ban on slanderous statements and mud slinging carried on over the radio that keeps some of the newspapers from telling falsehoods. The radio is a medium for disseminating information, and bears a close relationship to newspapers in that respect. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander—and we would have a lot cleaner campaign this year.

Soviet Aims and Borah Notions.

Minneapolis Journal.

Walter Duranty, Moscow correspondent of the New York Times and the Journal, is in the United States, after an absence of six years. Appraising the Soviet state, he declares that the five-year plan is not so much a program of actual construction and production as a process of national discipline and education, both technical and social. He insists this is no longer an experiment. He says:

"Its initial purpose was to establish the framework of a socialist state into which should be fitted all the major activities of national life. The actual development of industrial production, transportation and distribution was of secondary importance. The Kremlin leaders * * * are not unduly disturbed by material shortcomings in the five-year plan. What matters most to them is that their new socialistic framework should be firmly established."

The aim, then, in this view, is a political one before it is an economic or industrial one. How can Senator Borah expect, by American recognition of this Soviet state, to destroy communism there, when that is the core of the state?

Who Gets the Credit?

Baltimore Sun.

It is to be suspected that when Senator John S. Cohen, of Georgia, and W. A. Julian, Democratic national committeeman from Ohio, say the stock market is advancing because of the prospect of Democratic success in the Presidential election, they are moved more by a desire to offset extravagant Republican claims based on the market trend than by an earnest conviction as to the relationship between presidential candidacies and prices.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Bostonian Gives a Comparison Between European Expenditures for Debts and Armaments.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Of late the belief has become widespread that the various European nations can not continue to pay to the United States the annual installments on their war debts. There is, however, abundant evidence to indicate that this belief is not wholly true. The following table, quoted from a reliable source, shows how small are the debt payments in comparison to the respective expenditures for armaments:

	Debt payments due 1932	Expenditures for arms 1932
Great Britain	$150,520,000	$728,731,065
France	80,000,000	406,980,000
Italy	14,706,123	248,946,500
Belgium	7,950,000	33,303,200
Poland	7,486,000	92,072,000
Czechoslovakia	3,000,000	51,189,000
Roumania	800,000	53,647,000
Estonia	600,000	5,520,000
Finland	312,295	18,457,300
Jugoslavia	230,000	86,450,000
Latvia	250,000	7,950,000
Lithuania	224,845	5,980,000
Hungary	69,342	20,200,000
Totals	$245,196,247	$1,779,025,489

I had intended to supplement the above table with a third column of figures showing the total budget of each of the countries listed. But due partly to the fluctuations of currency, I became enmeshed in a mass of statistics which, like the peace of God, "passeth all understanding." However, to choose one example, France, we find the following facts: The annual debt payment due in 1932 is less than 11 per cent of the estimated expenditure for armaments during the same year; the debt payment is less than 3 per cent of the total French budget for 1930. The budget for 1932 will, of course, be approximately the same, and so these figures will be altered only slightly. It becomes increasingly apparent, then, that the debt payments are not so relatively large as many propagandists would have us believe.

Furthermore, the door to reduction of expenditures for armament has been held wide open at Geneva. Obviously, armaments constitute not only a far greater burden to European taxpayers than debt payments, but they will, if allowed to increase at the present rate, inevitably bring about a condition favorable to the precipitation of another great war.

F. B. DAVIS.

Can't See Much Constructiveness in Mr. Borah's Attitude.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Senator Borah, putting himself above his party, proclaims that he will not support the Republican party, nor the Democratic party, nor any other party.

He says he doesn't like the Republican platform, and that the Democratic platform isn't any better.

He had the opportunity of helping to write the Republican platform, but refused to lend his brain for any such purpose. No, he saw wherein he could keep more in the limelight by posing as a critic, in place of advising constructive measures, to which he is a stranger.

Pin a critic down to constructive work and you will find he hasn't any.

He has been one of President Hoover's severest critics. Having helped elect Mr. Hoover President, he immediately saw himself out of the limelight unless he turned critic, which he did even before Mr. Hoover had taken the oath of office.

People of the Borah type, such as Senator Johnson, of California, never reach their objective, and are mighty sore against those who are fortunate enough to do so.

The people at large now understand their ailment, and whatever they might say upon any subject cuts a very small path in clarifying a situation. ONE OF MANY.

Desires an Answer to the Four Questions Contained in the Letter Below.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Would some one please enlighten my mind on the following perplexing problems which have been vexing and perplexing me during an extensive period of unemployment:

1. Since when has legitimate unemployment ceased to be a self-respecting circumstance?

2. Would it be possible for an intelligent and scrupulous young woman to secure an office position with no clandestine condition attached?

3. Would mediocre business and professional men attempt to compile "social" registers elsewhere than from the ranks of unemployed members of the fair sex?

4. In addition to the pulchritudinous perfection of a Ziegfeld beauty and the brain of Bernard Shaw, must a stenographer be utterly lacking in a code of ethics in order to secure employment?

Valued Post Reader Tells Why He Favors Bonus Now.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: As a reader of The Washington Post for many years I wish to state that I am one of many millions who favor immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus. The paying of bonuses to rich corporations and concerns in "lump sum" when such corporations could wait for their "bonus," while "holding out" for twenty years before discharging an obligation to an unemployed starving element of our people passes all understanding.

THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. Hoover will have as guests in the White House, in addition to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of former President Roosevelt, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Derby, who will accompany the latter's mother to Washington. They will leave New York early this morning by aeroplane. Mrs. Derby was formerly Miss Ethel Roosevelt, and made her debut at a brilliant ball given at the White House by her parents.

The President yesterday celebrated his fifty-eighth birthday anniversary quietly.

Mrs. MacWhite, who is an artist of ability, has spent much of her holiday painting the beautiful scenes which surround her on the Massachusetts coast.

Representative and Mrs. James M. Beck, who have been in Europe for several weeks, have arrived in New York aboard the Augustus by the Mediterranean route.

The fete will be given in the quaint Joaquin Miller cabin in Rock Creek Park and a coincidence is that Miss Therne Miller, niece of the poet, is in charge of arrangements for the festivity. Miss Miller sent out invitations to members of the Oregon Society and former residents of Oregon, the card having a dainty block print of the cabin.

Arrangements for the wedding were particularly charming, with military pomp prevailing. As the large company of guests were assembling, selections of appropriate music were played on the organ. The altar was lighted with tall tapers, and huge vases of blue delphinium decorated both sides of the altar.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of eggshell satin fashioned on long fitted lines, with inserts of lace in the long sleeves. The bodice was also trimmed with the Alencon lace. Her tulle veil, which fell over the voluminous train of satin, was caught about the head with clusters of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Chester Flack, of Philadelphia, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Jean Woodson, Miss Louise Turner, Miss Betty West and Miss Mary Bruce Mackall. All wore frocks of chiffon, fashioned with fitted bodices and long, full skirts. Mrs. Flack's frock was of golden brown, with a girdle of yellow velvet, and her hat of brown straw trimmed with yellow velvet. She carried Claudius Pernet roses. The bridesmaids' frocks were of yellow chiffon and their hats of yellow straw. They also carried Pernet roses.

Lieut. John Steele was best man and the ushers were Lieut. Hobart Thatcher, Lieut. William Kunzig, Lieut. George R. Gunert and Lieut. Richard Coiner, jr. Following the ceremony the newly-married couple left the church under an arch formed of the crossed sabers of the ushers, who wore their dress uniforms.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Henning wore a gown of beige chiffon, trimmed with Alencon lace, with a hat of brown straw. Mrs. Head, mother of the bridegroom, wore a printed chiffon gown and a large black hat.

Lieut. Head has been assigned to duty at Fort Madison, N. Y., where he and his bride will go after a short wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a costume of navy blue with an ecru lace blouse and a sash of chartreuse green.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Ethel Henning, aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Little, uncle and aunt of the bride, all of Chicago.

THOSE VACATION CAMPS.

THIS is the season of the children's camp. A children's camp is a combination kindergarten, scout outing and general picnic, to which the kiddies are sent for their parents' health.

• • • •

It is a woodland or seaside retreat provided for the little 'darlinks," because it is so good for mommer and popper. It is a little place away from it all to which Willie and Imogene are sent in their father's high hopes that it will give him a much-needed rest.

• • • •

Not so many years ago the children's camp was unknown. No genius of the great outdoors had figured out a way to make it possible for the old folks to shake parental responsibilities during the hot weather.

• • • •

Summer was a humid period when it seemed to all mothers that there was nothing to do but sit around and listen to Little Doris squawking that Eddie Perkins had bashed her in the eye with a sand pail, or to the complaints of the lady next door that Junior had just trampled down her prize flower bed.

• • • •

When mother wasn't thus engaged she was kept busy bellowing "Wal-l-lace-e-e-e!" through a megaphone on a hunch that he was up to something.

• • • •

And as for father, every time the office phone rang he steeled himself for the news that Jennie had fallen down an abandoned well, that Willie had been kicked by a horse or that the baby had swallowed two poker chips.

• • • •

THERE was no place like home—and in July and August they were glad of that.

• • • •

Parents capable of enduring the hardest winters rarely went through the summer without a nervous collapse, and by August 15 both generally took to their beds and depended on a couple of doctors and a flock of relatives to ride herd on the children.

• • • •

Then came the Children's Camp, one of the great benefactions of all time, enabling a father and a mother to go through an entire summer in their right minds.

• • • •

It's all done by folders. These arrive with the first robin from all over the country and enable parents to select a camp so far away that the little imps can't find their way home. Then, with the arrival of summer, the railroad stations offer a series of touching tableaux entitled "Young America in Its Noisiest Moment."

• • • •

Soon the progeny are in the wide open spaces. They show results in a week or so, but the effect on mommer's and popper's health is immediate. Before the kids have reached camp and had their first fight with the director, mother has recovered her appetite and self-control, and become a new woman. And father has registered the joy that comes to any parent who suddenly realizes he can sleep as late as he wants every morning.

CRISIS.

HIS face was sad as sad could be—Gone was all life's enjoyment;
"The corner's turned," he cried, "and I'll be out of unemployment!"

• • • •

NATURAL MISTAKE.

The trouble with wearing a yachting cap this summer is that all the children mistake you for one of those motorized ice cream men.

• • • •

PREDICAMENT OF A GREAT AMERICAN.

Senator Borah
Is pretty sorah—
He can't tell whom
He will vote forah.

• • • •

Revised adage—Where there is life there is a Wendell heir.

• • • •

Even if Mayor Walker is removed from City Hall it is probably true that he hasn't been there enough to miss it.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S official notification of his renomination for the office of Chief Executive of the United States, and his address of acceptance, will be carried from coast to coast over both National Broadcasting Company networks, the Columbia network, and short-waved to foreign countries all over the world.

KDKA, Pittsburgh, will short-wave the address over two frequencies, through W8XK on 6,140 kilocycles, and through 3XK on 11,870 kilocycles. WGY in Schenectady will short-wave through W2XAF on 9,530 kilocycles. These three transmitters will cover Europe, South America and Africa.

Complete details of the ceremony call for Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican national committee, to introduce Representative Bertrand H. Snell, of New York, who will deliver the address of notification. The President's reply will then be broadcast. He is expected to start speaking at approximately 9:20 o'clock.

CONGRATULATIONS will be extended to Capt. William J. Stannard, leader of the United States Army Band, by Stanley Bell over Station WMAL during the regular concert at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The occasion for the felicitation will be the forty-ninth birthday of Capt. Stannard, who is now rounding out his thirty-first year in the Army.

A native of Connecticut, he enlisted at New Haven for the Tenth Artillery Band in Boston. His instrument was the clarinet and while in the service he studied for three years with C. L. Staats, famous clarinetist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Later Capt. Stannard was a pupil for two years with Joe Norrito, clarinetist in Sousa's band.

In 1911 he won a four years' scholarship at the Musical Institute of Art under Frank Damrosch, of New York, and graduated from there in 1913 in the first bandmasters' class.

Following this he was appointed band leader at Fort Seward in Alaska. Capt. Stannard won the leadership of the Army Band as the result of a competition February 6, 1923, and has been the head of that organization ever since.

SOUNDS of the real old wild West will be carried over WRC tonight when microphones set up in the arena at Butte, Mont., pick up the activities of the Butte Rodeo, beginning at 10:30 o'clock.

Ann Leaf, organist, is on her way back to New York from a month's vacation in California. * * * The kitchen of the new United States Liner Manhattan will be described in detail by Col. Goodbody (WRC, 8:45 a. m.) * * * Glorified insanity is the keynote of the performance scheduled by Olsen and Johnson with Rudy Vallee (WRC, 7 o'clock) tonight. * * * With Edwin C. Hill now giving his news commentaries over Columbia, the network has two Indiana journalists on its staff of commentators. Hill's fellow Hoosier is the political analyst, Frederic William Wile.

CALIFORNIA CREW WINS, REACHES OLYMPIC FINALS

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

GENIAL Gene Sarazen's show of bravado in refusing to accept automatic qualification for the national professional golf tournament as a result of his U. S. open triumph, yesterday rose up and smote him full on the face of every club in his bag when he failed to qualify in the New York section trfouts.

Sarazen's two rounds of 76 weren't good enough to gain him a place in the national professional qualifying round yesterday and the country's golfers will witness the spectacle of the national champion pacing the sidelines because he decided to take his chances in the preliminaries rather than accept an honorary berth due him as the open champion.

Sarazen will not take the full force of the consequences. They belong to one Ray McCarthy, New York promoter, who signed Sarazen to a two-year contract guaranteeing the latter $250,000 as his share of the net proceeds of Sarazen's golfing exploits for the 24 months dating from the Italian's victory in the national open last June.

The failure of Sarazen to qualify for the professional tournament will not enhance McCarthy's chances of collecting the quarter million on the open champion's reputation. It is vitally necessary that Sarazen be in the forefront of the golfers for the next two years in order to capitalize on his fame. A quarter-million intake on a golfer who couldn't qualify for the P. G. A. tournament is money of another color compared to a Sarazen who threatened to add the pro title to his British and U. S. crowns and make a grand slam in the grand old game of golf.

But where Sarazen failed in competition, he succeeded in publicity. Sarazen failing to qualify for the pro tournament is bigger news than Sarazen qualifying. McCarthy must get his consolation out of that.

When they turn the calendar back eight years and stage the Bicentennial ball game at Griffith Stadium Monday between the world champion Nats of 1924 and the current edition of the Washington Ball Club there will be no pronounced favorite.

When Walter Johnson strides to the mound to open fire for the club that won Washington's first pennant, it won't be a doddering old-timer who is essaying a pitching comeback. Johnson retired from the mound in 1927, but he didn't give up pitching. He has pitched to batters every day of the playing season and through those early weeks in spring training and for three innings the 1932 Nats are slated to see the famous smoke-ball that burned up the league from 1907 to 1924.

This department anticipates second to Johnson's appearance on the mound the spectacle of Roger Peck and Bucky Harris maneuvering around second base, turning base hits into double plays with the fancy flips that brought the Nats pennants in 1924 and 1925.

I have it on great authority that none resembled the graceful Nap Lajoie as much as Peckinpaugh, in whom the fielding prowess of the brilliant Frenchman lived again on big league diamonds a decade after Lajoie had hung up his glove. I want to see Peck scoop up those sizzling grounders, not stab them as the style now seems to be. I want to see him flip 'em to Bucky Harris and I want to see Harris make that pivot throw to first base. It's worth the price of admission, and the tax has been waived for the game.

Tigers Hand Red Sox Eleventh Straight Loss

Detroit, Aug. 10. (A.P.).—Detroit made it four in a row over Boston by winning the final game of the series with the Red Sox, 6 to 2, today. It was Boston's eleventh straight defeat.

Tommy Bridges, who allowed only one Washington player to reach first base in his last appearance in the box, was wild today and was saved from a rout only by excellent support. Although he allowed but three hits, he gave nine bases on balls. Six of these came in the fourth and fifth innings, in each of which the Sox scored.

Sarazen Fails In U. S. Pro Qualifying

National Champion's 152 Stroke Above Sectional Limit.

Loses Last Chance in Play-Off; Only Hope Is a Withdrawal.

ROCKVILLE CENTER, N. Y., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Gene Sarazen's hopes of capping his United States and British open championships with a victory in the Professional Golf Association's tournament at St. Paul August 30-September 3 faded today when he failed to place among the fourteen qualifiers from the Metropolitan district.

Sarazen, who turned down an invitation to compete at St. Paul without playing in the qualifying rounds, shot a 152 to finish in a seven-way tie for the last three positions. His par four on the first extra hole, however, was not good enough. Johnny Golden and Mike and Joe Turnesa carding birdie 3's.

Lacey May Withdraw in Sarazen's Favor.

With the hope that one of the qualifiers will decide to withdraw, Sarazen, Leo Diegel, former P. G. A. champion; Tony Manero and Henry Miller, an unknown New Yorker, carried on. Sarazen won on the third extra hole with only a slim chance of playing in the finals.

There is a chance that Charles Lacey, assistant pro to Sarazen at Lakeville, might drop out, leaving the way open for Sarazen to compete for his third major title. Lacey shot a 150 today, 2 strokes better than his superior.

Willie Klein, Wheatley Hills professional, showed the way to the qualifiers with a 36-hole card of 144. He turned the first eighteen holes in 69 and the afternoon round in 75.

Four strokes behind with 148s trailed Billy Burke, former national open title holder; Walter Kozak, Tom Boyd and James Hines. A. E. MacDonald, of White Plains, shot a 149, but withdrew before the play-off.

Other qualifiers were Paul Runyon, Charles Lacey, Bobby Cruickshank, Pat Circelli, Johnny Farrell, Henry Barron, John Golden, Mike Turnesa and Joe Turnesa.

Sarazen never could get going, taking a 76 on both rounds. He had a chance for a 151 on the last hole, but took a 6.

BRITISH CUP NETMEN WIN

Austin, Perry, Olliff, and Avory Cop Rye Matches.

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The British threat in the Eastern grass court championships moved in on the Westchester Club courts in full force today as four members of the English Davis Cup Team attempted to catch up with the field and Mrs. Elsie G. Pittman and Joan Ridley advanced to the semi-finals in the women's division.

Henry W. ("Bunny") Austin, Fred Perry, J. S. Olliff and Edward S. Avory won their first and second round matches.

Austin, England's No. 1 player, easily won his first match from Frank Melton, of New York, 6—1, 6—0, but dropped the opening set to Ernest Kuhn, also of New York, before accounting for his second-round match, 8—10, 6—2, 6—3.

Perry Loses Only Three Games.

Perry lost only three games in defeating Morgan Palmer, New York, 6—0, 6—1, and John Preston, New York, 6—1, 6—1. Olliff eliminated Clyde Adams, of Fort Worth, Tex., in his opening match, 6—2, 6—3, and then turned back the Canadian, Walter Martin, 6—2, 0—6, 6—0. Avory also was carried to three sets before entering the second round. He defeated Humberto Costa, of Brazil, 6—3, 7—9, 6—1. In the second round he defeated Huntington Hartford, New York, 6—1; 7—5.

Yankees Win, 7-6, To Sweep Series

Relief Work of Allen Against Browns Feature of New York Victory.

St. Louis, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Young Johnny Allen chalked up his tenth victory of the season against two defeats today with relief pitching that enabled the league-leading new York Yankees to defeat the Browns, 7 to 6, and sweep the four-game series.

Allen relieved Pennock in the third and gave only five hits in the remaining innings. The Yanks wasted a lot of base hits, getting seventeen blows and having sixteen left on base.

Johnson-Ainsmith Battery To Face Youngstown Today

Special to The Washington Post.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 10.—Manager Walter Johnson and his Nationals ended their second Western invasion of the year here this afternoon watching the rain fall. Later tonight they are scheduled to hop to Youngstown, where they play an exhibition game with the Central League team there, in which the Washington club is financially interested. For a team trying to get somewhere in the pennant race, the Nats' showing on this jaunt was far from satisfactory, netting but eight victories in the fifteen contests played.

In addition to tomorrow, Friday will also be an off day on the Washington schedule and then the Nats will be busy on their home heath through the present month. On Saturday and Sunday the fur should fly when the New York Yankees show for single games each day. It will be the New Yorkers' first appearance in Washington since July 4, when Catcher Bill Dickey assaulted Outfielder Carl Reynolds and broke his jaw. Needless to say, some real battles are promised, with no quarter asked or given by either team.

Monday will see the 1924 world's champions, headed by Bucky Harris and with the cast practically intact, meeting the current edition of Nationals in a Bicentennial presentation and then will appear the Western clubs on their final swing around the circuit.

Walter Johnson, who has steadfastly declined to appear on the mound since his retirement back in 1927, will hurl a few innings for the 1924 title holders and, that he is taking this assignment seriously is indicated by the fact that he plans to prep for this game by taking the slab against the Youngstowners tomorrow for three or four innings. When he decides he has had enough, Eddie Edelin, batting practice pitcher, will finish out the string.

Johnson taking an assignment is not the only treat promised Youngstown fans, for the game will see one of the most famous old-time batteries in baseball in action, Catcher Eddie Ainsmith, now a Washington coach, being scheduled to do the receiving for Johnson. Ainsmith and Charles (Gabby) Street, now St. Louis Card manager, caught the so-called "Big Train" practically all of the time that he was at his pitching peak.

Banovic Wins Slow Fight At Laurel

DeCapua Outpointed as Crowd Boos Dull Match.

Young Van Again Is Stopped by Britt in First Round.

By DAVE HERMAN.

"BINGO JOE" BANOVIC, pride of Binghamton, N. Y., punched his way to an easy ten-round victory over Jimmy DeCapua, registered out of Daytona Beach, Fla., in the main bout of last night's fistic program at Twin City Arena, with around 1,000 spectators in the stands.

Carrying the fight to DeCapua from the very outset, the Czechoslovakian boxer asserted his superiority in every department to win practically every round. DeCapua, who incidentally was a rival of Banovic during their days as amateurs, danced around the ring stubbornly, and took plenty of punishment, even before "Bingo Joe" opened an old wound above Jimmy's left eye and caused the flow of claret. The fans were not particularly pleased, booing, clapping and wise-cracking throughout the bout.

History Repeats As Britt Wins.

History repeated itself in the semi-windup between the two local fighters, Sammy Britt and Young Van, renewing a rivalry born several weeks ago. Slated to go six rounds, the match came to a dramatic finish in the first after two and one-half minutes of fighting. A short right punch flush on the chin spelled defeat for Young Van, who, rose a fraction of a second too late, with Referee Buck Alexander counting him out. It was Van's second knockout at the hands of Britt in the same round, and his second defeat in eleven fights.

Three other postponed fours resulted in decisions, while a bit of comedy also was injected into the proceedings. Johnny Mays, of Seattle, taller than his opponent, turned back Sailor Leonard, of Boston. Johnny Koles, rangy but full of fight, defeated Herman Gunn. Both are from Baltimore. Arthur DeBeve, former French lightweight titleholder, topped off the program with a smashing victory over LeRoy Zinkham, of Baltimore.

Battle of Pants Interesting.

Fans roared with laughter when Gunn tried to "knock the pants off" Koles, and Koles attempted the same stunt on Gunn. The comedy never let up in this bout, despite the use of a safety-pin. So low did Koles' pants drop at one time the referee was forced to halt the fight and pull 'em up in a knot.

DeBeve put on the best fighting on the card. Using his windmill right hand swing effectively, the little Frenchman charged at Zinkham like a tiger, stepped around as if steel springs were in his toes, and cleverly evaded the enterprising young Marylander.

Jim Portney was introduced in the ring and challenged one Jimmy Reid, the little man from the South. Jimmy bounced into the ring and quickly accepted.

Gilbert Hunt Bows In Junior Net Play

Special to The Washington Post.

Culver, Ind., Aug. 10.—The paths of Gilbert Hunt, brilliant Washington, D. C., youngster, and Jay Cohn, Santa Monica youth, who held the national boys championship two years ago, crossed here today in the national junior tennis championship, and Hunt went down to defeat in a three-set match, 6—3, 2—6, 6—1.

The Washington boy played excellent tennis to win the second set, 2—6, and square the match, revealing even a greater selection of strokes than the Californian, but faded rapidly in the final chapter.

Cohn will meet Bernard Friedman, of Philadelphia, tomorrow in the quarter-final round of play. Frankie Parker, Milwaukee's boy wizard of the courts, reached the quarter final by beating Ralph Minnich, of Lorain, 6—0, 6—2. Marco Hecht, New York, seeded No. 3, lost to Sam Lee. The other quarter finalists are Charles Hunt and Gene Mako, of California; Leonard Patterson and Jack Lynch, the defending champion. Lynch meets Parker tomorrow.

The Story of the Olympic Dive

Miss Georgia Coleman's triumphant pose with the American flag describes eloquently what happened in the Olympic springboard diving event for women yesterday. The Los Angeles girl sent the flag soaring up the Olympic mast of victory when her series of fancy dives outclassed all opposition.

3 of 4 American Boxers Advance in Olympic Tests

OLYMPIC AUDITORIUM, Los Angeles, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—With the field trimmed of eight more combatants as the result of bouts this afternoon, amateur boxing stars seeking Olympic championships resumed their battles before a crowd of 5,000 fans tonight.

Three of the four United States entries on today's program advanced in their respective classes.

As the leather-pushing brigade took up its march it was learned an American victory this afternoon, by Johnny Hines, San Pedro featherweight, was costly.

Hines defeated Miguel Araico, of Mexico, by a decision but suffered such a bad cut over his eye it was necessary to take five stitches in it. However, Spike Webb, coach of the American team, said he expected his sturdy 126-pounder to be ready for the bell tomorrow night.

John Miller, Detroit light-heavyweight and first of the American contingent to lose a fight, charged his defeat to his inability to understand a foreign referee's instructions. Miller lost a decision to James J. Murphy, Dublin, Ireland, policeman.

Joe Lang, San Francisco bantamweight, advanced to the semifinals without a struggle when he won a forfeit from Carlos Pereyra, of Argentina, who defaulted because of injuries suffered in his last bout.

Nat Bor, Fall River, Mass., National A. A. U. lightweight champion, punched out a decison over H. Mizler, of Germany.

118-POUND CLASS, QUARTER-FINALS.

Horace Gwynne, Canada, decision over Vito Melis, Italy.

Jose Villanueva, Philippines, decision over Akira Nakao, Japan.

Hans Ziglarski, Germany, decision over Paul Nicolas, France.

Joe Lang, U. S. A., won from Carlos Pereyra, Arsentina, by default.

Carl Carlsson, Sweden, decision over Katsuo Kamesoka, Japan.

Johnny Hines, U. S. A., decision over Miguel Araico, Mexico.

Barney Welsh Enters Semifinal Net Round

Mountain Lake Park, Md., Aug. 10. Barney Welsh, Capital netman of note, reached the semifinal round of the thirteenth annual Western Maryland tennis championship here today, along with Dr. John L. O'Loughlin, of Pittsburgh, one of the tourney favorites.

Welsh advanced easily, by default over John Brown, a veteran player in these regions. Welsh's match with O'Loughlin is tomorrow's feature.

Frances Walker was the lone Washington netwoman to advance. She defeated Betty Cochran, also of Washington, 6—4, 6—3. Frances Grimes defeated Marion Butler, of Washington, 6—2, 6—4, while Mrs. Ruth Martinez, former District of Columbia champion, defaulted to the defending women's champion, Margaret Carspecken, of Morgantown.

Youth, 16, Triumphs In Montgomery Shoot

Skeet shooting, rapidly replacing trap shooting in the hearts of scatter-gun artists, is being practiced widely in Montgomery County, where the Montgomery Skeet Club is staging biweekly shoots. Skeet shooting differs from the common trap shooting in that the birds are released from two boxes and a variety of angles.

Andrew J. Cummings, jr., son of the president of the Montgomery Skeet Club, led yesterday's shoot with 22 hits out of 25 targets. A. J. Cummings, sr., and J. Adams were second with 20 breaks each. Perry Hoover was fourth with 18.

The club's next shoot is scheduled for Saturday at the traps on the East-West highway. The club boasts 50 members.

places, just as the Yankee men divers had done.

Miss Georgia Coleman, of Los Angeles, who placed second in 1928, won the event with a total of 87.52 points. Her 14-year-old teammate, Katherine Rawls, of Miami Beach, Fla., was second with 82.56 and Jane Fauntz, of Chicago, third, scoring 82.12.

Crabbe's victorious finish was a classic. The 23-year-old University of Southern California graduate pulled along at the opposite side of the pool from Taris in second place, with little Tsutomu Oyokata, Japan, who was third, staying close on his heels.

He cut the Frenchman's lead down to less than a foot as they turned back to the finish with 50 meters remaining. Both drove with all their might, but Crabbe had the greatest reserve, finishing 1-10 of a second ahead.

Crabbe was as much surprised as the crowd over his victory. He had been pointing for the 1,500 meters.

American divers were far too classy for the invaders. It was a contest among the three down the line, with Miss Coleman winning by virtue of a perfect one and one-half gainer in the optional jumps.

Bathing Suits Cause Sensation.

Attire of the Yankee girls caused a mild sensation before the diving started. Dr. Leo Donath, president of the International Swimming Federation, ordered Miss Coleman and Miss Fauntz back to the locker rooms, demanding a change of suits on the grounds the ones they wore were cut too low in the back.

Golden Bears Triumph by Length in Heat; Germany Third.

Italians Better Time in Beating British in First Trial.

By ALAN GOULD.
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

MARINE STADIUM, Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The unbeaten record of American eight-oared crews in four successive Olympic naval battles was kept intact today by the University of California's powerful boatload with a spectacular victory over Canada's formidable entry.

Racing in their first trial heat, the American collegians, picking up the thread of triumph where their California predecessors left off exactly four years ago, drove their shell across the finish with a terrific surge to lead the Canadians by a scant length, with Germany and New Zealand close behind.

Most Thrilling Finish Of Regatta.

It was the most exciting finish of the two days of the Olympic regatta, with all four crews within nearly two lengths of each other at the finish. Just as the Americans had too much drive at the finish for the Canadians, Germany's strong crew had the stuff to come from behind and whip New Zealand.

Although the California eight conquered the crew generally picked as its most formidable rival for Olympic eight-oared honors, the trials developed an unexpectedly powerful contender in Italy's blue-shirted oarsmen, who won the first heat in faster time than the Americans, as both winners advanced automatically to the finals, scheduled Saturday afternoon.

Italy negotiated the 2,000-meter straight away in 6 minutes 28 1-5 seconds in handing a surprisingly decisive defeat to the Cambridge University boatload, representing Great Britain, as well as Japan and Brazil. The Italians won by a good length and a half, showing plenty of drive and power all the way, plus a finishing "kick" that left the favored Britons floundering.

California's Time Slower Than Trials.

California's time was 6:29, which was considerably off the time of 6:06, registered by the Golden Bears in the final American tryouts over the same distance, but under different conditions. Canada had shaved six minutes at home, but both of these crews had to buck a brisk breeze today, which probably cut from 10 to 15 seconds off their time.

The other winning American boat today, which ended a streak of four straight setbacks for the United States oarsmen, was the double sculling combination of W. E. Garrett Gillmore and Kenneth Myers, of the Bachelor's Barge Club, Philadelphia. These veterans rowed away from the crack German pair, Buhtz and Boetzelen, in 7:14 3-5, much the best performance in this event.

FOUR-OARED, WITHOUT COXSWAIN—First heat won by Great Britain (George, Beresford, Edwards and Badcock, stroke), 7:13 1-5; second, United States (Johnson, Pierie, Matison and McCosker, stroke), 7:19 2-5; third, Germany (Maier, Brinsch, Gaber and Aleiter, stroke), 7:37 4-5.

Second heat—Won by Italy (Ghiardello, D'Este, Cossu and Provenzani, stroke), 7:06 4-5; second, Canada (Courtney, Herman, Gammon and Pelham, stroke), 7:12.

DOUBLE SCULLS—First heat won by Canada (Demille and Pratt), 7:35; second, Italy (Paroli and Moretti), 7:33; third, Brazil (Goncalves and Tomassini), 7:38 4-5.

Second heat—Won by United States (Gillmore and Myers), 7:14 3-5; second, Germany (Boetzelen and Buhtz), 7:21 3-5.

EIGHT-OARED—First heat won by Italy (Cioni, Garselli, Del Bimbo, Vestrini, Barsetti, Braccio, Balleri, Barbiere stroke, Milani coxswain), 6:28 1-5; second, Great Britain (Haigh-Thomas, Payne, Askwith, Sambell, Sergel, Rickett, McCowen, Luxton stroke, Ranking coxswain), 6:34 2-5; third, Japan (Hara, Enomoto, Fujiwara, Tanaka, Matsura, Nishidomo, Tamaka, Ikeda stroke, Sano coxswain), 6:43 1-5; fourth, Brazil (Mo, Pichler, De Abreu, Rebello, Prevensano, Pereira, Faria, Carvalho stroke, De Cuna coxswain), 6:52 1-5.

Second heat—Won by United States (Hall, Tower, Chandler, Jastram, Dunlap, Gregg, Blair, Salisburg stroke, Graham coxswain), 6:29; second, Canada (Taylor, Beal, Theburn, Liddell, Fry, Stamper, Harris, Eastwood stroke, MacDonald coxswain), 6:33 1-5; third, Germany (Maier, Pilnsch, Von Dusterino, Steilland, Bender, Hullinghoff, Gaber, Aletter stroke, Bauer coxswain), 6:36 4-5; fourth, New Zealand (Solomon, Saunders, Thompson, Jackson, MacDonald, Stiles, Sinclair, Cooke stroke, Cullery coxswain), 6:38 1-5.

CHARLEIGH'S LATE RUSH WINS HAWTHORNE PURSE BY NOSE

Moran Pilots Schmidt Colt To Victory

Sweet Scent Nipped on Wire After Going Wide in Stretch.

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, Chicago, Ill., Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Charleigh, racing in the white and blue colors of William Schmidt, of Chicago, won the Park Ridge Purse, the top racing at Hawthorne today by a nose over C. B. Shaffer's Sweet Scent. Siskin, favorite in the 6½-furlong event, finished third, three and one-half lengths back.

Jockey W. Moran rode a perfect race on Charleigh. Hugging the rail, when Sweet Scent and Miss Marr went a trifle wide in the stretch run, Charleigh came with cyclonic speed and got up to nip Sweet Scent on the wire. Charleigh ran the distance in 1:19 1-5.

Mutuels paid $11.94 to win, $6.30 to place, and $3.76 to show.

Leonard-Walker Bout Delayed Until Tonight

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—The ten-round bout between Benny Leonard, former lightweight king, and Paulie Walker of Trenton, N. J., scheduled for Ebbets Field tonight, was postponed until tomorrow night because of rain. Bat Battalino and Billy Townsend, whom Leonard recently defeated, were matched for the ten-round semiwindup.

Pilots Win, 7 to 3, On Suttle's Homer

When "Mule" Suttles hit the ball to the center field corner for the circuit, with two down and drove across the plate ahead of him O'Bryant, Evans and Hughes, the Washington Pilots added another to their list of victories, defeating the Camden Athletic Club, former major leaguers, 7-3. Suttles had previously made a two-bagger in the first, scoring Evans, and in the sixth connected for a triple, scoring O'Bryant.

JOE AND ASBESTOS

(Watch Sunday's Post for New Secret Code) —By Ken Kling

They scratched our Thistledown sleeper yesterday and the stable threatens to do the same today if we sent it out. The roll lost two bucks and is $45.38.

Today's Bet: $1 first and third each Alma at Thistledown and Martie Flynn at Hawthorne.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

Dear Al: HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, CHICAGO, AUG. 10.

They have tied up the dog tracks but there's no law about "dogs" running on race tracks from the looks of the entries in some of tomorrow's events.

Today was not so bad with three winners and our Saratoga special, too, romped in. Other must have had them, from the prices paid.

The stake horses are either resting up for the fall campaigns or taking the water cure at Saratoga, so it behooves you to go slow until I can slip you the dope on a couple of sleepers that are due for an early awakening. Adios, BILL.

FIRST RACE—MIDSHIPMAN is not the worst juvenile in the world and may step down to take this purse. MISS BRILLIANT is capable of taking the place money ahead of HOURZEV, which ran a creditable race recently.

SECOND RACE—CRIMEAN LAD may break out of the maiden class in this. Looks like MEETING PLACE and RAPID BIRLIS will have to be beaten before this thing is settled.

THIRD RACE—TIMOROUS has a little class on the rest of these, I believe. FOUR PENCE, a much scratched one, to take care of the place award. PRINTEMPS for show.

FOURTH RACE—HIGHER will breeze home if everything is right tomorrow. That 117 pounds should not bother this fellow. CHATTER QUEEN to beat BRAVE AND BOLD for the place.

FIFTH RACE—BONNY MAUREEN has disappointed me but I'm giving her a chance to do her stuff in this one. Get Aboard! FRENCH DUCHESS for second ahead of VOLCRY.

SIXTH RACE—ETCETRA can take care of this kind. Runs often and well. YONKEL failed for me before. May do better tomorrow. MAD PURSUIT for show.

SEVENTH RACE—MARTIE FLYNN may wake up here to lead TELA and GOOD AND HOT to the wire. STONE MARTIN may be one to upset the dope.

EIGHTH RACE—SUITOR drops a lot of weight and is in top shape. See this one collecting the main money. PIGEON HOLE and JODHPUR for what is left.

UNLIMITEDS IN PLAY-OFF SUNDAY

Dixies Hosts in Opener of Series With Heights Nine.

PLANS for the unlimited championship series of the Capital City League were completed at a meeting between representatives of the Dixie Pigs and Columbia Heights, rivals for the championship, and the secretary of the league. Hugh Waldrop, manager of the Dixies, represented his team, while Charley Edwards and Julius Rosenfeld looked after the interests of the Heights nine.

The first game of the series, which has taken on the aspect of a sandlot World Series, will be played Sunday at 3 p. m. in the Maryland University Baseball Stadium.

Dixies Win Toss Of Coin.

A toss of a coin gave the Dixies the home team advantage. This field also was the scene of the championship games last year when the Takoma Tigers won their second successive city title.

The second game in all probability will be played in the city proper. It is hoped that the Washington Barracks Field will be obtainable for the fray. Should a third game be necessary, it will be played at Maryland University.

Insect Title Series Opener to Orioles

The Washington Orioles pounded out an 18-to-8 victory over the Phoenix A. C. in the opening game of the second half flag race in the Insect division of the Capital City League yesterday.

The Orioles solved Sheehan, Phoenix pitcher, for 20 hits. They scored seven times in the third inning, to assume the lead and then drove in five more in the seventh frame, when the Northeast youngsters came within an ace of knotting the count. Four additional markers in the eighth put the game on ice.

JACOB KEEPS PLAYGROUND NET TITLE

Defeats Chatlen for Sr. Crown; Howell Wins Junior Title.

HAPPY JACOB and Spencer Howell, both members of the Western High School Tennis Team, and both representing Montrose Playgrounds, won the District playground championships, senior and junior, respectively, yesterday afternoon at the Chevy Chase Playgrounds.

Jacob, who held the junior championship last year, defeated Lou Chatlen, of Corcoran Playgrounds, to win the senior title, 6—1, 6—2. Chatlen, who reached the finals with an upset victory over last year's senior champion, Clyde Smith, put up a good battle, despite the scores, and many long rallies resulted throughout, but Jacob's superior speed and placement told in all the vital moments of the match.

Jacob's forehand drive was particularly potent yesterday, and despite high winds which swept clouds of dust frequently across the courts, he struck out at the ball with pace and surety which would have been a credit to any player in Washington.

Howell beat Levelle Dean, of Virginia Avenue Playground, 6—3, 6—0, to cop the junior championship. The winner played an even steadier game than Jacob, taking few chances but hitting his shots with all but perfect form. Dean was the aggressor throughout, bringing off many wellhit drives, but a lack of steadiness cut down his chances of gaining ground.

Playground Swim To Georgetown Team

Georgetown Playground swimmers took the majority of honors last night at the playground department's first night swimming meet, held at Tech High School pool with an entry list of about 50. The winners scored 17 points, to Rosedale's 9; Takoma Park's 5; Petworth's 3; Corcoran's 1, and Eckington's 1.

Herbsleb, of Georgetown, with eight individual points and a share in the winning of the relay, gained personal honors.

50-YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Dearing (Rosedale); second, Herbsleb (Georgetown); third, Hogan (Georgetown).

50-YARD BREAST STROKE—Won by McKenzie (Takoma); second, Warner (Georgetown); third, Wilson (Rosedale).

50-YARD BACK STROKE—Won by Herbsleb (Georgetown); second, Wilson (Rosedale); third, Graves (Corcoran).

200-YARD RELAY—Won by Georgetown (Hogan, Herbsleb, Molofsky and Wrenn); second, Petworth; third, Eckington.

THISTLEDOWN RESULTS

Stocks Again Surge Higher After Profits-Sales Battle

4,429,390-Share Turnover Records Second Heaviest Dealing of Year.

New York, Aug. 10 A.P.).—Renewed enthusiasm for the advance appeared on all financial fronts today. Stocks, far from meeting the reaction which a large section of Wall street has been expecting, surged upward in the second largest turnover of the year, 4,429,390 shares, and closed with many net gains of 2 to 8 points. Commodity prices, led by wheat and cotton, further reflected the hopes which have been raised not only by prospects of strong potential aid, but by reports that same replacement of inventories was actually going forward.

Shares generally closed under their highs, due to late profit-taking, but buying was well diversified through out the day, with rails, utilities and a few motors taking turns in the front ranks. American Telephone was again a storm center of activity, up 3¾ net. J. I. Case's rise was 8½. International Harvester's 4½. Chrystler soared about 3, an unusually large move. United States Steel, after rising 4, reduced its gain to 2¾. Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, New York Central and Chesapeake & Ohio closed 2 to nearly 4 points, while Norfolk & Western jumped 7½, Allied Chemical,, American Can, Johns-Manville, Consolidated Gas, American Smelting and Coca Cola were other prominent gainers.

With wheat higher and other raw material prices appreciating, it was hard to keep down spirits on the stock exchange.

Speculative appetites for rail shares were whetted by this week's meetings of executives, the first of which was held today. There is said to be considerable difference of opinion as to wehther the roads should avail themselves of Government credit to finance equipment rehabilitation or new purchases, and this question is being referred to the individual companies.

Iron Age stressed firmness in steel prices, often a production barometer, and said hopefulnesse for the future had been buoyed by the current strength of finanecial markets. Meanwhile, however, demands for steel are very light.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—Trading was quieter with considerable irregularity as a result of scattered selling. International reacted on Wall street news but were inclined to rally later. British funds recovered following the sharp improvement in sterling dollar rate and more favorable indications of the conversion outcome. The closing was uncertain.

Paris—Quieter trading in New York yesterday accounted for the heaviness on the bourse. Rentes were heavy and although offerings were moderate they were not absorbed. International shares lost most of their previous gains and the closing was heavy.

Berlin—Trading on the borse opened quiet but the closing was weaker on account of the uncertainty over the political situation. Emergency decrees failed to inspire confidence.

RAIL BONDS LEADING IN STRONG ADVANCE

$17,023,000 Sales Pile Up 1 1-10-Point Average Gain Utilities Firm.

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Railroad bonds skyrocketed today, and all classes of listed loans trailed the high-speed carriers.

It was the most active market since January 14, sales totalling $17,023,000, par value, and the average for 60 corporate issues gaining 1 1-10 points, the largest advance since June 4.

The increased demand for senior securities came in the latter part of the session after the list had moved somewhat indifferently in early trading. Speculative loans displayed the most noticeable buoyancy, although those of higher ratings were not neglected.

Even the United States Government section, which has been marking time recently, joined the upward movement and five Treasury issues recorded new highs for the year.

The most conspicuous advances, ranging from 1 to 6 or more points, took place in loans of Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake Corporation, Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago & North Western, Rock Island, Burlington, Delaware & Hudson, Denver & Rio Grande and Illinois Central.

Philippine Islands Harvest Bumper Output of Sugar

Manila, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A record production of 984,024 long tons of centrifugal sugar by the Philippine Central in the crop season just ended was announced today by the Philippine Sugar Association. This was an increase of 26 per cent over last year.

The yield per acre increased 21 per cent. It was attributed to favorable weather and to higher yielding varieties. George M. Fairchild, secretary of the association, said reports indicated a greater acreage, with more high-yield varieties would be planted next season.

CURB STILL GAINING ON WAVE OF BUYING

One to Three Points Upturn Mark Lighter Sales of 490,000 Shares.

New York, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Buying enthusiasm on the curb market rode roughshod today over early selling, which appeared to be partly profit taking and possibly some short selling. The general list showed many net gains of 1 to 3 points.

Utilities again played their customary role of market leadership, but Deere attracted a wide following, which sent it to within a point of the 1932 high. After touching 14, the issue closed at 13½ for a net gain of 2½. Oils also elbowed their way into the spotlight, with Gulf going to a new peak for the year, at 41, and Standard of Indiana, following suit with an advance to 23¾. The latter closed fractionally higher on the day, and Gulf was up about 2.

Swift International, Standard of Ohio, Sherwin Williams, Glen Alden Coal, Great Atlantic & Pacific, Dow Chemical and Aluminum Co. closed up 1 or more points.

Electric Bond & Share common jumped up 2½ points, while the prefererd issues lost slightly.

WHEAT VALUES RISE ON GENERAL DEMAND

More Than 2 Cents Gain Is Trimmed by Profit-Takers; Corn Is Down.

Chicago, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Advancing strongly in a revival of big general buying, wheat today withstood onslaughts of profit taking, and held most of its gains.

Rising of securities furnished the chief impetus to speculative purchases of wheat. There were also intimations of good export demand for United States hard winter grades, and in some quarters belief existed the Government wheat crop report from Washington after the close would contain a bullish surprise similar to that which recently electrified the cotton market.

On the contrary, domestic spring wheat production was officially estimated 11,000,000 to 16,000,000 bushels more than latest private forecasts. Government figures on corn production, however, were construed as decidedly bearish.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1¼ to 1⅞ above yesterday's finish; corn, at ¼ to ½ decline; oats, unchanged to ¼ to ⅜ higher, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

Highest prices of the day in wheat came during the late dealings, and showed a maximum upturn of 2¾ cents to the topmost point reched on the present movement.

Persistent reports of draught and excessive heat in Canada were received.

Corn prices sagged on account of increased rural selling and of poor shipping demand here. Oats reflected vessel charters for 250,000 bushels to Buffalo.

ACACIA MUTUAL LIFE SETS POLICIES MARK

Week's Business Is Largest in Two Years; Upturn Well Sustained.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Written business of Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Co. for the week ended August 1 was larger than the total for any corresponding period in more than two years, President William Montgomery of the company announced last night.

"Not only did written business reach the substantial total of $1,700,000 for the week," Mr. Montgomery said, "but, of great importance and significance, business has been showing a gradual but steady gain from week to week. The upward curve, in other words, is marked."

Mr. Montgomery also explained that since May of this year, when by congressional action Acacia's charter was liberalized, written business of the company has increased more than 50 per cent.

"Naturally," the Acacia executive said, "we are gratified in these results and are hopeful that the continuance of our constructive policies will enable us to maintain the trend uninterruptedly."

Mrs. Helena D. Reed, of the trust department of Lincoln National Bank, entertained at dinner on the Shoreham terrrace last evening, in honor of Mrs. Wade E. Graninger, who is taking up the career of "homemaker" after several years as bookkeeper at the Seventeenth and H streets branch of that bank.

The party included the newly appointed chairman of the women's committee of Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, Mrs. Gertrude Wick; Miss Minette Leeds, Mrs. Cornelius E. Reidy and Mrs. F. Roland McNally.

MARYLAND DISPOSES OF $3,075,700 BONDS

Group of Banking Firms Takes Issue at Good Price; Officials Pleased.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., Aug. 10.—The Mercantile Trust Co., of Baltimore, and several associate banking firms of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Baltimore were the successful bidders today for $3,075,700 State of Maryland 4½ per cent bonds, with a bid of 105.6079. The sale was made by the board of public works, with Gov. Albert C. Ritchie presiding, and the issue represents the final instalment of $5,662,400 authorized by the last General Assembly, for general construction purposes, other loans having been floated last February and in August, 1931.

State officials were highly pleased at the price for which today's sale was made, and said that the cost to the State would be only about 3.78 per cent, which is lower than the other two loans. Funds derived from the bond sales are apportioned among 25 State institutions, and include $120,000 for the University of Maryland at College Park. The largest item is $750,000 for the University of Maryland Hospital, Baltimore, and another is $400,000 for the State prison farm at Roxbury, Washington County. An allotment of $200,000 is made for the memorial hall of record to be erected on St. John's College campus as a feature of the State's tercentenary observance and $35,000 is included for use in the tercentenary commission in covering other expenses of the celebration two years hence.

State Treasurer John M. Dennis, member of the board, declared the high price received reflected credit upon Gov. Ritchie's administration.

Stocks Guaranty Cost Merchant $7,825,000

His benefaction was revealed today when executors of his estate interpreted the action of the Chase National Bank of New York, which filed a claim for that amount against his estate. When values crashed on the New York Stock Exchange in 1929, Rosenwald told his employes they would not lose money in their accounts. He posted 101,359 shares of his company's stock as security against having their accounts sold out. Chase National lent the money.

F.H. WHEELER HEADS VIRGINIA'S FIREMEN

State Association Is in Convention at Alexandria; Parade Tomorrow.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

Frank H. Wheeler, of Clifton Forge, Va., yesterday was elected president of the Virginia State Firemen's Association, at the forty-sixth annual convention of that body now in progress in Alexandria. Mr. Wheeler is not only the chief of the Clifton Forge Fire Department, which office he has held for eleven years, but he is also mayor of that city and judge of the juvenile and domestic relations court.

Other officers chosen were Edward J. Lamb, Harrisonburg, vice president; O. W. Dabney, Staunton, secretary; J. C. Clarity, Charlottesville, treasurer, and the Rev. Henry A. Porter, chaplain.

Harrisonburg was selected as the next convention city, over Lexington, after keen competition.

The session yesterday was opened at 10 o'clock with the singing of "America" and prayer by the State chaplain, the Rev. Henry A. Porter. Fire Chief James M. Duncan, jr., then introduced Mayor Edmund F. Tider, who delivered a welcoming address on behalf of the city, to which C. Reginald Haines, of Winchester, responded.

President Fred W. Forney, who is presiding at the sessions, then announced these committee appointments:

Credentials—F. H. Wheeler, Clifton Forge; J. C. Jesser, Covington, chairman; Edward J. Lamb, Harrisonburg. Resolutions—L. E. Lookabill, Roanokee, chairman; C. C. Mugler, Phoebus, and C. I. Lewis, Wytheville. The president also appointed a committee to place a wreath on Washington's Tomb at Mount Vernon.

The morning session was addressed by T. W. Venemann, chairman of the college committee of the Maryland State Firemen's Association, who urged the firemen to send representatives to the Western Maryland College to take a course in fire protection which will be held September 7 and 8.

In the afternoon, J. Fred Birrell, Alexandria delegate to the State Legislature, spoke on the firemen's relief act. John J. Wicker, delegate from Richmond, who was also slated to speak on this subject, was unable to be present.

The United States Army Band gave a concert last night on the 100 block South Washington street, which was followed by a block dance.

The program for today includes reel races, which will start at Queen and West streets at 9 o'clock. The big parade, which, it is said, will be the largest firemen's parade ever held in Virginia, will be held beginning at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

The thirty-first annual convention of the Cumberland Valley Firemen's Association, which is meeting in Alexandria, is being presided over by C. O. Oyler, of Harrisburg, Pa., chairman of the executive committee, in the absence of the president, J. L. Redman, of Harrisburg.

An address of welcome was delivered by Dan S. Hollenga, business manager of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, and a response was delivered by Chairman Oyler. A committee was appointed to go to Mount Vernon in the afternoon to place a wreath on the Tomb of Washington.

O E. Fearn, deputy chief of the District of Columbia Fire Department, made the principal address, his subject being "Care and Maintenance of Equipment and Apparatus."

Other committees appointed included credentials, auditing and resolutions.

Joint memorial services for members who died last year were held yesterday in Christ Episcopal Church, Alexandria, by the Virginia State Firemen's Association and the Cumberland Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, now in convention in Alexandria.

Four members of the Virginia association who died last year were Charles W. Duffey, Alexandria; L. E. Bowles, Suffolk; Francis Bravel and A. W. Loewner, Harrisonburg.

The principal address was delivered by the Rev. B. F. Blubaugh, whose topic was "The Mysteries of Life," and remarks were made by the Rev. Henry A. Porter, State chaplain. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. William Jackson Norton, rector of Christ Church.

Auxiliary Elects At Fire Convention

Mrs. O. T. Herndon, of Orange, Chosen President by Virginia Group.

Mrs. O. T. Herndon, of Orange, Va., was reelected president of the Virginia State Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fire Department yesterday in Alexandria. Other officers are Mrs. C. W. Lee, of Jefferson District, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Dabney, of Staunton, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Shank, of Alexandria, secretary; Mrs. Vera Rothgeb, Luray, chaplain, and Mrs. Helen Williams, of Alexandria, historian.

The convention of the auxiliary opened yesterday. Orange won the banner for attendance at the convention, which was donated by Mrs. J. W. Travers, of Alexandria, past State president.

Memorial services were held for the following: Mrs. Charlotte Scott and Mrs. Mabel Boyce, Orange; Mrs. John Saum, Harrisonburg; Mrs. Denette Fisher, Waynesboro; Mrs. Alma Cheatwood, Mrs. Rose Irby, Mrs. Florence Shinn and Mrs. Eva Crupper, Alexandria; Miss Beatrice Beall, Jefferson district, and Mrs. Gertrude Hess, Prince Georges County, Md.

A committee visited Mount Vernon and placed a wreath on the tomb of Washington.

Young Democrats Form Club in Prince Georges

The Young Men's Democratic Club of Prince Georges County, Md., was officially organized last night with election of officers in Hyattsville, Md.

The officers are Edward Fuller, jr., president; Col. E. Francis Riggs, first vice president; Kent R. Mullikin, second vice president; Egbert F. Tingley, secretary, and J. Robert Sherwood, treasurer. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, several committees were appointed and it was decided to meet the second Thursday in each month.

The Blair Citizens Association will hold a swimming party at the Marjorie Webster School swimming pool tonight, which will be followed by a watermelon feast in Rock Creek Park.

6 in Maryland Held On Liquor Charges

Patuxent Beach Woman Is Put Under $500 Bond; Still Destroyed.

Six persons, one a woman, were arrested yesterday on liquor charges by Federal dry agents in southern Maryland. The woman is Mrs. Maggie Pilkerton, of Patuxent Beach, Md., who was released on bond of $500 on charges of sale and possession. The agents said they bought a half-pint from the woman and found the other half in the ensuing raid.

Charles K. Phillip and Audrey Clark, brothers, of Hollywood, Md., also were arrested on charges of sale and possession. The agents said they bought 3 pints of alleged whisky and found 92 bottles of beer when they raided the place later. James T. Bowen and Charles Bennett, both of California, Md., were charged with transportation and possession of two cases of beer. Their bond was set at $500.

A 200-gallon still was destroyed yesterday afternoon by Prince Georges County police near Aquasco. The still was unattended and no arrests were made, but 500 gallons of mash were seized.

FIREMEN CAUTIONED IN PRINCE GEORGES

Running Hook-Up Contests to Be Held at Bowie on Saturday.

The unusual number of minor accidents in previous running hook-up contests at annual conventions of the Prince Georges County Firemen's Association has resulted in this feature being eliminated from this year's contests, which will be held at Bowie on Saturday.

The running hook-up consists of driving a fire engine to a hydrant, stopping it, connecting the hose and starting the pumps. Firemen have frequently received sprained ankles and similar injuries in jumping from the trucks while they are still moving.

The standing hook-up drill will have its place on this year's program, however, and a new feature will be an exhibit by the drill team of the ladies' auxiliary.

Mrs. Anne Seymour, of Mount Rainier, is the only candidate for any office of the auxiliary who is not opposed. There are four candidates for president, five for vice president, and three for treasurer. Mrs. Joseph Merryman is a candidate for president, vice president, and treasurer.

Against her in the presidential race are Mrs. John Fainter, Mrs. Mary Walker and Mrs. Anna A. Burnette. All the presidential nominees and Mrs. Mary Baker are candidates for vice president, while Mrs. Irene Conner and Mrs. Genevieve Steward vie with Mrs. Merryman for election to the financial post.

Prince Georges Road to be Oiled.

The new road from Ritchie to Marlboro will be oiled next spring, it was said yesterday at the State Roads Commission office in Marlboro. The road, built this summer of gravel, will be allowed to settle during the winter.

TAKOMA PARK TOWN TREASURER OUSTED

Failure to Cooperate With Auditors in Work Given as Reason.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4206.

Dismissal of Bryan Davis, town clerk and treasurer of Takoma Park, Md., was announced yesterday by Mayor Frederick L. Lewton. Official announcement of the removal, which took place July 30, will be made at the regular meeting of the town council Monday.

Mayor Lewton said he removed Mr. Davis for failure to cooperate with the finance committee of the town council at the request of Councilman H. E. Rogers, chairman of the finance group. Mr. Davis is alleged to have failed to open a new set of town books in accordance with a new system of accounts recommended by the auditing firm now scanning the town's books for the past five years. Mr. Davis also is alleged to have failed to produce several papers from his records which were requested by the auditing firm. The dismissal has nothing to do with the audit, however, Mayor Lewton said, being a disciplinary measure growing out of the refusal to cooperate with the finance group.

Mr. Davis said last night that he has no statement to make at the present time regarding the removal.

Councilman Rogers is acting as treasurer pending the appointment of a new treasurer, and Miss Rhoda Lewton, daughter of Mayor Lewton, is assistant clerk of the town, with her office in the town offices which have been set up in the fire house.

The auditors have been working on the town audit for more than two months and it probably will continue several weeks more.

Hyattsville Fines 3 in Liquor Cases

Two Others Are Given Jail Sentences for Assault and Battery.

Three persons were fined yesterday in Hyattsville Police Court for possession of liquor, and two others were given jail sentences for assault and battery. Raymond Riggs, arrested several months ago at a loading house in Cheverly when 240 gallons of whisky was seized, was fined $150 for possession.

Mrs. Rutilia Brookens, of Fairmont Heights, and Arthur McCullough, of the same town, were both fined for small quantities of alleged liquor found in their homes during recent raids. The woman's fine was set at $50, while the man must pay $75. Seventeen persons, arrested Sunday and charged with disorderly conduct after a raid on the Midway Club at Contee, forfeited their collateral of $5 each rather than face trial.

Irving Scott, of Baltimore, was sentenced to serve seven months in the House of Correction for throwing bottles at E. W. Clapper during a fight in a Bladensburg filling station. William Thomas, of Bowie, was sentenced to six months for cutting Frank Woods, also of Bowie, with a butcher knife.

THEFT SUSPECT SHOT IN RESISTING ARREST

Man, Near Death, Charged With Larceny and Assault on Policeman.

Edward Wilson, 27, colored, of Washington, who was shot yesterday when he grappled with Town Policeman Earl Thomas, of Takoma Park, Md., after he had been arrested on suspicion of being a chicken thief, was in a critical condition at Montgomery County General Hospital at Sandy Spring last night. He was moved to the county hospital for an emergency o[illegible] from Washington Sanitarium and Hospital, where he was taken after the shooting.

Charges of larceny and assault on a policeman have been lodged against Wilson, who is under police guard.

Policeman Thomas and Montgomery County Policeman Joseph Nolte were patrolling near Seeks Corner when they saw a parked taxicab by a closed filling station. Scenting a possible robbery, they questioned the driver, who gave his name as Frederick G. Vougarlem, 30, of Washington. He said he was waiting for a colored customer who had gone to his farm for some property.

Nolte remained at the filling station and Thomas climbed into the taxicab to ride to the point a quarter of a mile distant where the taxi was scheduled to meet the Negro. When Wilson arrived at the taxicab Thomas attempted to handcuff him. Wilson grabbed for the policeman's gun, Thomas said, so he fired at the colored man.

Two sacks of chickens were found a short distance away. Wilson was taken to the hospital. The taxi driver was held on $300 bond as a State witness.

Republicans Hope To Carry Arlington

John Locke Green Is Held Likely Nominee for Congress Aug. 22.

That the Arlington County Republicans expect again to carry their county for President Hoover is evidenced by their activity in preparing for the Eighth congressional district convention in the Washington-Lee High School auditorium August 22. At this convention a candidate for Congress will be nominated.

The nomination of John Locke Green, a young attorney of Arlington County as the Republican candidate, would mean, according to a statement by his supporters, that for the first time in many years a Democratic representative's seat in Congress from this district would be seriously contested.

This, it is said, is due to the great number of persons Green knows personally throughout the district and to the several hundred connections he has by marriage and kinship in the district.

Two Game Warden Deputies Named.

Herman Priebe, jr., of Unity, and James W. Howes, of Laytonsville, have been named deputy State game wardens for Montgomery County.

Speaker Scores Hoover's Theories

Secretary to Carter Glass Praises Leadership of Roosevelt.

Speaking before a mass meeting of Democrats in the Arlington County Courthouse, J. W. Rixey Smith, secretary to Carter Glass, praised Franklin D. Roosevelt as an alert, progressive, trained legislator and executive, and condemned Hoover as one who believes in the new-fangled and somewhat radical principle of government by commission, evasion and delay.

He said Gov. Roosevelt believed with Jefferson and Lincoln that this should be, even though it is not now, a government of the people. He strongly condemned the President for use of the army in removing the bonus marchers the night of July 28.

County Chairman William L. Bragg called upon all Democrats in the county to aid in putting the county back in the Democratic column. Mrs. Catherine M. Rogers, president of the Arlington County Woman's Democratic Club, pledged the support of the organization. The meeting was held under the auspices of the County Democratic Club, with Robert N. Anderson presiding.

WOMAN AND 2 MEN IN BANDIT DRAGNET

Police Believe Trio Staged Numerous Holdups in Last Three Months.

With the arrest of a young woman and two men within the last 24 hours, police believe they have cleared up a string of holdups perpetrated in the last three months.

The police say they have a confession from one of the men to nine instances of banditry and the admission from the other that he was along on one of the "jobs." The young woman, the police believe, is the "blonde bandit" who has been with two men on numerous recent holdups.

Those under arrest gave their names as Miss Helene Morgan, 22, and Peter J. Dunnican, 25, of 1515 L street northwest, and James S. Lawrence, of New York City.

Lawrence was captured on a police "tip" early yesterday after a filling station robbery in which two men took $60 from the cash drawer and made one employe turn over 30 cents and another a dime at Fourteenth and Belmont streets northwest. He is said to have confessed to driving the automobile in which Dunnican escaped from the place.

Dunnican was arrested last night by Detective Sergt. Larry O'Dea near Twelfth and H streets. Miss Morgan was arrested later.

Dunnican denied a woman had ever accompanied him on any holdup, but is said to have told police Lawrence was with him on all of the nine robberies to which he confessed. Among these was the robbery of a ten-cent store at 3125 M street northwest, in which the manager and assistant manager were trussed up in the basement after refusing to open the safe.

Boy Scout Injured Seriously by Bus

Jack Lee, 16, Is Knocked From Bicycle on Way to Usher at Theater.

A Boy Scout on his way to act as usher at the juvenile festival at the Sylvan Theater was seriously injured last night when he was knocked from his bicycle by a bus on Sixteenth near Church street northwest. Police said he was hanging onto a car going south and turned loose too late to dodge the northbound bus, operated by Chester H. Cox, of Silver Spring.

The Scout is Jack Lee, 16, of 3105 Seventeenth street northwest. He suffered a fractured right ankle, a possible skull fracture and possible internal injuries. Mrs. William Corley, of 2201 Fifteenth street northwest, a passenger on the bus, took the boy to Emergency Hospital in a taxicab. She said she felt a bump as if the bus had passed over the boy's body.

The youth is a first-class Scout in Troop 43 and is a third-year student at Central High School.

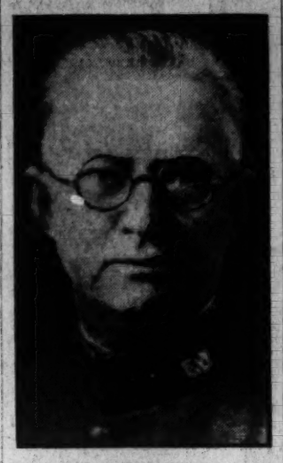
FOUND DEAD



OSCAR J. MATLOCK.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF ARMY MAN TODAY

Warrant Officer Found Dead From Gas Poisoning in Kitchen of Home.

An inquest will be held today into the death of Warrant Officer Oscar J. Matlock, a captain in the Quartermaster Corps Reserve, who was found dead yesterday from gas poisoning in the kitchen of his home at 1360 Hamilton street.

E. T. Wessells, Sixth Precinct policeman, found the dead man on the floor of the kitchen with gas flowing from every burner of a range. Mrs. Flo L. Munck, 1362 Hamilton street, detected gas escaping from the windows of the house and summoned the police. Efforts on the part of the Fire Rescue Squad to revive Matlock were fruitless.

Warrant Officer Matlock was on duty in the Quartermaster General Depot here. He was born in Benton, Tenn., and was 61 years old. In 1916 he was appointed field clerk in the Quartermaster Corps, having served in the Spanish-American War. On July 20, 1918, he was commissioned a captain in the Regular Army and was honorably discharged October 30, 1920. He was immediately appointed a warrant officer in the Regular Army. He had been a resident of Washington for fifteen years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Atwilda Matlock, who was vacationing at Round Hill, Va., at the time of her husband's death. The officer is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Viola Warren, of 1509 Rhode Island avenue and Mrs. Josephine Hess, of 1525 Thirteenth street.

Steamshovel Death Inquiry Set Today

Operator Held for Hearing in Fatal Crushing of Stake Driver.

An inquest has been ordered at 11:30 a. m. today into the instant death yesterday afternoon of Harvey Young, 23, who was crushed by a steamshovel alongside which he was working on a construction project adjacent to the Naval Hospital.

A. M. Baker, 42, operator of the steamshovel, was being held at the Third Precinct last night for appearance at the inquest. Baker lives at 4222 Chewton avenue, Boulevard Heights, Md.

Young was engaged in driving stakes to guide the steamshovel's operations when the accident occurred. Baker said he did not see him get in the path of the ponderous machine as it swirled to deposit its earth in a waiting truck.

Baker said he saw the man's plight too late to avert the accident. The only other witness was Joseph Hamilton, of Alexandria, Va., who was assisting in driving the stakes. Police said Young roomed at 1130 New Hampshire avenue northwest. A telegram was dispatched to his mother in Cleveland, Ohio.

They were married in a quiet ceremony shortly after noon by the Rev. Edward P. McAdams in the rectory of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, at 313 Second street northeast.

Dr. MacDonald gave his age as 39 and Miss Pinkowski gave hers as 30 when they obtained a marriage license yesterday at the courthouse.

SICK U. S. EMPLOYE LEAPS TO HIS DEATH

H. C. Close Jumps From Porch at Hospital; Suicide Certicate Issued.

A certificate of suicide was issued last night by Deputy Coroner C. J. Murphy in the death yesterday afternoon of Horace C. Close, 47, Department of Justice employe, who leaped to an instant death from a balcony at Sibley Hospital to a courtyard 30 feet below.

Dr. Murphy said he thought a sudden fit of despondency caused Close's act. Close had been a patient at the hospital since July 21, when he was operated on for the removal of his appendix. Nurses and other hospital attaches said he had evinced no signs of depression. He was recovering quite satisfactorily, and was to have left the hospital today.

A colored orderly had accompanied Close to the balcony for a sun bath just before he made his fatal leap. The orderly and other patients said Close was apparently contentedly reading a magazine when they last saw him. No one saw him leap.

Death was caused by a fractured skull. The body was removed to an undertaking establishment, but no funeral plans were announced. Close was married and had two children, but they were out of the city and had not learned of the tragedy early last night.

Close was chief of the section of commissioners and clerks in the accounts division of the Justice Department. None of his friends at the department could ascribe any reason for his act and were considerably shocked at news of it.

Autopsy Ordered In Death at Hotel

'Suspicious Circumstances' in Demise of Man, 70, Prompt Decision.

An autopsy will be performed today on the body of N. H. Wilson, 70, who died suddenly last night in his room at the Annapolis Hotel. Deputy Coroner C. J. Murphy decided not to issue a certificate as to the cause of death until certain "suspicious circumstances" had been cleared up.

Wilson had been a guest at the hotel for several months, it was said. He was registered from Mount Airy, Md., and was said to be a former newspaperman. Last night he asked Samuel Iseman, assistant manager of the hotel, to accompany him to his room. When the pair reached the room, Wilson fell gasping across the bed.

An Emergency Hospital physician pronounced Wilson dead when he arrived. No relatives of the man could be located in the city, and police were making efforts to find some of Wilson's kin at Mount Airy.

Boy, 12, Hurt in Fall From Swing.

Falling from a grapevine swing at the Lafayette School, Broad Branch road and Oliver streets northwest, Donald McHale, 12, of 3500 McKinley street northwest, suffered a fracture of the right wrist yesterday.

Board Urges $200 Fine on Policeman

Roberts Found Guilty of Drinking With Woman; 2 Patrolmen Absolved.

The District Commissioners will receive a recommendation today from the Police Trial Board that Policeman R. Clarence Roberts, of the Third Precinct, be fined $200 for allegedly drinking while off duty and permitting a woman to drink until she became intoxicated.

The trial board found the policeman guilty of this charge but dismissed one of transportation and possession. The charge on which Roberts was found guilty was placed against him after the husband of the woman with whom he is alleged to have been drinking made a complaint at the precinct station. Another woman is said to have been present during the drinking.

The board absolved Policemen George R. Browning and Harry J. Martin, both of the Sixth Precinct, of charges of neglect of duty in allegedly going to sleep in a police radio scout car while in Manchester lane, just off Sixteenth street. These charges were preferred by Sergt. John L. Norris. Both policemen denied the charges.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

IT begins to look as if Washington might not, after all, see Alexander Callam, baritone, as star of a regularly organized stage unit at Loew's Fox Theater, where for many weeks he served as a singing master of ceremonies.

According to present plans, the unit productions will be discontinued on F street following the engagement, beginning Friday, of Betty Compson in the Fanchon & Marco "Star Night at the Cocoanut Grove" idea, and straight vaudeville substituted. This is a plan which it is believed will serve well the interests of economy by eliminating the line girls, masters of ceremony and unified settings and costumes. It is a practice, as you can plainly see, that has proved eminently successful at the Earle for many months past.

The inauguration of the vaudeville policy at the Fox will, of course, necessitate the exercise of sound booking judgment in the selection and routining of acts—a very tricky business. Announcement of the headliners for the first week—the week beginning Friday, August 19—indicates that a flying start, at least, will be made.

While the remainder of the bill is not divulged as yet, its costellar spots will be occupied by Herb Williams, that gentleman, scholar and master of the pianoforte, whose nut act last rolled local theatergoers in the aisle at the National Theater last season during the engagement of the esthetic Earl of Carroll's joose nudity known as the "Vanities," and Owen Moore, the more facile of the three brothers of which the other two are Matt and Tom.

These two, it should be understood, do not appear together, but in separate skits—Mr. Williams, no doubt, in his interval of insane musicianship, in which he is equally perturbed by spotli-i-ght trouble, and harking to those bells; Mr. Moore, in a turn the nature of which is still a secret locked in the bosom of Mr. Louis K. Sidney.

However, before leaping ahead to the week of August 19, it might not be amiss to offer a reminder that for the week beginning tomorrow the lures spread by the entrepreneurs operating in the downtown first-run sector will be approximately as follows: RKO-Keith's, Walter Huston, Constance Cummings, Pat O'Brien and Kay Johnson in "American Madness," first of RKO's "Greater Show Season;" Earle, William Powell and Kay Francis in "Jewel Robbery," and Bert Lytell in "The Valiant," headlining the vaudeville; Loew's Fox, John Gilbert and Virginia Bruce in "Downstairs," and Betty Compson in "Star Night" stage revue; Palace, Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe and Richard Arlen in "Guilty as Hell;" Metropolitan, Leslie Howard in "Reserved for Ladies;" Columbia, Ken Maynard in "Dynamite Ranch."

"Guilty as Hell," since you ask, is the film version of last season's Broadway success, "Riddle Me This," in which two plain clothes men battle over the solution of a crime the audience sees committed early in the action.

One of the most interesting swim meets of the season will be held in the Crystal Pool at Glen Echo Park next Monday night at 8:30, when the Shoreham Swimming Club of Washington will stage a contest with the Bay Shore Swimming Club of Baltimore. The dual meet is sanctioned by the D. C. A. A. U., and will include fancy diving, life-saving and an all-around water show. An all-feminine bill.

Cecil B. De Mille recently invited a number of the several hundred extras he has been directing in "The Sign of the Cross" to take the part of Christians who are thrown to the lions. So few accepted that he was forced to look elsewhere for his martyrs. The explanation was sound. It was found that so many were reluctant to be fed to the lions because once "dead" they could not reappear in the picture. Alive, they had a chance to secure two or three weeks' more work.

Not grasping this at the moment, Mr. De Mille probably thought he must be directing "The Sign of the Double-Cross!"

200 BOYS AND GIRLS STAGE SYLVAN FETE

Indian Scenes Presented by Y.W.C.A. Unit and Scouts in Natural Theater.

More than 200 boys and girls last night paid tribute to the memory of George Washington in a juvenile pageant program sponsored by the District of Columbia Bicentennial Commission at the Sylvan Theater. A varied program of dances and drills characteristic of the pioneer days of the Nation was presented.

Special emphasis was placed on the life and habits, music and legends of the American Indians. Both the Girl Reserves of the Young Women's Christian Association and the Life Saving Scouts of the Salvation Army offered sketches depicting Indian life and lore. The boys' group from Neighborhood House presented an Indian dance, while the girls of the Neighborhood House, clad in red, white and blue, stepped the Virginia reel. The boys and girls joined in a minuet.

Friendship House children were seen in a series of red, white and blue drills, climaxed by a massing of the colors. The Boy Scouts offered a series of episodes depicting the origin of knighthood and its application to Boy Scouts' present day life. One of the outstanding features of the program was the music of the U. S. Navy Band, led by Lieut. Charles Benter.

An Indian village scene presented by the Salvation Army group remained vividly in the memory as a thing of historic and picturesque appeal.
